HOLC'S POLITICS BLAMED IN LOSS OF 100 MILLIONS

Church Urges Quiz in N. Y. Region.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Representative Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.] charged on the floor of the house today that politics and gross mismanagement have caused a 100 million dollar loss in the operations of the Home Owners Loan corporation in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Massachusetts.

Representative Church.

The Illinois congressman demanded action on a resolution he introduced calling for a congressional investigation of the HOLC and its affiliated agencies, the Federal Home Loan bank board and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation. The resolution proposed an inquiry into alleged irregularities of administration, illegal diversion of money, and any action of malfeasance by officials of the agencies named.

Charges Excessive Appraisals.

Church said the 100 million dollar loss of the HOLC in the New York region could be attributed to excessive appraisals, causing an average loss per property of $2,000 as compared with an average loss of $500 in other states. Politics and mismanagement played a large part in the appraisals and making of loans, he declared.

"During the period from 1933 to 1936, Vincent Dailey served as HOLC state manager for New York," Church said. "Dailey was also vice chairman of the Democratic state organization. He is a close personal friend of Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley.

"The manager in Massachusetts was Dan Le Hand, brother of Marguerite A. Le Hand, personal secretary to the President of the United States. Obviously these men, Dailey and Le Hand, were selected for political reasons and not for their exceptional knowledge of the real estate business and executive ability.

Called Political Bigwigs.

"They were political bigwigs. Both Dailey and Le Hand, politicians par excellence, allowed property to be appraised on a basis of the vote value rather than on a basis of real estate values. John H. Fahey, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank board, was their political inferior and he no doubt took that fact into consideration whenever his attention was called to the HOLC loan situation in the New York region. The unfortunate part of it all is that the taxpayers will ultimately pay the losses.

"The New York region constitutes an outstanding example of politics, waste, and extravagance in the HOLC. We do not know how many millions of dollars have been squandered by the HOLC, money which should have gone to relieve the distressed, but which was wasted by officials. There has been no accounting.

Warns G. O. P. Will Act.

"These facts in themselves warant an investigation. If this administration refuses to bring the facts to light, it will have to bear full responsibility for what will be revealed when the Republican party makes an investigation in 1940."

Representative Joseph W. Byrns [D., Tenn.] interrupted Church at this point to assert that a number of Democrats are also in favor of such an investigation.

Six weeks ago Church took the floor to display proofs that officials of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation were traveling about the country on pleasure and personal business trips, charging the government thousands of dollars for their traveling expenses under the guise that they were acting on government business.

"I am informed that untold amounts are now being spent to conceal irregularities and mistakes in these agencies [the HOLC and its affiliated units], all in preparation for a possible investigation by congress," Representative Church declared today. "It is thus imperative that we conduct this investigation without delay."

HOUSE ORDERS A SLASH OF 161 MILLIONS MORE

Assures Week-End Adjournment.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—The house late today slashed 161 million dollars from a 215 million dollar appropriation asked by President Roosevelt in the third deficiency bill—the last spending measure of the 1939 congress.

Pruned down to 54 million dollars, the bill was approved by a voice vote and sent to the senate. A battle was waged by administration forces to restore an appropriation of 119 million dollars for the Commodity Credit corporation—a request eliminated entirely by the house appropriations committee. By a close teller vote of 116 to 110, the house approved the action of the committee.

House action on the deficiency bill removed one more obstacle to adjournment which, barring unforeseen developments, will come Friday or Saturday night.

Housing Bill Faces Defeat.

The house tomorrow will vote upon a rule seeking consideration of the President's 800 million dollar housing measure. The house is expected to refuse consideration of the bill by an even greater margin than was recorded yesterday against Mr. Roosevelt's multimillion dollar spend-lend bill.

Doubt remained whether the house will be asked to consider amendments to the wages and hours law exempting about 1,000,000 workers from provisions of the act. Most of the employés affected by the amendments are engaged in agricultural labor in the south, where southern congressmen contend industry cannot pay the minimum wage of 25 cents an hour provided in the law.

Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.], chairman of the rules committee, introduced a rule providing for consideration of the amendments. He could bring up the amendments tomorrow if he chose. He would not indicate his intentions in this respect.

Engineered by Democrat.

In awarding President Roosevelt and his budget bureau only 25 per cent of what was requested in the third deficiency bill, the house paid heed to the admonitions of Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., W. Va.], chairman of the subcommittee which recommended the drastic reductions.

Deficiency bills, Woodrum reminded members, are supposed to carry supplemental appropriations to meet emergency needs which have arisen since the passage of regular appropriation bills. With this in mind, his subcommittee eliminated all items not absolutely essential, he said.

"These cuts are pretty drastic, but they are timely," Woodrum told house members. "The house has shown in the last twenty-four hours that it can use its independent judgment on spending measures when it chooses to do so."

Concedes One Point.

Only one important change was made in the bill after it left the Woodrum committee. The committee had refused to grant a 2 million dollar supplemental appropriation for the wage and hour act administration. Upon the supplication of members interested in administration of the act, Woodrum acceded to an amendment appropriating 1 million dollars, obtaining the pledge of members that they will stand with him against any further increase of the item in the senate.

Woodrum reminded the house that congress had a sorry record, so far as economy is concerned, up until yesterday when the administration's spending measure was killed. Congress has appropriated in excess of 13 billion dollars at this session in comparison with last year's total of 11 billions, 361 millions.

Assails Huge Expenditures.

"When members of congress go home they cannot blame a spendthrift executive for the great total of appropriations," Woodrum said, "because virtually all the excess was in unbudgeted items. It is a bad record so far as congress is concerned, but we can atone partly in this final measure."

Representative John J. Cochran [D., Mo.] reminded Woodrum that the in-

Painters' Union Boss Gets Year as Gun Toter

George Henneman, 36 years old, business agent and boss of the painters' union, was convicted of carrying concealed weapons yesterday in a bench trial before Judge John A. Sbarbaro in the Criminal court. Judge Sbarbaro sentenced Henneman to a year in the Bridewell and fined him $300.

George Henneman.

It was the maximum sentence and maximum fine possible under the law. Henneman remained at liberty in $2,000 bond pending an appeal by his attorney, John V. Clinnin.

Take Two Guns from Him.

Henneman was seized in a tavern at 5432 Wentworth avenue June 27 by policemen who were hunting for filling station bandits. He had a .32 caliber automatic pistol in his hip pocket. In his car, parked outside, was a .38 caliber pistol, a roll of adhesive tape, a pair of rubber gloves and the type of gearshift handle sometimes used as a blackjack.

Clinnin made three attempts to delay or avoid trial when the case was called yesterday. Previously he had obtained a change of venue for Henneman from the court of Judge John F. Haas. All his motions were denied by Judge Sbarbaro.

The court did not permit any testimony about the weapon or other articles found in Henneman's car. The witness whose testimony convicted the union boss was Sergt. Robert E. Gibbons of the detective bureau.

Seek to Question Pair.

Sergt. Gibbons said he saw a car containing two men park double outside the Wentworth avenue tavern. In a general way, he said, the men answered descriptions of two bandits who had just held up a filling station at 6901 Morgan street.

"One of the men got out," Sergt. Gibbons said. "The other [Henneman] followed him into the tavern. We thought it might be a stickup. When we went into the tavern the first man had disappeared, but Henneman was there. We found the gun in his pocket."

James McLane, 6815 Union avenue, president of local 191 of the painters' union, testified he was the other man in the car.

Union Meets Over Tavern.

"We had been driving around on union business," he said, "and had returned to the tavern. The union holds its meetings in a hall upstairs. I left the tavern at once, got in my own car, and drove home."

Henneman then told his story from the witness stand.

"I didn't know the men behind us were policemen," he said. "Just to protect myself I went to a drawer the union rents in the tavern and took out the pistol. Then they told me I was under arrest."

In 1937 Henneman and the late George Dungan, then business agent of the union, were sentenced to six months in the Bridewell on charges of carrying concealed weapons. The Illinois Supreme court upset the conviction, ruling that police had insufficient grounds for suspecting the two men and had no right to search them.

LEGISLATOR RESENTS 'FAT HEAD'; SHOWS IT WITH A POP BOTTLE

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 2 (AP).—The dignity of the Arkansas house of representatives was ruffled today when one member threw a pop bottle at a colleague who called him "a big fathead."

The veteran Dan W. Johnston hurled the bottle across the chamber at B. Frank Williams, who, addressing the house on a point of personal privilege, referred to Johnston as "a big fathead from Johnson county who has been pouring it on me for two days."

The bottle grazed Williams' shoulder and crashed into the press section, narrowly missing three newspapermen.

Williams started toward Johnston, but was restrained by other members. In the uproar the house was adjourned until tomorrow.

DOG ROUTS BEAR CLAWING WOMAN WITH 2 CHILDREN

Clentwood, Va., Aug. 2 (AP).—Boss, a shepherd dog, routed an almost full grown bear today after the beast had severely clawed a mountain mother who fought to protect a baby in her arms and another child at her heels.

The bear attacked Mrs. Dollie May Baker near her home in the southwestern Virginia hill country. The woman thrust her 3 year old son into a rain barrel and fought the animal with a stick while holding the baby in her arms.

The dog took up the fight and put the bear to flight. Mrs. Baker was brought to a Clentwood hospital for treatment of wounds to the arms and legs.

CITY POWERLESS AGAINST PIGEONS IN LOOP DISTRICT

Ruth Nelson, assistant corporation counsel, said yesterday that the city has no legal provision for exterminating the loop pigeons. She said there is no legal bar against exterminating them, however, if a method can be found that satisfies safety requirements.

The question was raised when 107 loop business men and property owners of the downtown council asked the health department to rid the loop of pigeons. The health department referred the matter to the corporation counsel's office. Miss Nelson issued a formal opinion that since the pigeons have no owner there is no one against whom legal action can be taken.

Boost Chicago Direct Link to Sea Air Bases

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—The proposed establishment of direct air connections between Chicago and the trans-Atlantic air bases at Botwood, Newfoundland, and Shediac, New Brunswick, will be discussed by representatives of the American and Canadian governments at Ottawa Aug. 9.

The conference was called to consider mutual aviation problems. The question of bringing Chicago directly into the trans-Atlantic air network was aided by the action of the two Illinois senators, Scott W. Lucas and James M. Slattery.

The senators had forwarded to the civil aeronautics commission the resolution adopted by the Chicago city council urging government officials to attempt to win for Chicago direct service to the Canadian bases.

Today, Clinton M. Hester, CAA administrator, advised them that the commission had received the request and made it a part of the agenda of the air conference.

Barriers May Be Removed.

Although the conference has no official powers, its recommendation would carry great weight with both governments. It is believed that if the conference should bring a hearty endorsement of the Chicago plan, the Canadian government, which has been reluctant to grant American air lines permission to fly over Canada, might let down its official barriers against American planes.

No obstacles have arisen to the establishment of such an air route in this country. The plan has the endorsement of many federal officials and members of congress. It also has the support of the midwest.

"I am confident that the American and Canadian representatives at the aviation meeting will support the linking of Chicago, the nation's air center, with the trans-Atlantic bases," Senator Lucas said.

Hopes for Agreement.

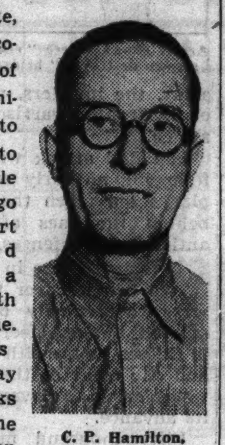
"I am certain that after a long standstill things shortly will get moving and that the conference will pave the way toward negotiating a reciprocal agreement for American planes to fly over Canada and Canadian planes to fly over this country."

The proposed route would extend from Chicago to Detroit, Mich., then to Toronto, Montreal, Shediac, and Botwood. With such a line in operation passengers from the middle and far west would save 450 miles. The present course from Chicago to New York and thence to Botwood is 2,000 miles, whereas the proposed direct route is 1,550 miles.

Pending is another resolution linked to the proposed air route. It seeks to have Chicago designated as a regular port of entry into this country for customs and immigration purposes.

Says Bishop's Loan Went to Buy a Cabaret

Part of the money spent in Chicago since 1935 by the Rt. Rev. Howard Seller Ablewhite, resigned Episcopal bishop of northern Michigan, is said to have gone to finance the Little Club, a Chicago night life resort that blazed brightly for a time at 880 North Wabash avenue.



C. P. Hamilton.

This was asserted yesterday after checks signed by the bishop had been traced to C. P. Hamilton, a Chicagoan who was the club's former proprietor. As a waiter captain he had known the churchman since 1931, the year after the Rt. Rev. Mr. Ablewhite was consecrated a bishop. Hamilton stated that he received an initial loan of $1,500 and one or two checks after that. Losses, however, forced him to sell the place.

Sheds New Light on Case.

The alleged night club venture added a new chapter to the bizarre story of the bishop's doings since 1931, when he learned that funds of his diocese had been seriously dissipated and set out to recoup the losses. The story began to become public after his resignation last March 23 when shortages were discovered. Since then one parish has filed suit against Bishop Ablewhite and four trustees, seeking to recover $90,000 in church money.

An investigation of the shortage, which diocesan officials said may exceed $120,000, will be resumed today by Robert A. Burns, assistant attorney general of Michigan. He will go to Marquette, where the bishop formerly lived, to complete his inquiry.

Most of Bishop Abelwhite's losses are laid at the door of Harry S. Lyons, a promoter, who was once befriended by the churchman. Lyons is now believed to be dead. The bishop's transactions led him into stock market pools which at first were profitable. Then the promoter disappeared.

Became Known in Night Spots.

The bishop's business trips to Chicago included visits to night clubs and bars of the near north side. Often there were champagne dinners and yachting parties at which Lyons was host. The Rt. Rev. Ablewhite eventually became known among employés of night spots as "Bishop Abie," "the gent with the button shoes," and as "Bishie."

Hamilton first saw the bishop eight years ago at Colosimo's cabaret, he said. He came to know him better at the old Club Royale, the Royal Frolics, and finally, last year, at the Miami club. From there Hamilton went to work at Harry's New York bar, and the bishop, with whom he had become friendly, transferred his patronage to that place.

"I had always known him as Mr. White, of Marquette," Hamilton said. "He said he was in the steel business and seemed to have plenty of money. It was long afterward that he told me he was a bishop, though I had known it some time.

His Secret Is Revealed.

"A couple from Marquette recognized him one night and the story got around. The waiters and entertainers after that used to call him 'Bishie,' but not to his face. They didn't want him to know they were wise. I never cracked, of course.

"He was a good patron; that is, he was always quiet and gentlemanly. And he always paid off.

"The bishop never tossed his

BRITISH-SOVIET PACT FAR AWAY, COMMONS TOLD

Premier Wins Fight to Adjourn.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Prime Minister Chamberlain tonight sent parliament on a two months' vacation and warned the house of commons that Great Britain and soviet Russia still were a long way from signing a pact to check Adolf Hitler's expanding empire.

The warning came on the heels of an announcement that a British army, naval and air mission will go to Moscow for military conversations probably Saturday or Sunday. The delegates are expected to help speed up the pact negotiations which have lasted four and a half months.

Ruse Suspected by Opponents.

Opposition circles suspect the plan to send a military mission to Moscow is a maneuver to quiet the clamor of Chamberlain's political opponents and put the blame on the bolsheviks if the conferences for a British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact break down.

The negotiations are deadlocked over a definition of indirect aggression. Moscow claims that all of Hitler's coups have resulted from indirect aggression. It wants airtight safeguards against any similar moves in the Baltic states. The British argue that the soviet plan would involve interference in the affairs of other countries.

Fears that Chamberlain aimed to get parliament out of the way to ditch the negotiations with Russia and launch a new appeasement deal were manifest in commons during a debate on adjourning parliament.

Chamberlain Wins Out.

The prime minister, in an effort to whip his own disgruntled supporters into line, announced he would treat an opposition demand for a recall of parliament on Aug. 21 instead of Oct. 3 as a vote of no confidence in himself and his government.

Although Chamberlain won his bid to shut down parliament for two months starting Friday by a vote of 245 to 129, and a Labor demand for a short summer recess was defeated, 250 to 132, more than 30 Conservatives abstained from voting for the government.

Winston Churchill, veteran statesman and wartime member of the cabinet, led the Conservative "rebels" in the attack on the government's motion to adjourn.

Points to Nazi Preparation.

"Germany has a great number of men under arms and all along the Polish border there are masses of troops and every preparation is being made for a speedy advance," he said.

Churchill drew a comparison between the present situation and the crisis before the Munich conference in September, 1938, at which time parliament was in session.

[Germany absorbed the Sudeten area of Czecho-Slovakia after the Munich talks.]

"Until then there had been no heavy troop movements in Germany and nothing suspicious had been done," he declared. "It was only after the house adjourned that there were those pretended large maneuvers.

Refers to "Powers of Evil."

"It is only an accident that we go on holiday for two months at this time when the harvest is gathered and when powers of evil are at their highest."

Referring to the preparedness of Britain's fighting forces, Churchill asked this question:

"Who can doubt that there is going to be a supreme trial of will power, if not a supreme trial of arms?

"It seems to me at this moment it would be disastrous, pathetic, indeed shameful, for the house of commons to write itself off as an effective and valid factor in the situation or to reduce any strength it can offer to the firm front with which the nation will face aggression."

Attacks Chamberlain Rule.

Arthur Greenwood, deputy leader of the Labor party, charged that neither parliament nor the people trusted the Chamberlain government. He cited as proof a Labor party victory in a bye election at Brecon, Wales, where the government candidate was defeated today by more than 2,000 votes.

Greenwood expressed the fear that Chamberlain was preparing to sacrifice Danzig while parliament was away and that commons would not be recalled until it could be confronted with accomplished facts.

Navy Adds 180 Vessels.

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Geoffrey Shakespeare, financial secretary of the admiralty, announced in the house of commons today that Great Britain would add 180 vessels, mostly smaller craft such as trawlers, to the 1939 naval construction program. He estimated the cost of the new vessels at $51,480,000.

The additions, he said, would include 107 trawlers for mine sweeping and anti-submarine work. Twenty of these would be specially built and the remainder purchased and converted.

The government also plans to construct fifty-six vessels of the whale packet type, some for service as patrol vessels and others for anti-submarine work. Other new vessels would include ten big mine sweepers, six boom defense vessels and one cable ship.

ITALY FORBIDS JEWS TO BECOME NEWSPAPERMEN

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP)—Italian Jews were barred from the profession of journalism and notary public positions through restrictions which became law upon their publication today in the official gazette. An exception was made for journalists belonging to the category known as "discriminated" Jews. This means war volunteers, early Fascists and members of families of war dead.

Jews also were prohibited from making adherence to the Jewish religion a condition for inheritance unless both parents were Jewish. Jews who have taken gentile names must resume their former ones identifying them as Jews. Gentiles with Jewish sounding names may change them.

ENGLAND BARS SEAN RUSSELL, LEADER OF IRISH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Sean Russell, commander in chief of the Irish Republican army, tonight was banned from England. Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, signed a prohibition order against him. Russell recently returned from America and is believed by Scotland Yard to be mobilizing forces in Ireland.

A similar order was issued against another senior officer of the I. R. A., but his name was not disclosed. Descriptions of both men were circulated in all ports.

The prohibition orders were the first made by the home secretary under the prevention of violence act, which empowers the government to ban or deport I. R. A. suspects.

Hoare also signed twelve more deportation orders, making thirty-seven since the act became law on Friday.

REDS WIN RIGHT TO BOOST SIZE OF BATTLESHIPS

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—A government white paper today announced modification of the British-soviet Russian naval agreement of 1938, giving Russia the right to increase the size of battleships from 35,000 to 45,000 tons.

This was in accord with the new maximum agreed upon by the three original signatories to the London naval treaty of 1936, Britain, France, and the United States of America.

The 1936 pact set the battleship limit at 35,000 tons, but last year America and Britain, taking notice of reports that Japan was building bigger ships, raised their limit to 45,000 tons with France's approval.

ITALIANS LINE UP TO TEST DEFENSE AGAINST FRANCE

Mobile Army Hurls Self at 'Invader' Today.

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 2 (AP).—Italy's mobile army of the Po took up positions sixty miles from the French border tonight, ready to unleash tomorrow a counter-offensive to destroy the forces of an imaginary invader.

The mock invasion from the direction of France occurred last night when the Red army, the invaders, pierced defenses of the frontier garrisons in a surprise attack.

New Bridge in 16 Hours.

Two bridges over the Ticino river were theoretically bombed and destroyed, but engineers replaced them in sixteen hours with pontoon bridges and the army of the Po, with tanks weighing up to eleven tons, continued its advance.

The maneuvers are being viewed by military missions from Germany, Spain, Hungary, and Japan, all bound to Italy by the anti-comintern pact.

Duce Flies Overhead.

Premier Mussolini and King Vittorio Emmanuel saw the maneuvers. Mussolini inspected operations for two hours from a bombing plane which he piloted, and after landing spent nearly an hour conversing with the king.

Mussolini expressed satisfaction at the extent to which motorized columns, with 10,000 trucks in action, concealed their movements from aerial reconnaisance.

Indian and Sister

The Maharajah of Tripura, a descendant of the oldest family in India, and 486th in a direct line of absolute monarchs, finds the widespread luxury of America bewildering. Yesterday, at the Edgewater Beach hotel, where he is stopping for a brief visit to Chicago, he declared that America was wonderful, and Americans did not know their own good fortune.

The maharajah, a rotund, informal man, 31 years old, has been ruler of Tripura in northeast India since he was 19. His empire of 5,000 square miles has a population of nearly a million.

Traveling with the maharajah are his sister, his brother, a cousin, two staff officers, two attendants, and one maid. His wife, the former princess of Panna, stayed in Agartala, Tripura's capitol, with their three children.

"The problems of an autocrat in India," commented his cousin, who is also military secretary, "are largely social. There is no unemployment in Tripura, and no political differences."

GERMANY BOASTS IT IS PREPARED FOR ANOTHER WAR

Military Machine Ready, Nazi Chiefs Proclaim.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

Admiral E. H. A. Raeder, Nazi naval chief.

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—"The German air force stands ready to carry out any order the Fuehrer may give it with lightning-like rapidity and unimaginable striking force," Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, aviation minister, proclaimed today on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the outbreak of the world war.

"Adolf Hitler presented the German nation with the air force and intrusted me with its command," he added. "I have done my best to make it the biggest and most powerful in the world."

Col. Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, commander in chief of the army, proclaimed:

"The same forces which compelled us in 1914 to wage a war of defense now try to encircle Germany. We desire peace, but if we are again forced to fight the German army will fight again for Germany's vital rights with the same unity, spirit of sacrifice and courage as in 1914. Again it will prove the superiority of the German soldier."

Grand Admiral Erich H. A. Raeder, naval chief, referred to the "immortal glory German submarines won in the world war" in his proclamation.

"Our growing navy has great tasks to fulfill," he added. "When duty calls us we shall fight for Germany's power and greatness."

There were roll calls in all German garrisons and on all German warships at which the proclamations were read.

Planes in Mimic War.

Germany's military chiefs and the Nazi press declared the reich is much better prepared for war than in 1914.

Extensive air maneuvers are in progress. The second air fleet—the air force is divided into four fleets—is engaged in mimic warfare in northwestern Germany.

Hundreds of bombers, pursuit ships and scouting planes, as well as units of anti-aircraft artillery and the signal corps are participating. A new type of comet planes, called "destroyers," also is taking part. The comet planes are described as "heavy pursuit ships, which, owing to their big cruising range, can penetrate deep into enemy land."

BRITONS TO BURY RADIUM; FEAR IT MAY AID WAR FOE

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—A hole 50 feet deep, to be used as a bomb-proof shelter for precious but dangerous radium in wartime, was completed today at Mount Vernon hospital, Northwood, Middlesex.

Dr. John Read, hospital physicist, said twenty grams of radium worth $468,000 would be sent there from neighboring hospitals in event of war. He added:

"If 20 grams of radium were hit by a bomb, the area over which they were dispersed might become a death trap for years.

"The particles of radium, if they had their maximum effect, could kill thousands of people and would render the area uninhabitable."

BRITAIN'S GAIN BY MUNICH PACT: TIME TO REARM

National Unity Achieved, Too, Publisher Finds.

BY J. M. PATTERSON.
[Publisher of the New York News.]
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Aug. 2.—We shall have to wait for history to tell us whether Prime Minister Chamberlain was wise in making the Munich pact, but up to now the British think he was wise. The byelections held in the past ten months show the government holding the confidence of the people. If, as is likely, there is a general election before winter, Chamberlain is expected to win easily—in war or peace.

Two good things Chamberlain certainly accomplished by that deal.

He gave his empire ten more months to get ready. England is much nearer to Germany's strength in the air now than then.

Germany is still stronger, but not as much stronger. Air raid precautions and preparations for the evacuation of London by children and numerous other noncombatants have far advanced.

Westminster Nerve Center.

The nerve center of the British empire is Westminster, in the heart of London. That is where the houses of parliament and the government offices are. Government offices have arranged underground dugouts for themselves when the strafing begins. British believed that Hitler might try the "lightning war" and attempt to conquer the British empire in ten days. Had the Munich agreement not been made the scheme was outlined thus:

Ten thousand German bombers, accompanied by sufficient fighters, would fly over London in installments of perhaps fifty. A new instalment would arrive every 15 minutes, drop its cargo of explosives, flames, or gas on the heart of London and return to Germany for another load.

At the end of ten days London would be such a chaos it would have to surrender. There would be no lights, no water, no food, no transportation; nothing living in the streets; no sewage. Epidemics would break out. There would be no government to govern the rest of England and the empire; no telegraph, no radio, no telephone. So London would have to offer surrender. Hitler would accept only on condition that the British fleet be delivered, flying white flags, to Kiel.

The Cue to Americans.

After that, continued the British propagandists in painting this cute little picture, you Americans would have to defend yourselves because the British empire, which now stands between you and Hitler, would be gone.

The lightning war theory has now been pretty much abandoned in government circles. A cabinet minister said to me:

"Our defenses now have been built up to the point where we are confident a lightning attack against us cannot win. We think that we can do so much damage to the attacking bombers on each of their visits that after a few days the mass attacks will cease and occasional high raids will be the order of the day.

"No, what I am afraid of is not that we shall lose the war, but that it will be a long one. We shall win in the end, as before, because we will strangle Germany to death on the sea. Germany is hesitating now because it is afraid it will lose. We shall hesitate as long as we are permitted to because we believe we shall win and the consequences will be terrible. This next war may be the war to end civilization."

Bomber vs. Battleship.

There may be one flaw or wrinkle in the argument of the minister and that is not whether the German bombers can destroy London in ten days and bring the British to their knees, shrieking for mercy. If that strategy could ever have worked, the time for it has probably passed on.

The question that cannot be settled in the minds of military and naval men until it is tried out, is what can the bomber do to the battleship? If the German bombers can sink the British capital ships or chase them off the seas, then the British empire is ended.

If the planes can't sink the navy, then Hitler is sure to be licked in the next war.

Will there surely be a next war? I think the chances are 10 to 1 against it happening this month and 4 or 5 to 1 against it happening this year. But Germany is now spending half its national income on armament, and the other nations are approaching that enormous figure as fast as they can—in what they claim to be necessary self-defense.

Bad, But Can't Quit.

It is like the dope habit—the victims know it is bad for them, but they can't quit. Each country in Europe is accelerating, not decelerating, its speed of armament. The end, if nothing can be done to avert the mad process, with mathematical certainty must be war.

I said above that Chamberlain had accomplished two good things for Britain by the Munich pact—the first, that he gave England more time for building up its air defense and offense. The other good thing is that he has united the British to a marked degree in their willingness to fight Germany again if the government gives the word.

Ten months ago the British were pacifistic. Now they are not. They think Chamberlain humbled himself and Englishmen in the cause of peace when he made his trips to Germany, ending with the Munich pact.

Then Hitler proved himself no gentleman by stealing Czecho-Slovakia after solemnly promising to quit stealing, so it may be necessary to take steps against the bounder, a disagreeable duty but a duty.

Compared with the German propaganda bureau, which may strengthen interior German morale but which alienates neutral opinion by its rough work and intimidating methods, just as the kaiser's propaganda did, so British propaganda is very clever in wooing outside opinion, particularly American.

Just as it was once Lord Northcliffe's job, as the head of British propaganda, to win our good opinion, so now it is, although he has no official position, Max Aitken—Baron Beaverbrook's. Beaverbrook is publisher of the Daily Express.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Myrna Loy's income in 1937 was $152,583. How much of this should she pay to the government in income tax?

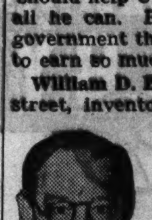
Where Answered.

The loop.

The Answers.

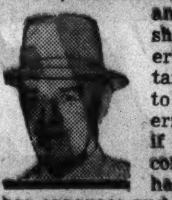
Clarence Spicer, 4238 Wellington avenue, real estate broker—Miss Loy should pay 50 per cent of her income in income taxes. It would be sufficient for her to earn and spend $75,000 in one year's time without overdoing the spending business. She wouldn't fare so well in other countries.

Mrs. Martha Hartman, 2430 Warner avenue, a widow—It would be no more than right that Miss Loy should give the government at least half of what she earned. I was not born in this country, but I am a citizen and I believe every one should help Uncle Sam all he can. People should help the government that gives them a chance to earn so much money.



William D. Brace, 107 West Schiller street, inventor—Fifteen per cent is enough to pay on any income. I believe that is the amount of tax that Miss Loy and everybody down to the married man with an income of $1,500 a year should pay. It's not our fault that Miss Loy had brains enough to make that much money.

Mrs. F. C. Mayer, 1532 North Mason avenue, housewife—Miss Loy should not be forced to give the government more than 20 per cent of her income. She earned her money, and she is entitled to keep most of it. All the 80 per cent left to her wouldn't be profit—she has heavy personal expenses in her business.



Thomas F. Hogan, 528 West 41st street, foreman—About 60 per cent of an income that size should go to the government in income taxes. I'd be willing to share with the government on that basis if I had that much income. Miss Loy would have 20 per cent for her expenses and 20 per cent for profit if she paid a 60 per cent tax.

PEACE TREATY'S 'LAST 10% TO DIE,' DANZIG PROMISED

City's Fate Up to Hitler, Nazi Leader Says.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, Aug. 2 (AP).—Albert Forster, fiery Nazi district leader of Danzig, tonight promised the destruction of the "last 10 per cent of the treaty of Versailles."

Albert Forster.

At the same time Forster reassured Danzigers that they were "protected against any surprises."

"Say it louder," cried some of his brown shirted hearers when Forster quietly declared, "We have taken certain measures to protect ourselves."

"Nothing further need be said," he said. "We know we cannot decide our freedom ourselves, we know that decision can come only from the Fuehrer [Adolf Hitler]. We know that he holds our fate in his hands and that it is in good hands.

"The treaty of Versailles is not as yet destroyed and the last 10 per cent will follow. That it will come we know. We do not know when, but we will be able to hold out."

Forster addressed a crowd of several thousand men and women in which brown shirts of Hitler troopers predominated. The rally was called by the Reich Society for German Sea Prestige.

Says Poles are Seasick.

He mentioned Poland, who has declared she would allow none of her rights in Danzig to be impaired, only once in passing in his brief speech. He said the Poles were suffering from seasickness.

The Nazi party newspaper, Danzig Vorposten, reported two new incidents with the Poles. It said three Polish customs officers violated the Danzig border but withdrew at a warning shot near Sobbowitz. Polish soldiers at Tczew, the paper said, threw stones at a train carrying German vacationists home from Danzig.

MOTOR BUILDING LAGS FAR BEHIND NEEDS OF FRANCE

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—Aug. 2.—While cabinet ministers are telling the public that the French air army is ready for war today there is considerable secret alarm among air ministry officers here over the inability of French aircraft motor manufacturers to supply engines of the quality or in the quantity needed for the country's new military airplanes.

Actually the French airplane motor manufacturers are in desperate straits. While they now build a number of reliable aircraft engines these motors are not of sufficient power to satisfy the needs of the military airplane designers. The few high horsepower motors that are being built here are still in their early stages and are not reliable.

Turn to America.

The situation is so bad that the air ministry has turned to England and America for motors. A huge factory of the Ford Motor company in France has been purchased and is being converted into a plant where the famous Rolls-Royce motors of England will be manufactured.

At the same time the French are tooling up for the building of American Pratt & Whitney twin-row radial engines of 1,200 and 1,500 horsepower. They have purchased rights to build both the Rolls and P. & W. motors. Patterns, dies, and drawings have been obtained. Motor experts from America and England already are in France supervising the establishment of the plants.

Neither of these measures, however, can be productive earlier than the spring of 1940. In the meantime the French are being starved for the 1,000 horsepower engines that are required to obtain the 300-400 mile an hour speeds now demanded of military fighting, observation and bombardment airplanes.

Vital Need of Air Service.

There is no branch of the military services in any country that is more dependent upon reliable high performance motors than the air services. It is impossible to build aircraft capable of present day speeds, load carrying capacities, and performance without reliable motors in the 1,000 to 2,000 horsepower class.

Germany is leading the world today chiefly because motor manufacturers have turned out a fine series of high-power motors. England is free from aircraft motor worries because the Rolls-Royce company and the Bristol Motor company—now producing a series of 1,100 to 1,700 horsepower sleeve-valve radial motors—have kept abreast of motor developments the world over.

Lacked Financial Help.

In France, however, the manufacturers have not received sufficient financial encouragement from the government to maintain the highly expensive engine developments staffs that are necessary for rapid progress in the engine field. And during the last three years their labor troubles have been so great as virtually to halt experiments.

Prior to 1938 the Hispano-Suiza company at Paris built a series of aircraft motors that were among the most famous the world around. The Hispano-Suiza company has been building aircraft motors since the world war, and they now produce a series of fine liquid and air cooled motors ranging in powers from 600 through 950 horsepower.

The only objection to these engines is that they are less powerful than motors produced elsewhere. The French Morane 406 fighter, fitted with the 900 horse power Hispano engine, has a top speed of 312 miles an hour. Similar German, British, and American fighters are fitted with 1,200 horse power motors.

Develop 2,000 H. P. Motor.

Both the German and English airplanes are from 30 to 60 miles an hour faster than the Morane.

I was told by an official of the Hispano company that they have under development now an H type liquid cooled motor that is in the 2,000 horse power class. When that engine has passed its power and reliability tests it will fill a great gap in French motor requirements.

The only other company that builds large motors in France is Gnome-Rhone. They are now building a series of 14 cylinder double-row radial air cooled engines ranging from 700 through 1,000 horse power. These are the takeoff ratings and the so-called international rating of these engines runs about 100 horse power less through the entire line.

Gnome-Rhone, also located at Paris, is about to put on the market a double-row 18 cylinder engine rated at 1,400 horse power for takeoff.

The objection to G-N engines in the past among pilots has been that they are "delicate."

Proposed Air Link

1,000 MILE TRIP TO N. Y. STARTED BY 'GAS' CAVALRY

Mechanized Brigade to Join War Game.

Hamilton, O., Aug. 2 [Special].—The 7th cavalry brigade, the army's only mechanized force, arrived here tonight to bivouac on its way from Fort Knox, Ky., to Plattsburg, N. Y., to take part in the largest peace-time concentration of military units on the American continent since the civil war.

The force of 300 gasoline propelled machines is traveling more than 1,000 miles to participate in maneuvers from Aug. 13 to 27. From here it will proceed north through Ohio, passing through Dayton, Columbus, and Cleveland, through the northwest corner of Pennsylvania and reaching the Lake Champlain region on Aug. 8.

The special mission of the brigade is to put the machine age into the "fighting" soon to begin on the shores of historic Lake Champlain. Upon its arrival at Plattsburg, the brigade will become part of the 1st army under Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum.

Planes Soar Overhead.

As the various units into which the command is divided for marching roll along, the planes of the 12th Observation squadron, a component of the mechanized force, will hover overhead and far in advance and to the flanks performing their normal function of being eyes for the force.

When the brigade has assembled in the Plattsburg combat zone, it will confront the enemy with a fire-power that is appalling, considering the speed with which it can shift its entire mass. In its combat cars, which closely resemble light tanks, and in the armor protected scout cars and personnel carriers, are mounted almost a thousand machine guns, one-quarter of which are of the armor-piercing .50 calibre [one-half inch] anti-tank type.

Then there are 230 Thompson guns which are short range but hard hitting .45 calibre submachine guns for close in defense; sixteen artillery pieces—seventy-fives—firing high explosive shells; and twelve 4.2 inch chemical mortars.

Have 120 New Rifles.

One hundred twenty new automatic rifles and 2,350 pistols on belts of officers and men, complete an armament list, the like of which an equal number of men in one organization have never had before in any army, anywhere. Heavy weapons of great output with the large ammunition supply to make them effective are possible when machines carry the load.

The mechanized brigade is composed of the 1st and 13th cavalry regiments, both of which were formerly horsed, and the 68th field artillery.

ALASKAN COLONY'S FOREMOST FARMER GIVES UP HIS LAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Palmer, Alaska, Aug. 2.—Walter Pippel, outstanding farmer, has given up his court fight to be a success in the Matanuska colony, federal homesteading project.

Under an agreement reached out of court settling the case of the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation against him, Pippel yesterday signed a stipulation to vacate his colony farm within 30 days. The colony will take it over.

Pippel and the colony went to court when he resigned from the Matanuska colony and marketed his crops outside of its marketing agency. He objected to paying the agency about $550 a year for its services and asked the right to pay off the loan he received from the government. Colonists credit him with having made more than $5,000 a year from his land since he came here from Robbinsdale, Minn., in 1935 as an original colonist. He was the colony's farming ace.

Terms of the out-of-court settlement were not disclosed.

50,000 HOMELESS AS FLOODS SWEEP CHINA PROVINCE

PEKING, Aug. 2 (AP).—More than 50,000 Chinese peasants were reported homeless today as rain swollen rivers poured their waters over the plains of eastern Hopei province, between Peking and Tientsin. Heavy loss of life was feared, but definite information was lacking. Market prices were rising because of crop destruction.

The floods, which began east of Peking, were spreading to the Tientsin region some 80 miles to the southeast, inundating several villages.

TANKER SINKING AT SEA; SAILORS TAKE TO BOATS

Houston, Tex., Aug. 3 [Thursday.] (AP)—Radio reports to Port Arthur early today said the British tanker Dunkwa was sinking off the Florida coast and the crew was taking to life boats. Waves were pouring over the ship.

The message gave the position as longitude 80 degrees 17 mintues and 33 second west and latitude 31 degrees 25 minutes and 52 seconds north.

The message said the tanker sailed from Calcutta, but did not give its destination.

Earlier distress calls received at Florida points stated the ship was afire, but did not give its position. A coast guard patrol boat from Fort Pierce, Fla., sped to sea on a search for the tanker. The last words from the Dunkwa's officer were: "I've got to leave."

JAPAN VIOLATES TOKIO ACCORD, BRITAIN CLAIMS

Curb Anti-British Action, Chamberlain Warns.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The British government has made another "vigorous protest" to Tokio through Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie against the continued anti-British agitation in North China, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons tonight.

Chamberlain said also that Britain was maintaining close contact with the American and French governments on the situation in the far east.

Difficult to Continue.

Diplomatic sources here said that Craigie told the Japanese it would be difficult to continue negotations on the Tientsin issue while the anti-British campaign continues in territories occupied by the Japanese.

Chamberlain, it was recalled, said on Monday that the British government would have to "take a definite view" of the situation unless attacks on Britons were discontinued, and he indicated that the Anglo-Japanese discussions might become impossible.

British circles argued that in view of the recent British-Japanese agreement providing the basis of the Tokio talks, the continued anti-British agitation indicated that the Japs either were not fulfilling their obligations to cease the campaign or that they were unable to maintain order in the districts they are supposed to occupy.

British Women Stripped.

Meanwhile, a dispatch from Peking said that two British women missionaries who had arrived there related that they had been forced to strip in the presence of a Japanese or Corean man while being detained by Japanese soldiers at Kaifeng. The women were en route from Sian, Shensi province, with a man missionary. The women said they were detained on July 24 and 25 and were questioned for four hours one day and two the next.

It was also reported from Peking that 516 servants of British families had received letters warning them to quit their jobs or face "final action." The letters were signed "Anti-British Picket corps." The frightened servants quit their jobs.

ASSASSINS KILL MADRID MAJOR AND CHAUFFEUR

Two Ex-Loyalist Army Men Arrested.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Aug. 2.—Maj. Isaac Gabaldon Irurzun of the civil guard and chief inspector of military police detachments in Madrid, and his chauffeur, Jose Luis Diez Madrigal, were murdered on a road near Talavera yesterday, it was disclosed today.

The police have arrested two former republican [loyalist] soldiers as the killers. This assassination, of the type which played a large part in causing the Spanish civil war, aroused the indignation of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government and brought promises of swift justice.

An official statement published in all newspapers said: "The authorities not only know the authors of the crime but they have information on all its ramifications and on its complications, which in this case already are proved."

This was a hint that a political purpose was suspected as being back of the crime.

The civil guards, among other duties, patrol country roads in pairs. The suspects arrested for killing the civil guard major and his chauffeur, it is believed, halted the major's automobile and asked for a ride. It is believed that the victims later were forced from the car and shot.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Anthony Mackeson, 37 years old, former cavalry officer, found a new method of suicide on Croydon air field tonight. Having failed to persuade the pilot of a joyriding plane to take him aloft in an open rear cockpit, he turned toward an airliner moving across the field and walked straight into its whirling propeller. He was killed instantly. In this pocket was this note: 'There is power behind me that drives me. I must do this while I still have courage."

CLEAN POLITICS BILL IS SIGNED AT WHITE HOUSE

Roosevelt Even Assumes Credit for Idea.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator Austin.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—The Hatch bill, called "an act to prevent pernicious political activities," was signed by President Roosevelt and became the law of the land today. But the President placed his own interpretation upon the act in a special message to congress enumerating reservations as to the manner in which it will be enforced under his administration.

The President not only signed the bill but took credit for the genesis of the legislation, a claim that was promptly challenged on the floor of the senate. He denounced what he called "misrepresentations, some unpremeditated, some deliberate," regarding his attitude toward the bill.

This referred to newspaper interpretations and the common belief in congress that the President was on the spot politically; that he would blast any chance of a third nomination for himself or of dominating the 1940 Democratic national convention if he signed the bill, and would be accused of condoning corrupt politics if he vetoed it.

"It has been currently suggested that partisan political reasons have entered into the passage of the bill, but with this I am not concerned because it is my hope that if properly administered the measure can be made an effective instrument of good government," the President said.

This was interpreted in congress as a slap at the supporters of Vice President John N. Garner for the Democratic nomination in 1940. The Vice President had enthusiastically predicted that the bill would become law and his friends had made no secret of their desire for the legislation as a weapon to prevent the use of the federal jobholders machine in behalf of a third nomination for Mr. Roosevelt.

Forbids Job Promises.

The act makes it unlawful for any officer or employé of the executive branch of the government, below the rank of assistant heads of executive departments and a few other policy making officials, to take an active part in politics. It makes it unlawful for any person employed in any administrative position by the government to use his official authority for the purpose of influencing any federal election. It forbids the solicitation or acceptance of funds from relief workers, the use of relief appropriations for political purposes, and the promising of jobs or other rewards for any political support.

More than 50 per cent of the delegates to the Philadelphia convention which renominated Mr. Roosevelt in 1936 were federal officeholders—postmasters, marshals, revenue collectors, United States attorneys, etc. — who will be barred from political activity by the Hatch act.

In his message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt said the genesis of the legislation was found in his relief message last Jan. 5, saying, "It is my belief that improper political practices can be eliminated only by the imposition of rigid statutory regulations and penalties by the congress, and that this should be done."

Fight Led by Barkley.

Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.], acting minority leader, introduced into the record the proceedings of the senate of June 2, 1938, when Senator Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.] offered the original Hatch amendment to the relief appropriation act. President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley, majority leader of the senate, who was facing strong opposition for renomination in the Kentucky primary, led the fight against the Hatch amendment and defeated it, 40 to 37.

A similar amendment by Senator Austin was rejected on the following day by a vote of 35 to 33. The Sheppard senate committee later found that conditions in the Kentucky primary were such as to shock the conscience of the electorate.

"I leave it safely in the hands of the senate to judge whether this act is a political or non-political act in the sense of partisanship," Senator Austin told the senate. "The question of who should have the credit matters not at all. The important fact is that we have now in effect a law which denounces the misuse or abuse of charity, and of the power that necessarily has to go with it. I believe that this act, if honestly carried into effect, will take relief out of politics and take politics out of relief."

Lists His Reservations.

Mr. Roosevelt said that Attorney General Frank Murphy had resolved all questions of constitutionality in favor of the bill. He then enumerated his reservations concerning the enforcement of the act so as to preserve to government employés their "civil liberties."

Government employés, he said, will not lose their positions if they "merely attend political meetings"; if they contribute voluntarily to campaign funds, or if they express their political opinions and preferences, orally, by radio, or in writing, without doing so as part of an organized political campaign.

The President took occasion to remind beneficiaries of the New Deal farm subsidy program and recipients of loans from the Home Owners Loan corporation, the Farm Credit administration, the Farm Security administration, and the Reconstruction Finance corporation that they are not affected by the act.

Government employés, he said, would not be subject to the act because of mere membership in political organizations.

The President also insisted at considerable length that all government employés have the right to answer attacks made upon them in the political campaign.

SESSION'S FINAL SPENDING BILL IS CUT 161 MILLION

creases totaling hundreds of millions over the budget had been added almost invariably by the senate after the house had clung to budget recommendations.

"That is true," replied Woodrum, "but it is no excuse for the house because we accepted the increases after the senate put them in the bills. I regret that the house, in connection with these other spending bills, did not stand as it did against the last bill sent up from the senate."

Building Program Slashed.

The house also rejected a proposal to add 50 million dollars to the public buildings program, which would have provided two new federal structures for each congressional district and turned down the Securities and Exchange commission's request for $102,000, chiefly for proposed regulation of over-the-counter markets and for the commission's new office in London, England.

National defense items also were reduced. A $7,300,000 fund for training civilian air pilots was cut to 3 millions. A direct appropriation of $2,070,000, plus contractual authority to spend 24 million dollars on improvement of navy yards, was approved.

The budget bureau had requested for the social security board an additional 20 million dollars. The house cut this fund to 12½ million dollars.

Action Angers Wallace.

Angry over successive administration defeats in congress, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said today that the country faces a possible return to conditions which prevailed in 1932. He referred to the refusal of congress to pass the lending bill and its refusal to approve the 119 million dollar deficiency appropriation for the Commodity Credit corporation.

Without loans by the Commodity Credit corporation, Wallace said, prices for corn would drop to less than 25 cents a bushel, and probably closer to 15 cents, by next winter.

Wallace said that without the 119 millions it would be necessary to reconsider Commodity Credit corporation commitments and distribute the funds on a pro rata basis on all crops. This, he asserted, would seriously affect the corn loan program.

⅓ cup Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
2½ cups sifted confectioners (4X) sugar

Blend Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk, orange juice, and grated orange rind. Add confectioners sugar gradually. Blend thoroughly. Spread on cold cake. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of 2 (8-inch) layers or top and sides of loaf cake or about 18 cup cakes.

SUES TO RELEASE RAKLIOS FROM A DEBTOR'S CELL

WifeCharges Malice Count Is Relic of Barbarism.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus to free John Raklios, one time millionaire restaurant owner, from a debtor's cell in the county jail was filed yesterday before Judge Michael Feinberg in Criminal court. A hearing on the writ was set for 9:30 a. m. today when Raklios will be brought to court from the jail infirmary.

The petition was signed by Raklios' wife, Mary, and was presented by her attorney, former Municipal Judge John H. Lyle. It asserted that the malice count in the $2,000 debt judgment, under which Raklios was imprisoned, is "a relic of the old English barbarous law which jailed men for debt."

Charges Practice Is Growing.

"In the old days," Lyle said afterward, "men were exiled and executed for debt, or were virtually made slaves. Some features of this archaic system seem to be broadening out in this state in recent years, and men are being jailed for debt too frequently.

"The law which permits it was fostered by loan sharks. Before 1937, a man in debt could absolve himself of malice and avoid going to jail by showing he was insolvent. But in 1937, the state legislature changed the law so that malice was made the gist of such judgments and the unfortunate debtor could be imprisoned."

Inclusion of a malice count in a judgment means that the defendant can be imprisoned for six months if he fails to pay. The plaintif in the suit must pay $3.50 a week for the defendant's board in jail. If these payments are not made, the prisoner is released.

Tavern Owner Gets Writ.

The $2,000 judgment against Raklios was obtained by Samuel Ingalls, a tavern owner, who had a malice count in his bill. Ingalls paid the $3.50 for the first week's board when Raklios was jailed Monday. Attorney Arthur Wolf, one of Ingalls' counsel, said last evening that the tavern owner probably will appear today to resist Raklios' attempt to regain freedom.

Raklios, who is 60 years old, lay in his cot in the jail infirmary yesterday and told interviewers that he and every member of his family are destitute.

"Last year I had to move out of the home at 6326 Sheridan road, which I once bought for $70,000," he said. "The mortgagees had taken it over some time before, and I was paying rent to live there. Since, I had been living in a flat at 5808 Winthrop avenue.

"My last asset was $15,000 life insurance. I borrowed $7,500 against it. The money is gone now and I think the insurance has lapsed."

Hermann Haase, another of Raklios' lawyers, explained how the debt judgment was entered. Several years ago Raklios borrowed $2,000 from Ingalls. Two years ago Ingalls sued for the money and included a malice count in his bill because he alleged Raklios took the money to bolster his restaurant business and used it for other purposes.

Borrows on Personal Note.

"Raklios did not take the money specifically for his restaurants," Haase said, "but on a personal note. So there was no malicious conversion of the funds."

Tappan Gregory, president of the Chicago Bar association, and William King Jr., vice president, were asked whether any action would be taken by the association to urge repeal of the harsh malice count in debt suits. Both stated they had not handled such litigation and were unfamiliar with the law and its operations in such cases.

Runaways Held

Two pert young high school girls from Los Angeles, Cal., last night ended their big travel adventure at the detective bureau instead of their destination, the New York World's Fair. The girls, Rose Gahan, 17, and Jacqueline Keene, 15, were found in the Saratoga hotel, by Sergts. Ray Kindt and Joe Noonan.

Leaving home on July 21 with $13 they hitch-hiked all the way, arriving here on Sunday. Then they liked Chicago so well they decided to stay for a few days before going on east.

Sergt. Kindt telegraphed their parents and sent the girls to the juvenile detention home for the night. Rose said her father is John Harvey Gahan, who plays villain parts in cowboy movies.

COUNCIL TO GET PROPOSED NEW WEED ORDINANCE

Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st] said yesterday he would introduce a new ordinance at the next meeting of the city council for eliminating the weed nuisance on private property.

The measure, based on a new state law, was drafted by Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes. It permits the city to cut weeds at the expense of the property owner. If the owner refuses to pay he can be sued. Heretofore the city has had to pay for the weed cutting it does, whether on private or public property. Elimination of noxious weeds has been sought to aid hay fever sufferers and to improve the visibility at street intersections for motorists and pedestrians.

RAINY WEATHER FAILS TO HALT ILLINOIS TROOPS

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 2 [Special]. —Rain dampened the training activities of the Illinois National Guardsmen here today, but the wetting did not stop range firing, extended order drill and a combat problem employing infantry and tanks. The afternoon was cloudy and cool, giving the 7,000 soldiers a respite from the excessive heat of the first two days of field training.

Plans are being perfected for governor's and visitors' day next Sunday, when all the troops in training, plus the 202d coast artillery [antiaircraft] from Camp Logan and the aviation squadron from Chicago, will pass in review before United States Senators Scott W. Lucas and James Slattery, who will represent Gov. Henry Horner. More than 50,000 visitors are expected to be in camp for the occasion.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?
Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

SERENDIPITY

By CALEB

LIFE being what it is, man early learned the wisdom of that old saying: "It's the unexpected that always happens." And because he learned, too, that one frequently has the experience of starting out after one thing, and discovering another which he hadn't even thought of—this interesting language of ours has acquired a very unordinary word to describe just that sort of situation: serendipity.

Credit for putting the word into circulation goes mainly to a charming wit, writer, politician and connoisseur, who lived in England from 1717 to 1797—Horace Walpole. At some time and place in his reading he came across a novel called The Three Princes of Serendip (an early name for the island of Ceylon). Its three young heroes had the happy faculty, in their adventures, of forever running into pleasant personages and incidents they were not thinking of, or seeking for, at all. And so became a new addition to English an expression of which it had stood badly in need — and to Horace Walpole, for mentioning and emphasizing it, we should be considerably grateful.

Never a new day opens here at our store, for example, but we know beforehand that its most characteristic complexion will be serendipity. Like the ever-changing audiences that confront the actor, and keep his "successful run" in a popular play from becoming a round of gestureful boredom—the colorful crowds who visit our floors are individually variant from day to day. Every age is represented—every mood—every need—every type of taste and knowledge and expectation . . . and every transaction has in it, to less or greater degree, this quality of "making happy and unexpected discoveries by accident."

Sometimes, indeed, this quality expresses itself on both sides—the customer's and our own—simultaneously. As in the recent instance of the gentleman who came into our second floor section and asked for "A pair of candles exactly as tall as his wife—five feet." That was our serendipity! And when—well aware of the unusualness of his request—we astonished him by having the candles procured and delivered . . . that was his serendipity.

All in all—an invaluable word! As a description of one of the unpredictable phases of unpredictable human existence, we like it.

BRIDGES FORCED ON STAND; DENIES HE'S COMMUNIST

Admits He Favors Wider Federal Ownership.

Harry Bridges.

Bridges denied he is, or ever was, a communist; said he believes in a democratic form of government; expressed doubt that communists are operating against the government, and defended west coast maritime unions as the "most democratic in the country."

Answering the question: "Have you ever told any one you were a communist?" he said:

"I have kidded some people, but never seriously said so. Communism has become a standing joke along the waterfront. During the longshoremen's convention of 1936 many delegates addressed the chair as 'commissar chairman,' and the chairman, laughing, would answer: 'Comrade, you have the floor.'"

Takes Stand Over Protest.

Bridges went on the stand as the government's last witness, over protests of defense attorneys who wished to use his testimony as their first gun in fighting his deportation.

In the last three weeks, the government presented testimony of 16 witnesses in support of an immigration warant charging that Bridges is a communist and asking that he be sent back to Australia on the contention that the communist party advocates overthrow of the government by violence.

The C. I. O. chief, who came to the United States in 1920, testified his real name is Alfred Renton Bryan Bridges. "Harry is a nickname given me by the boys," he said.

Under questioning by Thomas E. Shoemaker, chief government counsel, Bridges said he had denied many times that he is a communist, but on other occasions had refused to answer.

Gives Own Example.

As an example of occasions on which he refused to answer, Bridges said: "If I were asked by the American Legion if I were a communist, and denied it, they would put me on the spot and ask why I didn't get communists out of the union."

"Are there any communists in the union?" asked Shoemaker.

"Yes, there are many, but I don't know how many," said Bridges.

"Do you believe in the teachings of the communist party, wholly or in part?" he was asked.

"I am not very familiar with them," said Bridges. "My hands are so full of practical matters I don't have time to worry about theories."

Bridges said he "sometimes" received communist literature at his home and at his office. He added:

To a question of whether communists were attempting to take over trade unions, Bridges said:

"Not our trade unions. Nobody can take them over. They are the most democratic in the country."

He qualified this with the comment that communists might control the unions if they obtained a majority membership in the rank and file.

Only Union Affiliations.

Asked if he belonged to any organization outside of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's union, of which he is district president, Bridges replied firmly:

"Outside of trade unions I do not belong to any other organization."

He said he arrived here in 1920; that the only time he had been out of this country since then was in 1922, when he was on a ship that went to Central America and Mexican ports. He has resided in San Francisco since 1922, he testified.

Commenting on the use of communism for "red baiting" on the waterfront, Bridges said:

"It is particularly out of order to ask any member of the waterfront unions if they are communists."

"Do you believe in social ownership of the means and implements of production?" asked Shoemaker.

Favors Federal Ownership.

"I believe we should have a greater degree of government ownership, under a democratic form of government," said Bridges. "The present policy of the government is toward such an end."

"Do you believe in complete government ownership?"

"I don't know."

"Do you believe in interfering with production?"

"If you mean by strikes on certain occasions, I do," said Bridges.

"No, I don't."

"Do you believe in a democratic form of government?"

"I most certainly do," said Bridges. "From my knowledge we have followed democratic practices in our union so far as possible."

"Do you believe in a capitalism form of government?"

"In my opinion, the capitalist form of society means an exploitation of a people," said Bridges. "In that manner, I have no use for it."

Thinks Aim Is "Revolutionary."

Did he believe aims of the communist party were socialistic, economic, or political?

"I think, in theory, they are revolutionary," said Bridges. "But as to how or why, I don't know."

"Do you believe the communists practice violence?"

"I never have seen any of them practice any; if they do, I am against it."

Questioned on meetings with communists, Bridges said:

"If a problem came up in the union for which I thought the communists were responsible, I would call up their headquarters and talk to an officer, and if they were responsible for a situation, they were requested to correct it."

Asked if his contacts with the communists were oral or in writing, he replied:

"I don't write to the communist party. If I did, it probably would be here in evidence."

Among communists he has contacted on labor matters, he said, are William Schneiderman, California state secretary of the party, and Walter Lambert.

Always Knows Who to Call.

Asked by Examiner Landis how he knew whom to call, Bridges, grinning, said:

"I know how to do it. On national matters I'd contact the Democratic party through Daniel Tobin of the Teamsters' union, and I'd contact the Republicans through William Hutcheson of the Carpenters' union. I've contacted both Democrats and Republicans on union matters. If something came up where we needed support, we would call up everybody, including the communist party."

Bridges denied communists are trying to take over trade unions, and declared they "can waste a lot of time trying to do it."

Telling of the 1934 maritime strike, Bridges said the Western Worker, communist party newspaper, was "the only friendly paper" and that its offer to print the strike bulletin when the union was short of funds was "eagerly accepted."

Examiner Landis interposed: "In return for what?"

"Nothing," said Bridges, "except we won the strike and they probably expected to get good will and subscriptions out of us."

Bridges denied he ever visited a night club, described by a previous government witness as communist headquarters during the 1934 strike.

Regarding relationships with communist party members, Bridges said he occasionally had given a few dollars to Harry Jackson, a party organizer, when the latter was broke and that he had discussed indorsement of California's "$30 every Thursday" with Schneiderman.

Bridges still was being questioned when the hearing closed. He will return to the stand tomorrow morning.

Wins Alimony

MRS. MARIE TERNOIR.

Judge Joseph Sabath wanted to know what domestic trouble involved Mrs. Marie Ternoir, 22 years old, 6451 Vernon avenue, when she appeared yesterday seeking a divodce from Anthony Ternoir, 26, of 743 West Marquette road.

"Her husband is always praying," said her attorney, Victor Frohlich.

"What's wrong with prayer?" asked Judge Sabath.

"Nothing," said the lawyer. "But as soon as Ternoir reached the 'Amen' he would quickly rise and sock Mrs. Ternoir on the jaw."

Judge Sabath awarded her $12.50 a week temporary alimony.

Records Dating to Great Fire Moved by Court

Circuit Court Clerk John E. Conroy yesterday began the task of moving more than 700,000 files to new storage vaults in the Criminal court building. They cover the years from 1871, the year all earlier records were destroyed in the great fire, to 1928. Conroy said the space they occupy is needed for newly filed and pending bills.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills

LIGGETT LIBEL LANDS N. Y. RED EDITOR IN CELL

Failed to Pay Damages to Widow of Crusader.

New York, Aug. 2 [Special].—Clarence Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker, communist newspaper, was seized today and lodged in the Brooklyn civil prison. He will remain there for six months if he fails to satisfy a libel judgment obtained by Mrs. Edith Liggett, widow of Walter Liggett of Minneapolis, who was assassinated in 1935 following his unrelenting war on political-criminal alliances.

Today's action climaxed litigation lasting more than a year. Mrs. Liggett brought the action against communist interests in New York for libelous statements published in the Daily Worker about herself and her husband after the latter's murder.

Mrs. Liggett Wins 2 Suits.

Twice she brought suit in New York, and both times she won verdicts. In May, 1938, she won a $25,000 verdict against Hathaway, the Comprodaily Publishing company, publisher of the Daily Worker; the Daily Worker, and Hyman Colodny, business manager of the Daily Worker.

The $25,000 verdict against Colodny still stands, but in subsequent litigation this award was vacated against all the other defendants and a retrial was ordered for them on technical grounds.

In May of this year the case came up again. A jury in Kings County court awarded Mrs. Liggett $2,672, covering compensatory and punitive damages against Hathaway and the Comprodaily Publishing company.

Call at Hathaway Flat.

Since this judgment was obtained Hathaway has made no effort to pay, Mrs. Liggett said. Her attorney obtained an order from Supreme Court Justice Meier Steinbrink for a bodily attachment, and today he accompanied Deputy Sherif Hugh Breslin to the four room apartment occupied by the Hathaways in Brooklyn. In response to a knock, Mrs. Hathaway opened the door but insisted that her husband already had left for his office in Manhattan. The door being open, however, the sherif's deputy was permitted by law to enter. He found Hathaway smoking a cigaret in bed.

Breslin ordered the editor to dress and accompany him to the civil prison, which Hathaway did.

Once Accused Hamilton Fish.

Hathaway has been in trouble before. On one occasion he was indicted for criminal libel and went to trial in General Sessions.

Red Editor Jailed

Clarence Hathaway, editor of Communist Daily Worker, who was jailed in Brooklyn yesterday for failure to satisfy libel judgment obtained by Mrs. Edith Liggett (right), widow of Minneapolis editor.

In 1933 he accused Representative Hamilton Fish [Rep., N. Y.] of spreading Nazi propaganda in this country. He laid his charge before the house immigration committee and Samuel Untermyer came to the New York representative's defense. Speaking as president of the World Jewish federation and the Non-Sectarian League for the Defense of Jewish Rights, Untermyer characterized the charges as false and libelous.

Gangster Guns Fell Liggett.

Walter Liggett at the time of his death was editor of the Midwest American in Minneapolis. Gangster machine gunners shot him down in an alley behind his home in December, 1935, as his widow and daughter looked on. For more than two years he had been a storm center in Minneapolis politics, warring against vice and gambling and against the régime of Gov. Floyd Olson.

His murder came at a time when Liggett purportedly was preparing to publish revelations of alliances between criminals and politicians that threatened to reach into the highest strata of Minnesota politics. His murderers never were apprehended.

Mrs. Liggett then went to Brooklyn and wrote a series of articles concerning the murder of her husband. Statements about these articles in the Daily Worker formed the basis of her suit against the communists. It was charged that the communist organ made libelous mention of the widow of the slain publisher selling the corpse limb by limb to the highest bidder of the Minnesota Republican party.

Judge Praises Verdict.

At the end of the second trial Judge Philip A. Brennan praised the verdict in Mrs. Liggett's favor, but indicated his belief that on the basis of the testimony a verdict in larger amount should have been returned.

"If you had made a motion to set it aside," he told M. D. Forkosch, Mrs. Liggett's attorney, "I would, because I consider it inadequate. It was an outrageous, vile and cowardly libel and they [the defendants] should have paid for it properly. But I will let it stand."

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Dr. Sigmund Freud, noted psychoanalyst, suffered from weakness early this week but his daughter said today that "no anxiety was felt." Freud, who is 83 years old, has been in poor health for years. He came here from Vienna after Germany annexed Austria last year.

RAILROAD LAND ROW MAY BALK SUBWAY WORK

Work on the State street subway section under the Chicago river may be delayed by a dispute between the city and the Chicago & North Western railroad over property rights, William H. Sexton, city traction attorney, said yesterday. The city is seeking an easement on a strip of the railroad's property just west of State street and north of the river to make possible the building of the tunnel under the river.

The dispute dates back to 1932 and is involved with the city's periodic efforts to build a new bridge at State street. The city agreed in 1932 to pay $497,000 to the railroad for air and property rights to a strip of land 50 feet wide north of the river. It was to be used along with a 60 foot strip already held by the city for a 110 foot viaduct to connect with the new bridge that was planned. In 1936, however, Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, assailed the railroad's demand as excessive and asked the council to refuse to pay it.

A court order to vacate the agreement was sought recently as the city prepared to build a new bridge in connection with the subway. Judge Francis B. Allegretti continued a hearing on the plea to Sept. 11. Sexton has asked the railroad to permit the work to go ahead and to leave a settlement up to court decision. Attorney Charles M. Thomson, trustee for the railroad, said last night the road is standing by its demand.

Coney Island Beauty Title Won by Home Town Girl

Pearls Valued at Million Are Shown at Luncheon

New York, Aug. 2 [Special].—Oriental pearls from the Island of Bahrain, said to be valued at a million dollars, were carried in and out of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria today without any police protection. They were displayed at a luncheon in honor of Shiek Mohamed Bin Isa Al Khalifah, heir to the throne of Bahrain, who wore his native costume. In an address in his native tongue, the shaikh said Bahrain pearls were not to be confused with cultured pearls, which cannot be called natural, real, or genuine.

EFFORT TO SELL MANTON LAND AS RACE TRACK TOLD

Lawyer Relates Trip to Europe for Ex-Judge.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 2.—Former Federal Judge Martin T. Manton, convicted of conspiracy on charges of peddling justice for cash, attempted to sell to race track operators airport property in which he was interested, it was asserted today in a federal court hearing.

This new tale of the former jurist's ventures was related from the witness stand by Louis S. Levy, New York attorney and friend of Manton. Levy and another lawyer, Paul M. Hahn, vice president of the American Tobacco company, are being tried in a special disciplinary proceeding aimed at their censure and disbarment for their dealings with Manton.

On the stand today, Levy said he had attempted from 1930 to 1937 to help Judge Manton dispose of a large plot of land on Long Island called Holmes' airport.

Says He Went to Europe.

Manton's first idea was to establish a city airport on the land; then he planned a housing project, but both plans collapsed, Levy said.

Finally Manton obtained Levy's aid in a scheme to sell the airport to the operators of the Aqueduct race track. At Manton's behest, Levy said, he went to Europe and got in touch with Joseph E. Widener, wealthy turfman who was connected with the track. Widener said it would cost $1,500,000 to equip the new track and asked where the money would come from, Levy said.

Levy asserted he put this question to Manton and subsequently, through the judge, he obtained a list of men who would finance the proposition, but Widener turned down the plan.

Arises from $250,000 Loan.

The disbarment action against Levy and Hahn arises from a $250,000 loan, the proceeds of which found their way into Manton's enterprises. The loan was made by the advertising firm of Lord & Thomas at a time when its client, the American Tobacco company, was a litigant in Judge Manton's court.

The advertising firm and its former head, Albert D. Lasker, have been absolved by the government, however, and described as innocent dupes in the transaction. The tobacco company suit, a stockholders' action attacking officers' bonuses, was settled after a Circuit Court of Appeals decision in favor of the officers was reversed by the Supreme court in 1933. Judge Manton had written the appellate decision.

It was explained by sources close to the government today that no criminal action was taken against the lawyers, Levy and Hahn, because the evidence was not weighty enough to support it, and in addition the statute of limitations on a bribery case of this sort, three years, barred such a prosecution. The loan transaction took place in 1932.

Faces Larceny Charge

JUDITH RAYBOURNE.

Michael M. Klein, 831 Wilson avenue, complaining witness against Miss Judith Raybourne, 27 years old, 657 West 63d street, failed to appear yesterday when Miss Raybourne was arraigned on a larceny charge before Judge Eugene McGarry. The case was continued to next Monday. Klein told police Miss Raybourne took $20 from him while he was entertaining her in a loop hotel room. Miss Raybourne said she was not acquainted with Klein. She is a former night club hostess.

STATE TO SEEK INDICTMENT IN BENTON SLAYING

Benton, Ill., Aug. 2 [Special.]—Preparations were begun today to obtain the indictment of George W. Gore Jr., son of a wealthy physician, on a charge of murder in the slaying of his stepmother, Mrs. Nancy Gore, which he confessed last night.

State's Attorney Rea Jones announced he would seek the recall of the May grand jury this month.

Young Gore's attorney, Carl Choisser, who is also his cousin, hinted he might enter a plea of insanity.

The climax to nine days of investigation of the case came last night after Gore heard the statement of his wife in which she said he told her he killed his stepmother. She also told of previous trips he had made to Benton for the purpose but was frustrated from carrying out his intention.

ASK INDICTMENT OF POLICEMAN IN SLAYING TODAY

Charge of Manslaughter Urged at Inquest.

The grand jury today will hear the case of Policeman Walter Ford, who on Tuesday night shot and killed a tavern owner. A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Ford be held to the grand jury for manslaughter. Assistant State's Attorney Irwin B. Clorfene said he would present the case to the grand jury without recommending a charge.

Ford, 43 years old, attached to the North avenue station, shot Michael Wujs in the latter's tavern at 4148 Division street. Ford was off duty but was in uniform. Witnesses said he was flourishing his service revolver and was drunk.

Prosecutor Tells His Views.

Prosecutor Clorfene said he was convinced Ford did not intend to kill any one.

"There must be malice and premeditation before you can call it murder," he said. "Ford evidently was so drunk he didn't know what he was doing."

Clorfene added that he had conferred with Wilbert Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, before the inquest, and that it was Crowley's opinion that the case was one of manslaughter.

Disheveled and haggard, Ford sat yesterday at the inquest but did not testify. Wuj's daughter, Michaeline, 23, who witnessed the shooting from another room of the tavern, told of the events. She said she served Ford three beers and a highball.

Daughter's Story of Slaying.

"Ford was getting loud and talkative," she testified, "and saying things he shouldn't say in front of ladies. So my dad came back in and sent me out of the bar. Then I heard a shot. I looked in to the mirror and saw him [indicating Ford] holding a gun, and then I saw some one take it away from him and saw my father lying on the floor."

Four other witnesses who were in the tavern swore they did not see the actual shooting. Three of them were members of the same family—David C. Goold and his two sons, James and Robert. They said they saw the gun in Ford's hand, but said they thought he struck it against the bar and that it went off accidentally.

Joseph I. Willimovsky, ballastics expert attached to the coroner's office, produced the gun, which a witness had put in the tavern ice box. It has a safety feature, Willimovsky said, that prevents accidental discharge unless pressure is applied to the trigger.

Supervising Captain John Stege said that on Tuesday night he talked to Ford, "who said he didn't remember even being in the bar," and then took the gun back to the tavern. He said he slammed it down on the bar a number of times. "Nothing happened," he said.

KENTUCKY DERBY HEAD HEARD IN ANNENBERG QUIZ

Col. Matt Winn, manager of the Kentucky Derby, appeared yesterday before the federal grand jury investigating possible violations of anti-trust or anti-racketeering laws by M. L. Annenberg, wealthy Philadelphia publisher and critic of the New Deal.

Annenberg also operates horse racing information services. Col. Winn is head of the Churchill Downs track at Louisville, Ky., where the Derby is run; chairman of the board of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club, Chicago; managing director of the Latonia Jockey club at Covington, Ky., and a stockholder in the Laurel, Md., race track.

He was taken before the jury by James V. Hayes, assistant United States attorney general, and A. Bradley Eben, assistant United States district attorney. It was reported that Col. Winn was called concerning the leasing of wire service rights at the various tracks.

FOUR MELT BARS TO ESCAPE FROM PRISON IN OHIO

London, O., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A police killer and three robbers invented an ingenious blow torch to cut through sawproof steel bars and escaped today from the state prison farm here. They lined a flower pot with asbestos and burned coke and alcohol in it forced by oxygen obtained from the prison hospital. The contrivance melted the steel.

They slid from a second story prison hospital window on a rope made of gauze bandages. A guard saw their flight after they were out of range of his rifle.

One of the four, Charles Adomak, 41 years old, robber, became exhausted and was recaptured in a field. The others were: Louis Vandervort, 36, under life sentence for shooting a policeman to death in a burglary; Harold Curtner, 39, and Nathan King, 47, robbers.

LOCK BANDIT VICTIM IN ICE BOX.

Leslie Crandall, owner of a meat market at 917 East 79th street, was held up in his shop yesterday by two gunmen who escaped with $150, after locking Crandall in his icebox.

4 YEGGS SEIZED AS THEY SLIP ON OWN SLICK RUSE

Fear for a Confederate's Comfort Trips Them.

At 5 o'clock on the morning of July 16 the desk sergeant at the Town Hall police station got a telephone call.

"There are two men tied up in the McJunkin building," said an anonymous voice. "Better get over there right away."

Police squads went to the office building at 4554 Broadway. One watchman, locked in a closet, was near suffocation; the other was securely bound. Safes had been blown in two offices; attempts had been made to crack safes in seven others.

Watchmen Fall Under Suspicion.

It was believed the call to police came from one of the robbers, concerned over the comfort of a confederate. The two watchmen thus fell under suspicion. They were trailed day and night. Yesterday State's Attorney Courtney announced the roundup of the safecracking gang—three former convicts and one of the watchmen, Raymond Simpson, 35 years old, 22 South Leavitt street.

The others in custody are Joseph Brownrigg, 44, of 27 South Leavitt street; William Sweeney, 28, and his brother, Ben, 27. The latter is in jail in Miami, Fla., the others here.

William Sweeney was sentenced to Pontiac prison for robbery in 1930 and paroled in 1934. Ben Sweeney served time at the Jeffersonville, Ind., prison in 1931 for auto theft, and in 1932 he was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Pontiac prison for the same offense. He also was paroled in 1934. Brownrigg was paroled from the Indiana prison at Michigan City in 1937 after serving 15 months for larceny.

Confess to Courtney.

Brownrigg denied he had any part in the McJunkin robberies but was implicated in the confessions of William Sweeney and Simpson, which were made to Courtney and his chief investigator, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, after an all night questioning.

Simpson said Brownrigg asked him about the building in which he worked. The watchman said he estimated there would be $18,000 to $20,000 in the various office safes. He let them into the building at 11 p. m. July 15, according to his confession. All were masked. They seized the other watchman, Rocco Candozaro, 50, of 2100 North Leamington avenue, gagged him, and put him in a closet.

The gang got $440 from the safe of Arthur Rubloff & Co., agents for the building, and $150 from the office of Dr. Otto Kalb. They knocked the combinations from the safes of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and the Household Finance corporation, where they expected their biggest hauls, but could not get into the strong boxes.

Second Watchman Cleared.

They were unsuccessful in five other offices. Then they bound their ally, Simpson, and fled. William Sweeney made the call to police. Their loot was $590, but Simpson and Sweeney charged that Brownrigg told them it was only $225. After pro-rating it, they said, Brownrigg took back $3 from each to pay a lookout he said was on duty at the building entrance.

Police squads soon found Watchman Candozaro had done nothing out of the way. Sergt. Thomas Cooper and his men became interested, however, in the meetings of Simpson and Brownrigg. They learned Brownrigg was a former convict. Then the cleanup of the case followed.

RELIEF CHEATER WITH $330 HOARD GETS SIX MONTHS

Demetrius Gasteratos, 43 years old, 3366 North Clark street, was fined $1 and sentenced to the Bridewell for six months yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes on a charge of obtaining relief funds by fraud. Attorney G. B. Foley, representing the Chicago Relief administration, and G. E. Griffin, an investigator for the CRA fraud office, told the court that a safe deposit box containing $330 and belonging to Gasteratos was discovered at the Lake View Trust and Savings bank. They also testified that Gasteratos defrauded the CRA of $256 and the Illinois Emergency Relief commission of $178.

Son Freed for Slaying Father to Save Mother

A charge of manslaughter against James McHugh, 24 years old, 417 South Karlov avenue, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Eugene L. McGarry in Felony court. McHugh killed his father, Frank, 46 years old, Tuesday after rushing to aid his mother, Anna, who was being beaten. The father died from the effects of a blow on the jaw suffered in a rough and tumble fight with his son. James was exonerated by a coroner's jury the same day.

VOTE TO INDICT 7 IN 24TH WARD FOR VOTE FRAUD

True bills naming seven residents of the 61st precinct of the 24th ward were reported voted by the grand jury yesterday. The bills are said to charge conspiracy to erase and alter about 100 ballots in the primary election of April 12, 1938. Frank Christensen, assistant state's attorney, and John F. Cashen, special attorney for the election board, said this resulted in votes going to Michael Igoe, senatorial candidate, and Judge John Prystalski, candidate for county judge, which were cast for Scott Lucas and Judge Edmund K. Jarecki.

Those reported named are: Sidney Marovitz, precinct captain and assistant corporation counsel, brother of State Senator Abe Marovitz; Abraham Solomon, assistant precinct captain; Emanuel Solomon, 3909 West 16th street, and Margaret Jennings, 1651 South Harding avenue, Republican judges; Frank Freedman, 1634 South Harding avenue, Republican clerk; Ben L. Odloff, 3919 West 16th street, Democratic judge, and Margaret Malee, 1649 South Harding avenue, Democratic clerk.

Jury Returns Open Verdict in C.I.O. Aid Death Mystery

An open verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury in the death of Eric P. Hessler, 38 years old, who was found fatally injured on June 23 in front of 3133 Madison street. Hessler was employed in the tractor division of the International Harvester company and was financial secretary of the Farm Equipment Workers, local 108, a C. I. O. union. He died in County hospital on July 23 without being able to give an account of what happened to him.

INDICT INDIANA DEMOCRAT FOR LIQUOR FRAUD

John Schank.

John Schank, a member of the Lake county, Ind., liquor board, was indicted secretly by the grand jury at Crown Point Tuesday on charges of grand larceny, embezzlement, and obtaining money under false pretenses, it was learned yesterday.

The charges were based on the testimony of John Rampa, 3815 Fir street, East Chicago, Ind. Rampa said he paid $550 to Schank when the latter promised to transfer to him the unexpired state alcoholic beverage retailer's license of Noble Edgar, 810 145th street, East Chicago. Subsequently Rampa said he learned that Edgar had no intention of selling the license. Schank neither turned over the license nor repaid the money, Rampa said.

Schank, who lives at 7145 Jefferson street, Hammond, has been prominent in the Lake county Democratic party. He served four years as a member of the county council.

Victim of Filling Station Bandit Dies of Gun Wound

James Sallis, 35 years old, colored, 3800 South Park way, died in Provident hospital yesterday of a gunshot wound in his abdomen. Sallis was shot Tuesday by a colored bandit who held up a filling station at 3723 Michigan avenue where Sallis was an attendant.

SAYS BISHOP'S LOAN WENT TO BUY CABARET

money around, but he wasn't afraid to turn it loose. There was always something for the head waiter and those who served him. He liked to have entertainers croon songs to him across the bar and he usually gave them a dollar at least per song.

"The bishop's bill generally ran between $40 and $60. He came in about once a month. Sometimes Mrs. Ablewhite was along." [In an emphatic statement Tuesday the churchman stoutly defended his privilege of eating and drinking for pleasure and of visiting night clubs. His wife was with him on most of his trips, he said.]

Asks Bishop for a Loan.

Hamilton said he asked the bishop last December for a loan. The loan was made strictly as an investment by the Rt. Rev. Ablewhite.

Charles Hepp, who had been the waiter captain's employer at Harry's New York bar, said he thought the bishop had made a bad deal and told him so one night when they met at the Rose Bowl, another near north side resort.

The Little Club and the bishop ran into difficulties at about the same time—March of this year. Hamilton's last meeting with his benefactor was at the Continental Illinois bank building after the churchman had conferred with Attorney Herbert A. Friedlich.

Recalls Bishop's Admission.

"He began by telling me he had a confession to make," Hamilton recalled yesterday. "He said he was not in the steel business at all—that he was the bishop of Marquette.

"I told him that his being a bishop was okay with me. Then I broke the news that the club was about to fold up. He didn't ask for his money back or anything. We parted the best of friends and that is the last I ever saw of the Bishop of Marquette."

Attorney Friedlich, whom the Rt. Rev. Ablewhite had consulted, said he acted for him about ten days. Then he advised that a Marquette lawyer be retained.

Other Checks Traced.

Along with the checks that led to Hamilton, investigators for the diocese found others indorsed by Pete de Quatro, former proprietor of the Minuet club. Last night De Quatro said he didn't know the bishop personally and that his name on the checks probably indicated he had merely indorsed them after they had been taken in by the club. The checks totaled $100.

Meanwhile, further efforts were being made to trace Harry Lyons' career in Chicago. It was found that he was a member of the Illinois Athletic club from 1931 to 1935 and that his membership had been canceled after nonpayment of dues.

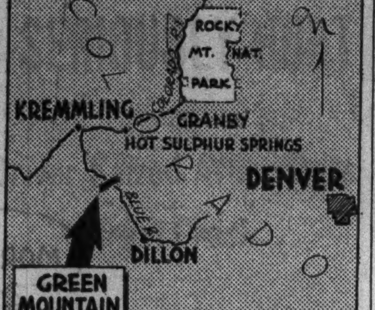
It was at this club that he was picked up by John Rossman, his chauffeur, on the March day in 1935 when Lyons went to New York, never to return.

Bishop Ablewhite yesterday was awaiting action by the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States, to whom he has submitted a statement covering all his financial dealings. The statement will clear his name when it is released, Bishop Ablewhite asserts.

Bishop Tucker has declined to say when he will make public the document. Until he does so Bishop Ablewhite is restrained by ecclesiastical regulations from discussing it. His resignation will be considered in November by the House of Bishops, meeting in St. Louis.

Labor Battle

(Story in adjoining column.)



Arrow marks Green Mountain dam site, where three persons were reported wounded when "back to work" forces clashed with union pickets.

COUNCIL GROUP STUDIES CLAIMS OF RIVAL UNIONS

A dispute between rival unions involving the city's 740 truck drivers and helpers was laid before the city council labor committee yesterday. The men are members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, local 726, of the American Federation of Labor.

Representatives of the Chicago Teamsters' union, an independent group, said they had received applications for membership from 550 city drivers who want to leave the brotherhood. The aldermen were asked to supervise an election to determine which union shall represent the men.

Attorney Dan Carmell, counsel for the brotherhood, countered by introducing a petition he said was signed by 700 of the 740 men. The petition stated that they were satisfied with local 726 and that an election was unnecessary.

WORKERS BATTLE PICKETS FOR JOBS ON DAM PROJECT

3 Reported Wounded in Mountain Clash.

BULLETIN.

Green Mountain Dam, Colo., Aug. 2 (AP).—Gov. Ralph L. Carr proclaimed martial law tonight in the Green Mountain dam strike zone after a second shooting clash between union sympathizers and strike foes.

Green Mountain Dam, Colo., Aug. 2 [Special].—Three union sympathizers were reported wounded today in a clash between union pickets and a "back to work' force of nonunion workers, ranchers, and townspeople near the Green mountain dam project in northwestern Colorado.

The clash occurred when pickets advanced on the federal project site, held last night by the "back to work force" which is fighting for a resumption of work on the dam. About 100 shots were fired in the mêlée.

Union Contracts Refused.

A strike was called at the project July 12 by five American Federation of Labor building trades crafts demanding union recognition contracts. These contracts were refused, however, by the Warner Construction company of Chicago, the contractor.

Before the armed clash a bridge on highway 9 south of the project was dynamited, blocking approach to the dam from Dillon, about thirty miles south of the dam. The pickets charged the bridge was blasted by strike foes in an attempt to block reenforcements of union sympathizers on their way to the scene from Denver.

Blockade Bars Approach.

The Green Mountain dam is a part of the $44,000,000 Colorado-Big Thompson transmountain diversion project. The New Deal scheme provides for the pumping of water up the western slope of the mountains to the eastern slope. The water running down the eastern slope in turn would generate power to pump the water up the western slope. The project has been criticized as a perpetual motion scheme.

RESCINDS WPA ORDER TO DISCHARGE 54,000 18 MONTH RELIEFERS

Charles E. Miner, Illinois Work Projects administrator, yesterday rescinded his order of Tuesday evening that the 54,000 WPA workers who have been on their jobs for 18 months or more be discharged as rapidly as possible. He acted on directions from Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner.

The new WPA law passed at the end of June provides that all those who come under the 18 month rule must be discharged before Sept. 1. A rider on the spend-lend bill, defeated by congress Tuesday, would have abrogated this provision of the new WPA law. On the basis of the rider, Harrington last week ordered the dismissals held up pending congressional action on the spend-lend bill.

1,000 ARMOUR WORKERS VOTE ON C. I. O. TODAY

One thousand employés in the Armour & Co. soap plant at 1355 West 31st street will decide at an election today whether the Packinghouse Workers' Organizing committee, an affiliate of John L. Lewis' Congress of Industrial Organizations, shall act as their bargaining agent. The election will be held in a garage at 3109 Throop street and will be supervised by agents of the National Labor Relations board.

The NLRB ordered the election to determine whether workers in the soap plant wish to be represented by the P. W. O. C., which has threatened to call a nation-wide strike against Armour & Co. unless the packing firm enters into negotiations for a national contract with the union.

The city council committee on labor relations yesterday accepted the report of Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th] on his recent attempts to avert the threatened strike and decided to present it to the city council next Tuesday.

WIFE FREED IN ASSAULT.

Mrs. Leona Dowling, 35 years old, 4656 Dover street, was released yesterday in the Felony court. She had been charged with assaulting her husband, William A., 50, with a hammer and a razor on June 25.

THE REPUBLIC'S RISING SUN.

The Roosevelt revolution seems to have reached its crest Tuesday when it broke against a wall of congressional opposition. Later this may be seen as wholly true. The advance may have been checked when the house of representatives refused to consider the fourth economic plan as it came back from the senate. If so, the American system of government has been saved.

The house of representatives did more than reject a spending bill of several billions. The fourth economic plan was projected from the political thesis that private finance and private industry have failed and that in the seventh year of Mr. Roosevelt's depression proof of the inability of the old system to work is conclusive.

The acceptance of that idea by congress would have cleared the ground for the introduction of state socialism. Mr. Roosevelt, as usual, disguised the intent, but his experts did not. They said that, whether one liked it or not, the federal lending of money to business could be expected to have as its result the substitution of governmentally managed enterprise for private enterprise. The federal administrator would follow the federal dollar.

The White House privy council is composed of collectivists. Their plan has been first to attain a position where they could say that free economy had broken down and could not supply and distribute the goods the people needed. By taxation, repressive laws, and unjust and restrictive regulation they sought to sterilize private funds, impose risks without profit, increase costs, discourage enterprisers, and disturb the relations of employer and employé. Great success attended these efforts. This year, in preparation for 1940, the planners were ready to buy their way into the control of the production and distribution of goods.

What Mr. Roosevelt had to say was what he had said for the other three new economy plans in spite of their failure. The federal government must pour out its money so that people might be put back to work and that the national income might be boosted to 80 billion dollars and then on to 100 billions. Debt and deficit did not worry him.

In April, 1938, proposing his third great economic plan of recovery by expenditure, deficit, and debt, he said that this spending need not give any concern to the citizens, "as it will return to the people of the United States many times over in increased buying power." He said it was only sound morality, as well as a sound distribution of buying power, that the benefits of the prosperity coming from the use of this [federal] money should be distributed among all the people, at the bottom as well as the top. At this very time Mr. Roosevelt was contemplating the consequences of the two preceding economic programs which were to have floated the people back to prosperity, out of the unemployment and insecurity, on a flood of treasury dollars.

The recovery of '37 had worked its way through the violent C. I. O. attack upon such major industries as motors and steel, only to collapse in the fall of the year. In '38 Mr. Roosevelt had his explanation of that. The government had not spent enough for one thing. For another the industrialists had fallen back into the evil practices of the pre-Rooseveltian era. They had overproduced, overspeculated, and piled up goods without increasing the purchasing power of the people. Consequently there was another breakdown and a third great economic spending program, contemplating the expenditure of 4 billion 500 million dollars, had to be undertaken.

Mr. Roosevelt expounded his theories in his message to congress April 14 last year and the same evening, in a fireside chat, he explained the humanities and economic soundness of his views to the people. Congress yielded to the New Dealers and the third effort of the managed society was on its way.

In talking to congress and the people on that occasion Mr. Roosevelt said that "appeals to prejudice, the creation of unkindness, are offenses not against an individual or individuals but offenses against the whole population of the United States." Later in the month, however, he sent another message which revealed his economic ideas more truthfully and his purposes more precisely. Statistics of the bureau of internal revenue, he said, contained "the following amazing figures for 1935: Of all corporations reporting from every part of the nation, one-tenth of one per cent of them owned 52 per cent of the assets of all of them. Of all the corporations reporting from every part of the country one-tenth of one per cent of them earned 50 per cent of the net income of all of them." That was the giveaway of intent. With the assertion that "private enterprise is ceasing to be free enterprise and is becoming a cluster of private collectivisms," he asked congress to undertake the inquiry into monopolies. The temporary national economic committee became the sounding board for the plans and predictions of the collectivists.

When the propaganda work was thought to have been effectively done and the hopeless condition of private finance and enterprise sufficiently emphasized this year, the fourth economic plan—the spending and lending bills—were sent to congress. That they would go through was at first conceded, but the New Deal experts had covered the ground too thoroughly. The state socialism behind the plan was recognized and identified. The political idea was revealed. Congress has not been economy minded. It has even boosted some of Mr. Roosevelt's appropriations. The problem of government debt and costs remains untouched.

This has been a spending congress, all right, but it did reject a political idea back of which stood the New Deal and every communist, collectivist, and revolutionary in the country. That is why it may be said that the revolution reached its crest when it hit the wall of opposition in the house of representatives. If the wall had not been there the citizens later might have been asking themselves whether they preferred Fascism or communism.

Benjamin Franklin said the last day of the constitutional convention, when the work was done and the document ready, that he had often looked at the sun painted on the back of the presiding officer's chair and had wondered whether for the republic it was the rising or the setting sun. It was, he thought that day, the rising sun. Possibly now we can share his confidence.

TURTLES VS. GOLDFISH.

The ratio of goldfish to turtles in captivity at present may be safely estimated at ninety-eight to one and, if an existing trend continues, the day may be not far off when we will see as many as 300 goldfish to every single turtle in American homes. This is not a quite happy condition when it is considered that the turtle is a vastly superior pet.

What has a goldfish got that the turtle hasn't? The answer, of course, is nothing. A goldfish can swim. So can a turtle. A goldfish will thrive in small quarters, which is a great convenience to apartment dwellers, but the sized turtle we're thinking about can spot a goldfish fourteen cubic inches any time and yet possess living space beyond Hitler's wildest dreams. A goldfish utters no cry, but a well trained turtle will make the gurglings around the average fish bowl sound like the noon trafic at State and Madison by comparison.

The true test of a pet, as Bob Becker will tell you, is whether he is loyal, well mannered, and affectionate. We are ready to concede that the goldfish is well mannered, and he may be loyal in a stolid way, but has anybody yet seen one truly affectionate?

But a turtle! Ah, there is affection! Just hold one of the little fellows to your cheek and watch him blink with pleasure. Put your turtle on the parlor rug and see how eagerly he dashes at a bit of beefsteak on a toothpick. Observe how he cocks up his little head when you enter the room. Careful nurturing of a turtle will repay you many times in love and devotion.

A goldfish, on the other hand, is one of the cagyist individuals in the world. Fed, he levels a suspicious eye at you and then waits until you're at a safe distance before he gobbles up his food. Save for feeding time, he's as oblivious to humankind as the stones that adorn his bowl. It is little wonder that a dull, vitrified optical condition in humans has long been described as "fishy-eyed."

The pet fish store people [who sell turtles, too] will tell you that a goldfish eats very little. But don't be deceived. A goldfish is in the water all of the time and you will observe that he is pretty generally wiggling his tail. That uses up energy and requires food. The turtle, however, will sleep in his shell for days while you are on vacation and during such periods he eats nothing at all. Why the pet fish stores don't recognize this and make the most of it is simply one of life's mysteries.

Another thing about the goldfish, and it's probably the most damning of all: there is a strong suspicion that the fellow who wrote the song about the "itty bitty fishies" that negotiated the dam did so right after bathing his eyes in the goldfish bowl on a not too auspicious morning. If this is true, and many people will consider it so until goldfish fanciers can show to the contrary, the goldfish must bear the blame for some of the dizziest syncopation and prattle we've heard since "Jada Jada, Jing Jing Jing" was a favorite.

THE ISSUE IS LAW.

[From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

The issue at the Fisher Body plant so far as it affects the public is not one of wages or hours or working conditions.

The issue is law and order.

When several thousand pickets gather before a factory they are there for something else than legitimate picketing. They are there looking for trouble. And they are ready to meet trouble more than half way.

Yesterday's clash between pickets and police at Fisher Body was civil war. It was a revolt against authority; a studied, deliberate attempt to thwart the law and set mob violence above the state.

The only way a self-respecting community can meet a challenge like this is to meet it with force.

The right to strike is no more sacred than the right not to strike. Men who choose to continue work at Fisher Body, in spite of the fact that some of their colleagues walk out, are entitled to the full protection of law as they enter and leave the plant and go about their personal business.

The broken heads that came out of yesterday's mêlée are a malign tribute to the efficiency of out of town talent brought here to increase the tempo of the strike. Irresponsible, indifferent to civilized restraints, these tough gents from other cities direct the picketing into paths of disorder.

Representatives of the law conducted themselves with admirable restraint under most trying circumstances. For this the community—as well as pickets and strikers—should be thankful. But if mob violence does break out again, every consideration of the public welfare requires that the utmost force be used to maintain law and protect the order of the community.

"REVOLUTIONARY FRONT."

[Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.]

A witness at the Bridges deportation hearing in San Francisco who had spent considerable time in the inner circles of communism in this country was asked if a member of the party might leave the United States to live in Russia.

He replied that that could not be done, because it would be "deserting the revolutionary front" to go to a country where the revolution already had been completed.

It was a reminder that the communists, no matter how much they may deny intention of a violent overthrow of the American government, always think in terms of a revolution. Their goal is nothing less than substitution of the Moscow system for the American.

THE UNKNOWN HISTORIAN.

Alfred T. Andreas, editor and publisher of the standard "History of Chicago" [three enormous volumes, 1884-1885]: Who was he?

This question was put to the libraries of Chicago, upon whose shelves "Andreas" has an honored place, and the unanimous answer was: "No information available." Encyclopædias of biography were searched; periodical indexes were consulted; envelopes of clippings were ransacked, but Andreas remained a mystery. The public, the Historical society's, the municipal reference, the Tribune's—all reported no luck in the quest.

Then Herma Clark, specialist in the lore of old Chicago, supplied a death date, and we dug Andreas out of the news of Feb. 11, 1900, in the files of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the New York Times. Here you are, librarians:

He came to Chicago in 1872, out of Iowa and southern Illinois after marching through Georgia. He had risen from the ranks to lieutenant, quartermaster, and division commissary officer; he was generally called Capt. Andreas. His war record included Forts Henry and Donelson, Shiloh, Corinth, and Sherman's sweeping proof to the confederacy that war is hell. He was troubled through life by an old wound in the right arm. Amputation nearly forty years later caused his death.

Capt. Andreas was a keen hand at business promotions on a large scale. Soon after his arrival in Chicago he went through bankruptcy because he had signed an insolvent banker's notes in the amount of $132,000. His history, compiled against the handicap of destruction of official records in the great fire of 1871, was a financial success. He also promoted and operated popular panorama exhibitions: The Battle of Shiloh, the Monitor and the Merrimac, the Crucifixion, the Battle of Bull Run, the Battle of Gettysburg.

At the time of the Columbian Exposition he speculated in hotels and a transportation system, and lost most of his fortune. A few years later he moved to New Rochelle, N. Y., where he died.

"This history is the product of many hands," wrote Andreas in his preface. Among the important contributors and compilers were I. N. Arnold, Albert Hagar, John Wentworth, Gurdon S. Hubbard, Philo Carpenter, Thomas Hoyne, and Judge John D. Caton.

[After this was written Carl B. Roden of the public library emerged from the archives with an account of Andreas in a memorial volume published by the Illinois Commandery of the Loyal Legion, in which he had been active.]

LIFE IN THREE MOODS.

Sometimes
Life is to me as a long corridor
Where doors open and people walk briskly forth
Down the long hall where other doors open
And they disappear.

Sometimes
Life is to me as a peaceful bank
By a little brook where violet and clover blooms
Step lightly down to the brink and bend each
A listening ear.

But life is to me
As a Greek colt on the crest of a hill
Given from the gods to man

TRACHOMA ON THE WANE.

TRACHOMA is a highly contagious disease of the membrane which lines the eyelids and covers the eyeball. It is very common in certain parts of the world, for example Egypt and Palestine, and in those countries is an important cause of blindness. In some sections of the United States it is rife, particularly among the plains Indians and the mountaineers of Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri. Years ago migration into southern Illinois resulted in the establishment of a well recognized focus of the disorder. Sporadic cases may appear anywhere and most eye physicians number among their patients one or more victims.

In its early stages the condition is responsible for few symptoms. Diagnosis depends upon the character of the secretion, sensitivity to light, and profuse tearing. The inner surface of the lids is covered with red nodules or granulations, from which the ailment takes one of its names: granular conjunctivitis. Later the cornea, or clear part of the eye, is affected, with the formation of ulcers and the invasion of enlarged blood vessels. As we can understand, these changes interfere greatly with vision. The cause of the disease is not a visible bacillus but a filterable virus, on which extensive research is being done in this country and abroad.

If the infection is observed early any skilled ophthalmologist can accomplish a cure without the slightest danger to sight. Neglected, however, so much destruction may have occurred that perfect function cannot be restored. Under such circumstances about all that can be hoped for is that the progress of the malady will be arrested.

Treatment has been carried out for centuries chiefly by the use of copper sulfate and other astringent drugs. The granules usually are opened and squeezed with forceps, following which a crystal of the copper salt is applied. This procedure must be continued at intervals for from six months to a year. When ulcerations occur other chemicals must be resorted to. Where trachoma is well advanced the eyelashes have a tendency to turn inward, irritating the ball. This must be corrected by a plastic operation on the lids.

Recently it has been found that the new compound, sulfanilamide, has a curative effect. The preparation is taken by mouth. Many individuals can be relieved entirely by this means if the drug is administered early. Care must be exercised, however, as some persons react badly to its influence; in other words, it must be employed under the critical eye of an alert physician.

Prevention, after all, is our goal, as a large amount of suffering and expense will be saved. To this end the Indian bureau and certain state welfare departments are engaged in an attempt to clear up the hotbeds of trachoma which remain within our borders. The problem is one of educating the people to good hygiene of the eyes, early detection of the disease—which occurs frequently in children, and the proper handling of cases when they are discovered. Personal habits of cleanliness are essential if dissemination is to be avoided. Each individual must have his own toilet equipment—towels, soap, etc., and great care must be taken to wash the hands often and not to touch the eyes. Separate sleeping accommodations are desirable.

While the situation is much more difficult in such countries as Egypt where approximately 90 per cent of the population is infected, the time is approaching rapidly when it can be discarded as a major health menace in America. It is reported that in one of the Indian reservations in the southwest—formerly heavily afflicted—the disease has been practically wiped out, and the same thing is taking place among other tribes.

Now and then the condition is confused with milder forms of chronic conjunctivitis common to youngsters. Laboratory tests are of value in establishing a diagnosis, but great accuracy is necessary. When a member of a family is known to harbor the disease all should be examined, as it is quite possible that spread already has taken place. Needless to say, every one showing the slightest evidence of trouble should be under skilled management.

Milk that has been treated with ultraviolet light to increase the vitamin D content.

DIET AND DEAFNESS.

A. Z. writes: Are there any foods which are more beneficial than others to a person who is hard of hearing?

THE GIANT RAGWEEDS.

Chicago, July 31.—I read with interest Dr. Cutter's article on hay fever in yesterday's TRIBUNE. I have been a hay fever sufferer for years, and each year I wonder why the giant ragweeds are not cut before they mature and cause so much suffering. They are surely in their glory this summer. Chicago is surrounded with miles of them. Many are from six to eight feet high. Dr. Cutter says they not only cause suffering, but also rob the soil of important minerals and nitrogen. Why cumber the ground with such a pest? With all the millions from taxes spent in various ways in Chicago it seems to me some of it could not be spent to better advantage or give more comfort to thousands of taxpayers than to cut these weeds. It also would give work to many unemployed. But now is the time. A month hence will be too late.

A GOOD DETECTIVE STORY.

Dubuque, Ia., July 31.—In connection with your editorial setting forth the interesting study of the story of Ehud and Eglon as the first mystery story, it may be pointed out that an even better detective story is found in the Old Testament Apocrypha. It has criminals, a secret passageway, and a detective. Every night the idol, Bel, consumed twelve bushels of fine flour, forty sheep, and fifty gallons of wine. King Cyrus called in the great detective, Daniel, who scattered ashes in front of the idol. In the morning the footprints betrayed the fact that the priests had taken the food.

HUSBAND AND WIFE TEACHING.

Chicago, July 31.—Please let me speak my word for the teachers—in the double pay roll controversy.

My wife and I are city teachers. We were teaching before our marriage. If her resignation had been required at that time it would have acted to penalize marriage. This is legally understood to be contrary to public policy.

Since our marriage we have been able to educate our children and they are fine young people who are a credit to the city. We have employed laundresses and housekeepers, and have been able to contribute to many civic enterprises. We pay our debts and our taxes.

Without influence or political pull we obtained our positions. We passed rigid competitive examinations, which were open to all qualified persons.

Most principals will tell you that married women are among their most efficient teachers. A famous old book states, "Training children is the staple work of the human race." Comparatively few people have the innate love for children, the patience, tact, and personality necessary for the effective training of future good citizens.

If jobs are to be divided up and leveled off, the standard of service must of necessity deteriorate. And the next logical step would be the equalization of property. I am sure the United States will ever steer clear of communism.

COMMON SENSE.

FOOD AT NEW YORK FAIR.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Kindly exercise a little of your much advertised fairness and listen to the voice of a native New Yorker crying in this wilderness of Chicago.

Your crazy stories of excessive prices for food at the New York Fair are either untrue or only half true. For example, today's headline, "New York Fair Dinner Costs $11." You can pay that much for dinner at the fair, it's true, and if you think you can dine at a superswank French or Italian restaurant for any less you simply haven't been around.

On the other hand, there are numerous restaurants at the fair where 40 to 50 cent lunches and 50 to 75 cent dinners are the order of the day, and I found the food in these places to be consistently wholesome, well cooked [example, Borden's, Childs', Y. M. C. A., etc].

GEORGE III. AND ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, July 31.—As history is experience in print, why not study Mr. Roosevelt in comparison with George III. instead of Pericles? King George was immensely popular with the unthinking masses as well as the tax eaters of his time. Study his control of parliament through patronage and use of treasury money; the huge increase of public debt, calling all who refused to obey traitors; surrounding himself with "yes" men, etc.

George III. cost England half of North America. What Roosevelt will cost the United States is going to be aplenty. Let's stop him while we have time.

GEORGE WILLIAMS.

PREFERS GARNER TO LEWIS.

Rockford, Ill., July 29.—The unfortunate people who are trying to exist on the starvation wages that the WPA is paying should be made to understand they cannot hope for any change for the better, for a real job at decent wages, until we have a change of administration at Washington, with the elimination of the demagogues, including the labor racketeers, who are fomenting social unrest, hatred of employers and investors, and pursuing policies so destructive that the communists give them their vociferous approval.

By the way, I think I would rather have "Cactus Jack" Garner for my boss than rip roaring John L. Lewis.

PAY ROLLERS SIGNING UP?

Chicago, July 30.—I note that Judge Gutknecht is pictured as signing the "Draft Roosevelt" for a third term.

As an American citizen, born in Missouri, with parents and forefathers born in this country, I am opposed to a third term, and the thought occurred to me: "Are these signers as pictured the highly paid employés on the city pay roll, and their wives and combination on the pay rolls?"

Furthermore, I think it sound advice that Judge Gutknecht stick to enforcing laws already in vogue and not attempt to cook up new movements detrimental to our nation.

SENSIBLE SPELLING.

Chicago, July 30.—Evan S. Tonian pays you a high compliment. His son has sense enough, evidently, to appreciate the advantage of the sensible spelling advocated and used by THE TRIBUNE. [It is a pity that some of his elders do not.] So Evan S. Tonian paid a tutor to break the boy of logical spelling and to keep him in the fog of the prehistoric monstrosities still perpetrated in our spelling books.

COURT PROCEDURE.

Chicago, July 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I received a court judgment. The defendant was not represented but a person named [2] G. requested the court to put this case aside. Several weeks later I received the judgment and wanted to take execution. When I got the file I learned the case was dead.

3. They had had another court hearing and I did not appear.

4. How could I appear and defend the case when I didn't get summons?

5. Is this lawful?

6. Can they do this?

7. Isn't it the judge's duty to see that or to find out whether or not the summons has been served? When the defendant or this man G. sees he can get away with this and offers me a new hearing but wants me to take out new papers, free of charge, [8] will I have to do this?

9. If the defendant or this man G. decides to summon me for another trial or hearing will I have to go?

10. Would or rather is this question in No. 3 legal?

11. Are all judges sworn in for duty? If I have to fight further and I could get no lawyer to fight this case, [12] what would you advise me to do?

13. Can't I personally bring this case to the attention of the high court because it involves two judges.

C. H. K.

1. It seems possible that you may be mistaken in assuming that you received the judgment.

2. Are you sure that this request was not complied with?

3. If at the first hearing the only thing that was done was to enter a judgment in your favor it is incredible that the court would have set aside a judgment without notice to you. We are confident that something further was done. Perhaps a motion for new trial was entered in connection with the original judgment. If you failed to be present on the date set for hearing this motion, this will account for the result which surprises you.

4. We cannot advise without having the facts more clearly before us.

5. It would not be lawful to reopen the judgment without notice to you unless it was by virtue of a previous continuance.

6. The fact that they have done what they have done answers the question as to whether they can do it.

7. Yes, but we do not understand how any question as to service of a summons is involved.

8. We cannot advise without knowing more exactly what was done.

9. Your reference to summoning you implies that you are the defendant, but your opening sentence sounds as if you were the plaintiff.

10. See preceding answers.

11. Yes.

12. Your letter indicates that you do not understand what has been done and

13. It does not seem likely that you would succeed in handling such a case for yourself.

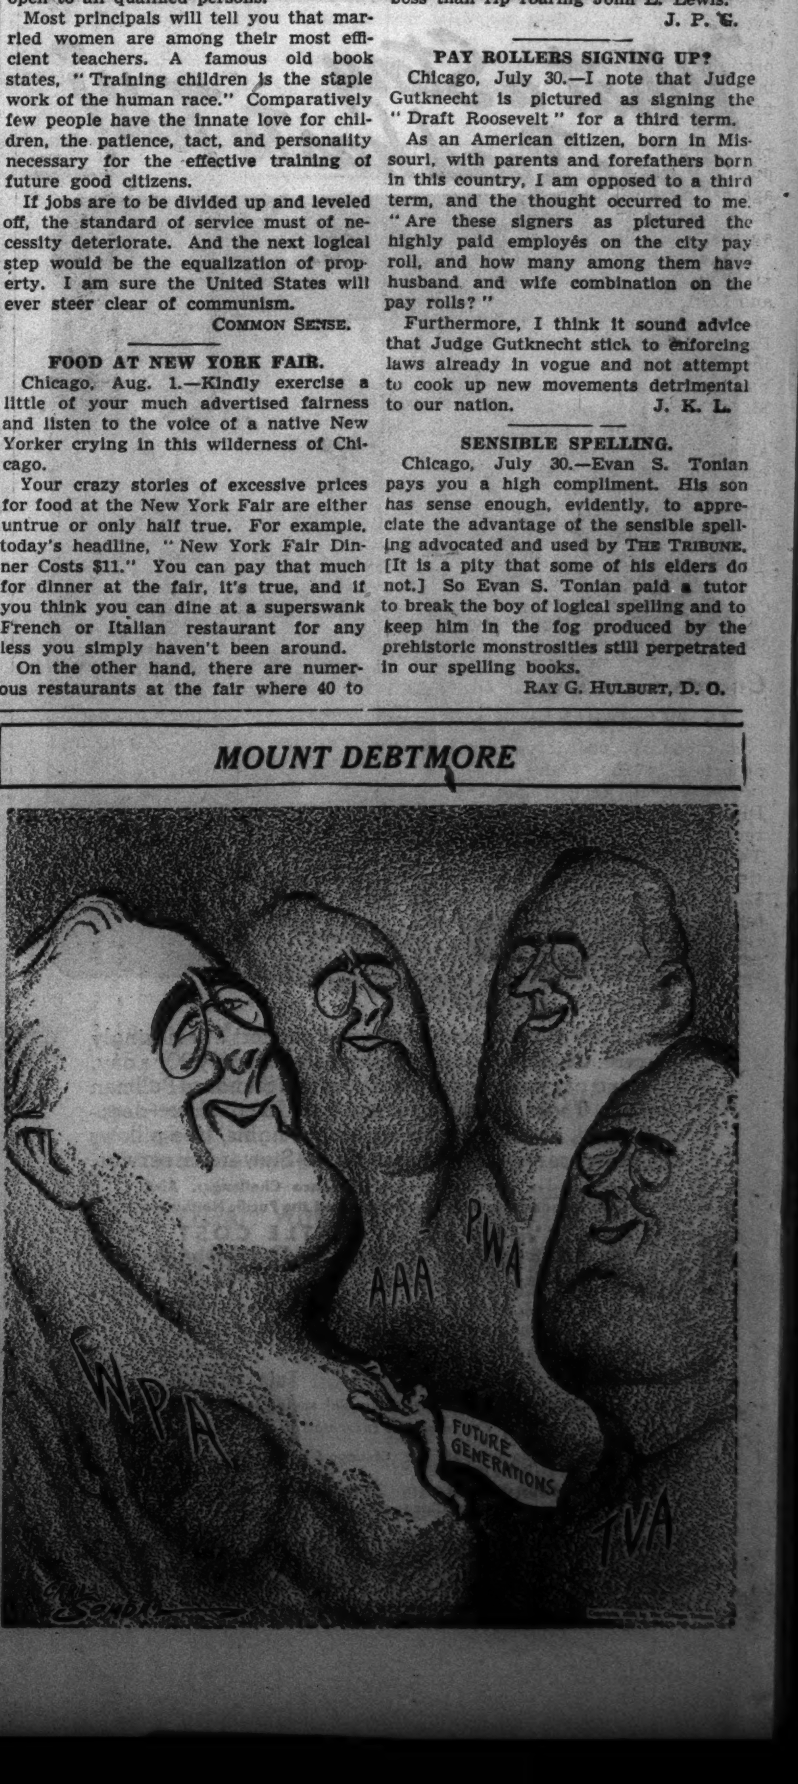
MOUNT DEBTMORE



CONSTANT WATCH PROTECTS DRIVER FROM EXTORTION

Motor Club Head Tells of War on Speed Traps.

A constant watch on the activities of certain villages in Cook county is necessary to prevent drivers from being victimized by speed traps and other highway rackets, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, said yesterday. Some of these "fake towns," as Mr. Hayes described them, apparently were incorporated only to extort revenue from unwary motorists, he said.

"There do not seem to be any speed traps in operation at present," Hayes said, "for the smashing of the trap at Dixmoor last November had a salutary effect on other communities which might have had similar ideas. Owing to the vigilance of the state's attorney's office and the motor club, motorists now are sure of fair treatment on the highways around Chicago."

Villages Already Investigated.

Among villages which have been investigated in the last year on complaints of speed traps or other unfair treatment of motorists are Dixmoor, Stone Park, Crestwood, Phoenix, and Calumet Park.

Dixmoor, a village of 944 on the Dixie highway, east of Western avenue, was the scene of the most notorious speed trap in the county. The village, formerly known as Specialville after its mayor, Charles A. Special, was incorporated in 1922, but as far back as 1915 it had been the subject of motorists' complaints.

Special, Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun and three village policemen were convicted last November of conspiracy to extort money from motorists. Each of the defendants was sentenced to a year in jail. Special and Braun were also fined $2,000 each and the three policemen were fined $500 each. The convictions are being appealed. A month later the village board ousted the policemen and Braun resigned under pressure.

Laborer Sets Up Court.

Stone Park, situated east of Mannheim road between Lake street and North avenue, was incorporated last May 12 in an effort to get federal funds for water and sewerage systems. It has a population of about 300. Byron Tuttle, a resident, set himself up as a special policeman at Mannheim road and North avenue. Oscar Morissett, a WPA laborer, was elected magistrate.

Taking advantage of a grade separation at the intersection so designed that it encourages autoists to violate trafic rules, Tuttle brought forty-seven drivers before Morissett from June 30 to July 9. Fines and costs totaling $156 were assessed against thirty-one of the defendants.

Leslie J. Smith, attorney for the motor club, investigated and told the village it had no state highway jurisdiction. Morissett then returned the fines and Tuttle's policing is now confined to the village proper.

Two Villages Investigated.

The villages of Crestwood and Calumet Park were investigated by the state's attorney's office last December. At that time Police Chief Leo H. Sender of Crestwood was arrested on a charge of larceny of license plates from a motorist. Crestwood, incorporated in 1928, has a population of 500 and is situated between Cicero avenue and Pulaski road, south of the Calumet Sag channel. It was brought out that the village had an income of $300 a month from trafic fines.

Sender received $225 a month as police chief and superintendent of public works. The larceny charge against him was dismissed and there have been no recent complaints against the village.

Calumet Park is bounded by Halsted street, Ashland avenue, 119th and 129th streets. It was incorporated in 1912 and has a population of 3,110. Prior to the inquiry, it had been taking in $4,200 a year from fines and had a two man police force, paid $3,200 annually.

The village of Phoenix, which lies along Halsted street, between 138th and 146th streets, was incorporated in 1900 and now has a population of 3,000. In July, 1938, complaints were made of an obscure stop sign in the village at the intersection of the Dixie highway and Illinois route 54. Village police were accused of lying in wait there to trap autoists. A larger stop sign was ordered installed.

County Gets $7,650 to Hire 15 Women Sherif's Aids

The county board yesterday appropriated $7,650 to hire fifteen additional women deputy sherifs if the Illinois Supreme court upholds the recently passed woman jurors' act. The sherif now has two women deputies. The board also appropriated $2,268 to employ three extra clerks for the jury commissioners during the remainder of the year.

CHIEF OF POLICE AT FOREST VIEW FREED IN BEATING

A charge of assault and battery against Joseph Reposh, the chief of police of Forest View, was dismissed yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl of Willow Springs.

The complainant, Barney Brooks, 4519 Harlem avenue, Forest View, was unable to produce witnesses to support his charge that he had been beaten by Reposh and James Carroll, owner of a Forest View tavern.

Justice Pendl quashed a warant containing a similar charge against Carroll. It had not been served because Carroll is in the county jail, accused of failing to turn in $2,165 he collected as a part time salesman for a fuel company.

CAR HITS CROWD ON CORNER; TWO SERIOUSLY HURT

Driver Seized After State Street Crash.

Two persons were seriously injured yesterday when an automobile traveling at high speed careened around a corner and struck a group of persons boarding a street car at State and Harrison streets.

Those hurt are Miss Edith Winters, 20 years old, 5447 Greenwood avenue, and Carl Smith, 27, of 2030 Indiana avenue. They were taken to St. Luke's hospital. Several others were knocked to the street. E. A. Nelson, the street car motorman, was injured slightly.

The driver, Eugene Brooks, 30, colored, 3853 Langley avenue, was locked up at the Central police station. Police said Brooks had just taken a friend to the Central police building to appear in Trafic court.

Boy on Bicycle Killed.

Lewis Erickson, 17 years old, 3980 Avondale avenue, was killed and his brother, Richard, 14, was injured early today when their bicycles were struck by an automobile on Route 54, just outside Gray's Lake, in Lake county. They had been vacationing at Cedar lake, near Lake Villa, and were returning to Chicago on their bicycles. They were riding without lights, police said.

On a curve they were struck by an automobile driven by John Bowman Jr., 30, of Lake Villa. The boys were taken to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan, but Lewis was dead on arrival there. Richard's injuries are not serious.

Killed When Car Leaves Road.

Charles Womack, 70, of 1745 Madison street, was killed, and his son, Ben, 29, was seriously injured when the son's car left route 54 on a curve in the village of Glenwood, hit a tree and the corner of a barn.

Robert Stephens, 12, of 2334 Wayne avenue, died in Children's Memorial hospital of injuries incurred Tuesday when he rode his bicycle into the side of an automobile at Lincoln avenue and Altgeld street.

Minnie Pollier, 4, colored, 4310 State street, was fatally injured last night when she ran into the street while playing near her home and was struck by a truck driven by Harry Fulkerson, 19, of Mediapolis, Ia.

Driver Freed of Charge.

Twenty-four members of a hay ride party were hurled to the pavement June 4 when an automobile struck the wagon south of Park Ridge. Thirteen were injured, four of them seriously. One of the injured was Miss Beverly Asher, 20, of 4452 Lexington street. Her father, Julius Asher, filed a charge of driving while intoxicated against the motorist, Reginald Albers, 29, of 835 Forest avenue, Oak Park.

Albers was freed of the charge yesterday by Justice of the Peace Elmer J. Tone in the Morton Grove county highway police station. Attorneys for Albers and Asher said they had agreed to the dismissal.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 470 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of this number, 365 were killed in Chicago, where 12,313 were injured in trafic accidents in the same period.

Hit by Auto

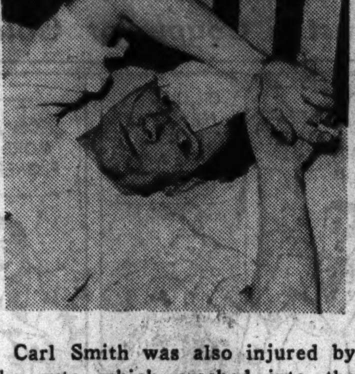
Edith Winters in St. Luke's hospital after she had been struck at State and Harrison streets by car of Eugene Brooks, colored, as she waited to board street car.



Carl Smith was also injured by the auto which crashed into the street car at high speed.

LIST VIOLATIONS ON DRIVING CARD, COURT DEMANDS

Investigate Laxity in Law Enforcement.

An investigation of allegedly lax enforcement of the drivers' license law was begun in the Safety court yesterday. Police said there was no notation of a previous conviction on the license card of Miss Joan Meriault, 26 years old, when she was arrested last Saturday.

Miss Meriault did not appear in court Monday to face a charge of reckless driving. Her $50 bond was forfeited and Policeman James Alesia, the arresting officer, was told to find her. He sought her in vain.

Driving Privileges Suspended.

"I learned she was the same Joan Meriault who was placed on probation for six months and had her driving privileges suspended for the same period on June 29," Alesia said. "Had her driver's license shown this, as the law provides, she would not have been released Saturday on low bail."

In June she was sentenced to five days in jail for driving while intoxicated, but this penalty was later vacated by Judge Thomas A. Green, who placed her on probation.

Clerks in the Safety court said yesterday they couldn't remember whether they had recorded the June conviction on her license card. They weren't sure they had seen the card.

Assigns Task to Clerks.

The clerks said they were under the impression it was up to the judge to ask for the license cards. Judge Francis Borrelli, who has been sitting in the Safety court since Monday, declared it is henceforth the clerks' duty to get the cards and notify the presiding judge if the defendant does not have one.

In Saturday's accident, said Policeman Alesia, Miss Meriault admitted she had been drinking before her car struck two automobiles parked in front of 232 South Loomis street. She gave her address as 1404 West 63d place. Yesterday he found she had moved from there after her arrest. She formerly operated a tavern in Stickney, she told police.

VETERAN HANGS HIMSELF.

Forest Chief to Survey Washington, D. C., Parks

Charles G. Sauers, superintendent of the forest preserve district, yesterday was appointed by Secretary of the Interior Ickes to make a survey of the parks system in Washington.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Fifty-one singers—tenors, contraltos, and baritones—who live on the north side of Chicago will compete at 7 o'clock tonight for places in the Chicagoland Music Festival Cook county vocal finals. They will sing in the grand ballroom of the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Naomi la Bree.

Virginia Ott.

Tomorrow night sopranos, mezzos, and basses will compete at the same place. An admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Each contestant will sing one selected number. The judges tonight will be Mary Ann Kaufman, Arthur Burton, and Mae Barron. Tomorrow night they will be Raymond Koch, Lawrence Salerno and Elaine De Sellem. Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler is chairman of the festival vocal and choral contests.

Winners will appear in the Cook county finals, which will be held in the grand ball room of the Drake hotel on Aug. 16. The final contest will be the Chicagoland finals which will be held Aug. 19, again in the Drake. The two winners, the best man singer and the best woman singer, will sing that night at the tenth Chicagoland festival concert in Soldiers' field.

Among the soprano entrants for tonight are Virginia Ott, 18 years old, of 1710 Farragut street, and Naomi La Bree, 17, of 2734 Arthur avenue. Miss Ott is a graduate of Amundsen High school and Miss La Bree of Senn.

NONSTRIKERS ASK DIES INQUIRY INTO CLEVELAND RIOTS

Cleveland, O., Aug. 2 (AP).—A committee of nonstrikers at the Fisher Body plant here urged the Dies committee on un-American activities today to investigate a C. I. O.-United Auto Workers walkout at the General Motors' big east side plant.

The telegram, over signature of Secretary Jack Cooper, declared the C. I. O strikers and sympathizers, who clashed Monday with police with forty-six persons injured, "have communistic tendencies alien to American ideals of organizing."

"Those methods of communism such as rioting, mass importation of pickets, intimidation of women and children, coercion by threats, use of gas against civil authorities, and many other methods foreign to all American labor are being used," the committee declared.

Earlier this week the C. I. O. union sent a telegram to Attorney General Frank Murphy protesting against police tactics in Monday's riots.

The Cook county board yesterday appropriated $91,876 from its road funds for superhighway engineering for the rest of the fiscal year ending Dec. 1. Offices for a special technical staff are to be opened in the Burnham building.

CECILE POTTS GETS DIVORCE FROM BROKER

Mrs. Cecile Garvy Potts, 28 years old, daughter of Dr. A. Cosmas Garvy, yesterday was granted a divorce by Judge Joseph Sabath from William Fernandes Potts, 31, a broker. Mr. Potts is the son of Peter Thomas Potts of Miami Beach, Fla., retired president of the Dixie Vortex company.

The Pottses were married on Sept. 26, 1931, and separated last May 27. Mrs. Potts charged cruelty. In lieu of alimony, her attorney, William Rogan, said Mrs. Potts had accepted a $7,500 cash settlement.

Mr. Potts also will provide $400 a month for support of their children, William Jr., 7, Peter, 4, and Patricia, 1, for thirteen years. The children are to remain in the family home at 3920 Marine drive. The parents will share custody, each living in the home for six months of the year. Mr. Potts now lives at the Lakeshore Drive hotel.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Worthy of His Hire

Railroad men provide a service that keeps the wheels of commerce turning—without it civilization would be crippled. For such service they deserve a reasonable wage. This applies alike to the section man spiking down a rail and to the engineer who pilots over that same rail a train with lives and property.

Out of the money earned by this service the railroad must pay all its bills, including wages. The latter item consumed 43 cents of every dollar the Illinois Central System took in last year.

It is on the efforts of workers that the railroad depends for earnings. They must provide a service that will win popularity and deserve equality under the laws governing competition. Their success in these respects will establish the prosperity of the railroad and of its employes.

How do the nails look? Not so healthy? You might try, among other correctives, an extremely oily polish remover. This is free from harsh solvents and seems to "float" your old polish off, instead of dissolving it. It leaves the nails soft and oiled.

The women who are bothered to death with brittle nails and who have a feeling that polish or polish removers are a contributing cause will be interested in the news that there is a polish remover on the market now that has rather an impressive story behind it.

We might say, as we have often said before, that condemnation of polish and remover is often a little hasty. There are lots of other factors that might be responsible for unhealthy nails. But if you are bent on using a remover that is created especially for women who are scared of harsh solvents we do know of one.

The manufacturer is only too anxious to swear to the fact that this remover contains no quick drying solvents. And we believe it. The stuff doesn't evaporate, though you leave it uncorked indefinitly. One fan for it, with a taste for the theatrical, offered to drink some to prove how bland and pure it was. We shudderingly refused but we undoubtedly were impressed by the fervent gesture. What we're absolutely certain of, by first hand knowledge, however, is that it does leave the nails with a smooth, even an oily coat. We're dead certain that it doesn't dry out the nails.

You use this just a bit differently. Saturate a piece of cotton with the oily liquid—and you'll find one piece sufficient to remove the polish on nails of both hands. The polish will be removed with less speed than you're probably used to. The oil seems to float it off, rather than to dissolve it, and that takes a second or two longer. But you'll have an instant pleasure in the way it works.

You just know, by the way it works and the way it leaves your nails, that this is a gentle polish remover with no "bite" to harm your delicate nails.

Chicagoans in Santa Barbara for Gay Fiesta

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGOANS, who are summering in or near Santa Barbara, Cal., are in the midst of the town's gayest festival, the annual Santa Barbara Old Spanish Days fiesta. This four day celebration recalls the times of the Spanish dons of a hundred years ago.

It was started in 1924 by a small group that arranged to revive the old time fiestas for the pleasure of Santa Barbarans. Twenty thousand watched the gala costumed parade that year. Last year 100,000 flocked to Santa Barbara for the festivities.

Fundamentally, the fiesta doesn't change much from year to year. It still centers around a lavish parade with beautiful horses. The pageant, the entertainment at the courthouse, the children's parade, the Lobero plays, strolling singers, and the brilliant opening ceremonies at the Old Mission are other features.

The opening ceremonies were held yesterday, and it is expected that 150,000 will gather for the parade and pageant today. Saddles and bridles worth a fortune will be seen, displayed on some of the finest horses of the west. Descendants of early California women will appear in heirloom shawls and dresses, rich in color and texture.

Mitchell Horses to Be in Parade.

Many of the John J. Mitchells' horses will prance in the parade this afternoon. On one of them will be Mr. Mitchell, who will reserve a special salute for his wife, the former Lolita Armour, and their youngsters, John J. III., and Lolita, who will be watching from a box.

Near them will be the Lucius B. Mannings and Mrs. Faurot Tolson and John Tolson, who are occupying guest cottages at the Mitchell estate, El Mirador. The Charles Deere Wimans will entertain in their box this afternoon and tomorrow night. Among their guests will be their daughters, Miss Nancy and Miss Patricia, and Mr. Wiman's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Murphy of Moline.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cummings' box guests will include their sons, Walter Jr., Arthur and Edward; the Frederick Fishers of Detroit, Miss Jane Lemmon and Miss Betsy Towers of San Francisco, and Miss Alida Goodman of Boston. The James Ward Thornes and the Arthur Meekers are other boxholders.

Goldoni's "Mistress of the Inn" is the play that opened Tuesday night. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, who is an authority on Goldoni, and Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor returned from Europe in time for the opening. Mr. Chatfield-Taylor's biography of the 18th century dramatist devoted a chapter to the "Mistress of the Inn." The fiesta will close Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Rogers of Lake Forest left yesterday for the west. They plan to visit the fair in San Francisco and to go on to Rodeo, N. M., to see Mrs. Rogers' son and his wife, the junior Ezra Warners, before they return in three weeks.

Hold Flower Show at Lawsonia Today.

The summer colony at Lawsonia, near Green Lake, Wis., is participating in an annual flower show to be held today at the Casino on the old Victor Lawson estate. Mrs. Cyrus L. Garnett is chairman of the show.

Colored umbrellas will shelter the punch tables, which will be set up in front of the Casino in view of the beautiful gardens and greenhouses. A special luncheon will be served at the hotel for out-of-town guests and the growers from all over Wisconsin who exhibit.

Among the women who are setting tables in a variety of classes are Mrs. Francis Neilson, Mrs. Walter Garritt Smith, Mrs. Paul Skinner, Mrs. Garnett, Mrs. Albert Hansen, Mrs. Henry Pope, and Mrs. Brode Davis.

Danforth lodge, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine's home at Oconomowoc lake, Wis., will be opened today and tomorrow for a sale of goods from the Woman's Exchange of Chicago.

The annual invitation regatta of the Delavan Lake Yacht club this week has attracted dozens of class C boats. Barbara Wakeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Wakeley of Lake Geneva, is the only girl skipper. A.

Luigi Horne will give up her swing tomorrow afternoon to help her mother, Mrs. William D. Horne Jr., play hostess at their Barrington home to the hundreds who will enjoy the Barrington Garden club's open homes and garden day. The Hornes' home, Valley View, is one of six that will be opened between 2 and 6 o'clock. Tea will be served at Mrs. Edward K. Hardy's. Tickets at $1 each include tea and admission to all the homes. They may be purchased at any of the gardens to be opened.

Kurenko Wins Huge Audience at Grant Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Maria Kurenko has faced concert and opera audiences countless times and won them with the attractive combination of fervor and grace which marks her singing.

In Grant park last night she faced what was probably the greatest audience of her career—an audience deployed by the thousands and perhaps tens of thousands across the wide lake front acres opposite 11th street. She won these people exactly as she has won her hearers in the past—by singing well, singing conscientiously, and giving the best she has.

To the accompaniment of Rico Marcelli's orchestra the great Russian soprano offered airs from "Faust," "The Abduction from the Seraglio," "The Snow Maiden," and "Sicilian Vespers." In an informal little program which followed the concert proper she presented a group of smaller songs.

The audience was favorably disposed toward Mme. Kurenko by the great charm of her appearance and manner, but this audience found even more important things to admire in her singing of "The King of Thule" and "The Jewel Song" from "Faust." The arresting quality of her lower voice—so full and yet so delicate, and so astonishingly rich in haunting overtones—held the breathless attention of her listeners from the very first.

From then until after 10 o'clock Mme. Kurenko paraded one after another the devices which help to make her such an excellent singer. There was a ravishing delicacy in high lying passages, intoxicating color contrasts in parallel phrases, a rhythmic verve that was subtle and yet became so insistent that one period would seem to imply and demand the next.

A high point of the evening was Gretchaninoff's "The Steppe," where the singer's voice took on an indescribably beautiful quality in a successful effort to mirror the ecstasy which fills words and music immediately after the climax of the song.

Mr. Marcelli gave Mozart's G minor symphony a somewhat unconventional but quite interesting performance. An air of peppiness and immediacy often took the place of the serene classical lines to which we are accustomed.

The Stage

Silk Provides Sound Effects of New Season

BY RHEA SEEGER.

PARIS [by mail].—Sound effects in all the fall fashions will be furnished by silk. Silk with that provocative whispering swish, a sound that somehow or other bespeaks a lady, a sound that no other fabric achieves—no other weave, no synthetic mixture can copy.

Under your daytime dresses, whether they be of thin wool, heavy crêpe, velvet, or satin, goes a petticoat of taffeta in harmonizing colors with the dress, navy, black, brown, or in decisive shades, emerald green, ruby red, topaz, or raspberry.

The petticoat of this season is as romantic as a valentine. It's cut and fitted with the same smoothness as the outer dress—pinked seams, fine darts at the back to assure an unwrinkled smoothness, and side seams slit for the necessary walking freedom.

At the hemline is a finely pleated flounce, at least three inches deep. The finished result is a petticoat of beauty combined with swish. More imaginative designers use striped taffeta, dotted effects, or even floral prints. Some feature two contrasting colors and some use fine lace at the hem in the same color as the silk.

Costume slips of taffeta, whether for daytime dresses or more gala gowns, are made with the same fine flavor and dash. These, too, are fitted superbly, for if the under slip does not cling to the figure in an unbroken silhouette, the gowns worn above it also will wrinkle.

Gleaming white silk taffeta underskirts with dozens of pinked ruffles will peek out from under picture book gowns of velvet. Lace trimmed ruffles and even fringe will accent still other finds, and yards of very fine old-fashioned quilting and fanciful effects of pleating have been revived to swish under evening gowns of all materials.

Heavy failles, extraordinarily beautiful, heavy changeable silk taffetas in old French print colors will make spectacular but elegant evening costumes. Equally handsome taffetas will be used for long evening coats, cut with a guardsman great-coat swank.

You'll wear suavely designed daytime coats lined with crackling taffeta, smart daytime suits with the jacket lined with taffeta that swishes with every move. If you like the sound of silk—and what silk conscious woman doesn't—this is the time to flaunt it, to use it for every hour of the day—to combine it with every costume in your wardrobe.

★ On the House ★

Many houses being built today have at least one double duty room. Usually this is on the first floor, its major purpose a library, its secondary function a guest or extra bedroom. Some other houses are being built with every room a double duty room. Where costs must be kept down this is one way of doing it.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

The Mirror.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 2.—Recommendations: The photography in "Stanley and Livingstone," with a low bow to Mrs. Martin Johnson, who supervised the safari sequences.

Louise Fazenda's elegant make-believe in "Old Maid." . . . . Brian Donlevy's characterization of the sergeant in "Beau Geste." . . . Eddie South's crooning of French songs at the Trocadero.

R. K. O. Publicity Chief Howard Benedict, for the volume of portraits he sent out to the reviewers to call attention to "Nurse Edith Cavell." . . . Townsend Martin, for his magnificent sportsmanship in the double defeat of his thoroughbred Cravat [say, maybe it is the sport of kings].

Slender Mrs. Sid Rogell [June Clayworth] more of an attention arrester than most of the cinema eyefuls. . . . Ditto, Mrs. Jules Stein, stunning frau of the Music corporation chief.

Martindale's, where the movie stars get their books, reports that this week the fiction leaders are "Next to Valour" and "Web and Rock." . . . "Inside Asia" tops the nonfiction. . . . Raymond Massey at the R. K. O. press reception to the Abe Lincoln of Times Square. . . . Hope Hampton highlighting her Trocadero party by doing the Conga with George Burns.

All of the big executives of the business turning out to honor Jules Brulatour; Harry M. Warner, Paramount's Frank Freeman, Universal's Nate Blumberg, Columbia's Sam Briskin; R. K. O.'s Pandro Berman; Charlie Rogers, Sam Bischoff, Harry Rapf, Mervyn Leroy, and a host of others. . . . Wayne Morris telling pals that the baby will arrive about Christmas time. . . . Jack Haley off to N. Y. . . . Joan Perry off to Tampa, Fla., to visit her family.

Every studio in town rushing their big pictures through the laboratories for September releases. . . . "Wizard of Oz," "Golden Boy," "The Star Maker" will head the preview parade. . . . At Farmer's market, Joan Blondell shopping for baby corn. . . . Baby or adult, it still gets in your teeth.

Joe Penner disheartened by his experience with the St. Bernard dog that was given to him as a present. . . . The mastiff had a habit of leaping up and resting his paws on Joe's shoulders. . . . So Joe hired a dog trainer to take the St. Bernard to his ranch and break him of the habit, at $75 per week.

After $150 worth of training the kennel man brought back the dog. . . . To Penner's amazed delight, while the trainer stood by, the St. Bernard obeyed every command. . . . Next morning Joe rushed out to the dog's run and let him out. . . . "Down," cried Penner. . . . The St. Bernard reared up and landed on his shoulders so heavily that the comedian was knocked to the ground. . . . Penner scrambled to his feet. . . . Again the dog flattened him. . . . So Joe has given the St. Bernard to the trainer for keeps.

D. W. Griffith, in a newsreel theater, nodding his head as the "March of Time" flashes on the screen a cavalcade of old time flickers. . . . You wonder what thoughts are passing in Griffith's mind as he watches the screen.

In Brown's ice cream store, in Hollywood, a columnist comments on Dick Powell's smart looking gray tie. . . . Powell, to the amazement of the ice cream eaters, unties it and hands it over. . . . Placards advertising Alex Templeton's piano concert at the Hollywood bowl. . . . From the Rainbow Roof in New York to the Hollywood bowl is quite an accomplishment and Templeton, despite his handicap, has been stopping shows the length and breadth of the journey.

Many Children Ask Invitations to Cubs Game

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Letters, letters, letters. Such a swarm of them pouring in from boys and girls anxious to come to our baseball party on Aug. 10. Hundreds of youngsters asked invitations to the Cubs-Cincinnati game on that date.

There are all kinds of letters, fat ones, thin ones, written in ink, pencil, and crayon. I'm going to get busy and read them all today and make up the list of fifty boys and fifty girls who will be invited to our party. The names of these youngsters will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. You'll have only a little while to wait before you know if you have won an invitation.

Today's a mighty important day to the happy boys and girls who will be my guests at the movies this afternoon. We'll all see Mickey Rooney in his latest film, "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever." It's a very good show and I know you'll all enjoy every minute of it. Let's all be on time today, and don't forget to tuck that invitation into a pocket so it'll be sure to come with you.

See you this afternoon, boys and girls!

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian Taylor, has been staying in Franz's home studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Herr Wiedermann, in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Sayonara Lonska. Franz loses his job. When Leopoldine secures one for him he accepts it for the sake of his dependents. In Riga Marian learns Herr Wiedermann is in love with Gisela and wants to arrange for her and Johann to come there. Mme. Lonska, she discovers, is a spy and that the picture from Herr Speyer was a message in code. Marian returns to Vienna. Gisela goes to Riga. She and Herr Wiedermann are married and he adopts Johann. Franz spurns Leopoldine's offer to be his mistress. Next day Franz is seized by the Gestapo. Leopoldine's brother, Karl, a Storm Trooper, intrigued by Marian's beauty, offers to help locate Franz, though she doubts his sincerity. He falls madly in love with her, though she tells him she can love no one but Franz. Marian sees Herr Speyer, who advises her to see Wilhelm Boehm, a head Nazi official, who would know Franz's whereabouts, but he turns her down. Marian appeals to and gains an audience with Boehm's wife. She gets no help but hears Frau Boehm mention Sayonara's name over the phone. Convinced that Herr Boehm is also a spy, Marian gains admission to see him again on pretext of a message from a friend in Riga. She frightens him into promising Franz's release. A messenger brings Marian to where Franz, allowed to escape, is hiding in a Jewish friend's shop. They steal to his house for Franz's motorcycle.

INSTALMENT XLVI.

UNEXPECTED HELP.

Marian wheeled the heavy cycle round the corner into the wide badly lit entrance hall and her body shook with the violent sensation of one who is in a too suddenly stopped swiftly moving lift.

She paused for the briefest of seconds, then moved forward with apparent nonchalance, hoping to pass him. The trooper laid his hand on the handlebars, bringing her to a stop. "Well, well, you do grow enterprising. And in these clothes too."

"Please wait upstairs, Karl. I'm just taking this to the mechanic to store it. I'll be right back in a few minutes."

He put his hand over hers. "You're not a good liar, Marian, and it isn't necessary to lie to me. You're taking that to Franz. I know because I came to say I had some news for you."

Her mind flew about banging itself madly like a lark caught in a trap. But there was nothing—nothing to be done. "So what are you going to do?" she whispered out of her dry, stiff lips.

There was nothing to be read in the opaque watchfulness of his eyes. "What do you think I'm going to do?"

"Tell me the worst and get it over," she thought. But she said heavily, "How am I to know?"

"You know I love you, don't you?"

Fear was a hot pain, such fear as she had not yet known. So close to happiness and now to slip back. Her hand trembled under his and he tightened his grip on it. "Well?" he urged her.

His voice sounded as if she had wounded him. "Is that all you know of me?"

She lifted her head and looked courageously back at him. "I know you have a noble, generous nature. I think you could forget yourself for somebody you loved."

"Thank you, Marian, for knowing that. I came to help you."

Relief made her feel faint. "To—to help us?"

"Yes. I can do it. I know the difficulty ahead. I didn't expect to get in touch with Franz so easily, of course. Go now and tell him to come here. We'll talk upstairs——"

"But will he be safe?"

"I give you my word. Nobody will enter while I am in the house."

There was no choice but to trust him. He was wheeling the cycle back to its hiding place. "I will go up and wait for you," he said. If this is a trick, she thought in agony, he would not trust me. Franz could still get away—but how far?

Franz will be crazy with worry over the delay, she thought suddenly, and broke into a run as she emerged from the building. He came to her in the shadows—"Liebchen, what's happened? Where's the motorcycle?"

"Franz, darling, you can't go. Karl Steinweg is there waiting to see you. He knows you're free. He says he's come to help us. Come—we'll have to trust him."

"Karl Steinweg! There's some trick. It can't be true. He's—he's——"

"I know. He's Leopoldine's brother. But it can be true. Come—let's get inside—we can't talk here. It's too long a story——"

Possibly Karl foresaw Franz's distrust. He changed his mind about going upstairs when he had put away the motorcycle and walked round the block to look for them. He held out his hand to Franz instead of observing the inappropriate Hitler salute.

"Congratulations! May the good luck continue."

Franz took his hand. "Thank you—I hope it will."

"But I realize your present difficulty. I came round because I think I can help you out. We'd better get indoors to talk, don't you think?"

They returned to the house in silence. The living room windows were overlooked only on one side by the top floor of the Palace of Justice and these windows were all dark. However, Marian drew the Venetian blinds and pulled the slats together. She was full of apprehension for this strange conference, but Karl appeared at his ease. He was practical and businesslike. "I shall need a map of Austria and Hungary showing the course of the Danube if you have one, and pencil and paper."

Marian found the required map in one of the professor's many atlases and they sat in the lamplight at the round table.

Karl may have guessed at Franz's thoughts or he may have been sincere. He said—"It's a hot night, Marian, and this hardware is heavy. Do you mind if I take off my belt?"

"Of course not. Please do."

He rose, removed the belt with its heavy holster, laid it in Gisela's open escritoire and returned to his place at the table. The revolver was now within Franz's easy reach. If he chose he could pick it up before Karl could get to it, back out of the room and leave Marian to cover him while he got downstairs and away on his motorcycle.

Marian said—"I expect you wonder why Karl and I are calling each other by first names, Franz. You see he's been a wonderful friend to me, trying to help me to find you. But all that must wait. It's too long a story."

Franz looked at Karl with genuine gratitude. "In that case I am deeply in debt to you and I thank you——"

Karl smiled. "It made me very happy," he said awkwardly. But there was an immediate easing of the tension between them all. Marian rang the bell for Trudi. "Please bring some wine and sandwiches. And O Trudi—if any one rings, put the chain on the door before you open it and leave it on while you come to tell me who it is."

The food and wine dispelled the last lingering coolness in the atmosphere. They became absorbed in Karl's plan for escape.

He said—"I wouldn't have thought of this, Franz, but Pola once mentioned you were an ace swimmer—good enough for the Olympic team."

"That was five years ago. But I'm still good enough to swim for my life."

"Under water also?"

"That is very good. The scheme will work."

Karl traced the course of the Danube on the map from Vienna to the Hungarian frontier with his pencil point. "There are barges going through here with potatoes and sugar beets for Rumania. They are not searched at the frontier. Refugees have hidden on the barges from time to time, but they don't worry about them on account of the difficulty of landing. They would have to be powerful swimmers and they would have to be able to count on friends inside the Hungarian border. You are the one, and I am able to provide the other."

"Why, Karl!" Marian exclaimed with enthusiasm, "how wonderful! How marvelously kind you are——"

Six Little Girls Give Play to Help Those in Need of Free Ice

Six little girls on North Talman avenue wanted to do something this summer for less fortunate children, so they decided to give a play.

One of the little girls, Millie Lou Platt, 6534 North Talman avenue, who is 9, wrote the play, calling it "People in Distress," and all six little girls took part. Their mothers served lemonade and cookies to the audience, and the gate receipts of $1.08 were received yesterday by the Free Ice fund supported by readers of THE TRIBUNE.

The $1.08 of the girls, Millie Lou and Helen Joyce Platt, Mary Jane Mackill, Shirley and Barbara Maas, and Ethel Weiss, and contributions of $1 from M. D. G. and Nancy Curry-Bianca Mincer bring the ice fund total to $895.63.

A contribution of $1 will provide a needy Chicago family with a week's supply of ice. All donations should be sent to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Square.

Raw carrots may not make your hair curly, but they're good for you none-the-less, and I wouldn't be at all surprised if it's really true that they can give you a rosy complexion!

At any rate, raw carrots have a texture that is very pleasant in summer meals. Carrot sticks, crispy and cold, may substitute for salad in a heavy meal, or accompany the salad in a lighter one.

Carrot bundles make beautiful edible garniture for the hors d'œuvres tray, or a big salad platter. To make them you'll need both lengthwise and crosswise cuts from crisp carrots. Cut the centers from crosswise slices to make rings. Through these rings poke four or five very slender long cut strips of carrot, and drop the pretty bundles in ice water to chill for an hour or more before serving. As they soak in the cold water the strips curl attractively and tighten themselves in their carrot girdles.

If carrots are sliced lengthwise sliver thin and crisped in cold water, they may be added to any combination raw or cooked vegetable salad, and will improve its color and texture immensely in many instances. Thickish slices, uncrisped, are difficult to eat.

There should be a good combination vegetable slicer and grater in every home, so that these thin slices of carrot, and grated carrot, may frequently appear in salads. You may grind crisp carrots for salad, too.

RAW CARROT SALAD COMBINATIONS.

1. Grated or ground carrot with crushed pineapple, drained, and a little grated onion. Mayonnaise or cooked dressing. Raisins or coconut may be added.
2. Grated, ground, or slivered carrot and cole slaw.
3. Grated carrot with apples, celery, and nuts or raisins, mayonnaise or cooked dressing.
4. Carrots, slivered, with pineapple, celery, and nuts in gelatin made with pineapple and lemon juices. Mayonnaise.
5. Carrots, chopped olives, celery in tomato aspic. Mayonnaise.
6. Ground or slivered carrots in string bean, onion, and bacon salad, French dressing.
7. Slivered carrots, shredded green pepper, lettuce, and celery with a little onion and sour cream dressing.
8. Sliced tomato, shredded carrot, green onion, cucumber, and radish salad, French dressing.
9. Grated carrot and onion with cooked peas and raw celery, mayonnaise.
10. Raw carrot, pickled beets, hard cooked egg, and cooked peas, with mayonnaise.

Oswald Jacoby Wins Men's Pair Bridge with Young Partner

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 2 (AP).—Oswald Jacoby, paired with John R. Crawford, 25 years old, of Philadelphia, won his twenty-first national contract bridge crown when he walked away with the men's pair championship here late this afternoon.

In the women's pair contest Mrs. A. M. Sobel, New York, and Mrs. R. C. Young, Philadelphia, came from behind with a rush to retain their title for the second year.

This is the third national title for Crawford.

Three Style Points United

FROCKS FOR MISSES.

Three fashion points favored by the younger set are incorporated in this youthful autumn frock: Camisole neckline, fitted bodice, and flared skirt. The lines of this dress are suitable only for slim figures, so that we have styled it in sizes for misses only. Dark and light fabrics, and small prints, too, make up well. All the lovely autumn fabrics should be scanned with attention to weave and color. Don't miss forest green. It's a wonderful shade, and would flatter blondes, brunettes, and redheads alike.

Lace may be used around the neckline and down the front of the waist. Ruffling is another possibility. You can construct the dress so that these details may be removed and laundered between the frock's trip to the dry cleaner.

Style No. 2649 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with 1¼ yards of braid for the short sleeved version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

When a declarer must decide which of two suits to establish, a knowledge of "percentages" is a very handy thing to have. This applies particularly to match-point duplicate, in which extra tricks are of such great importance.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West, a dyed-in-the-wool "fourth best of the longest suit" man, stubbornly opened the deuce of hearts, despite the fact that North had opened the bidding with one heart. Dummy played the eight, East the queen, and declarer won with the ace. Now, on the theory that heart suit establishment was vital, declarer led a heart right back and finessed the nine spot, then cashed the king and cleared the suit with another round, making West a present of his jack. On the third round of hearts, East signaled with a high diamond and, on the fourth round, threw away a low spade. Declarer himself discarded two spades. Now West laid down the diamond ace and continued the suit, East's queen driving out the king. Declarer next led a spade to the queen. East won and cashed two diamonds, thereby defeating the contract.

Declarer's anxiety to establish the heart suit was understandable, but wrong. He should have considered himself lucky that a heart had been opened and that he was thereby given the opportunity of probably taking three heart tricks without the necessity of conceding any. Instead of leading the heart right back at trick 2, he would have been on far sounder ground to have taken the spade finesse. If the finesse lost, he would be in a good position to run four spade tricks, either by finding a 3-3 break in the suit or by dropping the spade ten doubleton. Or, if the finesse won, he then could go to work on other fertile fields, the heart suit, for example.

Actually, the best defense against the immediate spade finesse would be for East to hold up his king, and let us assume that he would adopt that line. Then, with the extra spade trick safely under his belt, declarer could afford to establish hearts or even to turn his attention to the club suit. In either case, the contract no longer would be endangered. Declarer would make two spades, four hearts, one diamond, and two clubs, or, if he chose to go after the clubs, would make one less heart, but one more club.

The point was that establishment of the heart suit was by no means the only consideration. It is interesting to note that if declarer takes the spade finesse at the second trick, and East is kind enough to accept his king, not only nine, but ten, tricks become a laydown. Then, the defenders can take only two diamond tricks before giving the lead back to declarer, who will be able to run, in all, four spade tricks, three hearts, one diamond, and two clubs. Thus, the correct line of play not only insures the contract, but has the additional virtue of promising an extra trick if the defenders slip ever so slightly.

Airplane Trip with Child Is Simple Affair

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Flying with the baby was the subject of yesterday's column. But if you are going to make a journey by plane with your little boy or girl the question that will come to your mind will not be entirely covered by that article.

Food, as with the baby, is one of our first items of interest where anything off schedule is concerned. In air travel, as in any other journeying, anything special in the way of food must be provided by you. Likewise playthings, books, and such articles as paper and crayons should be in a little kit for a child's amusement.

On at coast to coast flight full meals are provided. Dinner would consist of bouillon, roast lamb, vegetables and potatoes, salad [I think] and a dessert and beverage. Other foods served are salads, sandwiches, and fresh grade A milk.

On a flight with a number of stops no meals are served, those being eaten at the local stops; a flight from Chicago to the Newark airport may schedule as many as six stops. Fares are: Nothing for the baby, half fare for the child from 2 to 12, with a full allowance in baggage [forty pounds], and full fare for the child over 12.

Small children, like babies, travel well in the air. Naturally, just as in any other mode of travel, you try not to give your child a hearty [or rich] meal just before leaving home when excitement is at its peak. Of course, some children become more keyed-up than others over a journey, thus affecting their digestion.

In the case of delayed flights, passengers stay in a hotel accompanied by the hostess, till the journey can be resumed, or their journey is completed on terra firma, still escorted to their destination by the hostess. Such additional expense is assumed by the airways company.

This information is important to parents who, for some reason, need to send their child unescorted on a plane journey. The company will take a child if he or she is over 8, without a guardian, and make themselves responsible for that child en route, supervising such things as his or her clothing, food, sending of necessary messages, and even reminders of trips to the bathroom.

Vacation Alone Is Privilege of Every Husband

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Should husbands and wives always take their vacations together? Mrs. W. is deeply hurt and grieved because her husband wants to go off on a fishing trip with "the boys" and leave her at home alone. All year long she works hard, making his home charming and beautiful, planning delicious meals, entertaining his friends. She thinks he is very selfish and inconsiderate not to want to take her with him on his holidays.

Mrs. W. rates a vacation, too. Of that there is no doubt. But if husband and wife have different vacation needs and tastes they would be wise to take them separately. Maybe the husband is as tired of wearing stiff collars as his wife is of cooking. If she drags him off to a fashionable resort where clothes are all important, she is being just as selfish as he would be if he took her along as camp cook.

It does a man a lot of good to get off with a bunch of men. He can relax, go without shaving, and omit baths. After roughing it he'll enjoy his wife's well kept home and well served food all the more. Meanwhile, a motor trip with "the girls" will give the wife a needed change.

People who are spiritually and mentally close don't have to be physically near every minute. If they get away from each other occasionally, they'll have more to give each other when they return.

In any case, a compromise is in order. Why not spend one week of vacation apart and the second one together?

The Housewife

Next time you paint the kitchen table or the work table or any much used surface in the kitchen or pantry try a new enamel that has a number of excellent features. First, it is heatproof, which is important in a kitchen. Second, it covers with one coat and doesn't show brush marks. Third, it will not discolor and it keeps its gloss.

nue has another of the oldest family Bibles. Published in Zurich, Switzerland, in 1589, it has been in her family for 350 years. It was taken by her ancestors when they were driven from their home in Lorraine, France, during the persecutions and is written in the dialect of the people, Mrs. Hease says.

A runner-up for the oldest is the Bible of Sylvia R. Stoffels of Cicero, Ill. Dated 1596, it has writing on the fly leaf dated 1649. But she does not say whether it is a family Bible, and this quest refers to family Bibles, with family dates recorded.

A Bible which has been in her father's family for more than 250 years is owned by Mrs. A. L. Bogart of North Shore avenue. It was printed in England in 1678 by John Bill, Christopher Barker, and Henry Hills, and contains the Apocrypha and many engravings.

Clara A. Michael has a family Bible, a German Bible, printed in 1808, with births and deaths registered from 1803 to 1842. Mrs. Edith Woodbridge writes that she has a Bible printed in Edinburgh in 1789, but doesn't say whether it is a family Bible.

An old leather covered Bible with family records dating back to June, 1765, belongs to E. H. Cook of Huntley, Ill. Another, with the original owner's birth and death records, 1787 and 1872, belongs to M. J. Kirby of Birchwood avenue.

From the Marriage Column.

Doris Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Olson of 3741 Clinton street, Berwyn, after her marriage to Lorin C. Cook of Varno, Ill., accompanied him on a honeymoon trip to Sun Valley.

Frederick Gartz Jr., and Ernest Schmidt, are among the judges.

Golf Tournament at Lake Geneva.

The Henry Ishams will have a house full of guests in Lake Geneva for the annual invitation golf tournament of the Lake Geneva Country club today, tomorrow, and Saturday. A dinner-dance at the club on Saturday night will climax the event.

The final week of the Ravinia Festival season starts tonight. Artur Rodzinski is appearing as guest conductor with the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

The Frederick A. Prestons' box guests at Ravinia tonight will be the Stuart Templetons, the Roy Carneys, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Connors. The Prestons will entertain again on Saturday night when Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson, the Edwin Clarks, the Philip W. Moores, and Dr. Vernon David will be guests.

The cool upper terrace of the Tavern club is a pleasant refuge on hot summer nights. There is dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock every Thursday on the terrace.

Barn Dance Tonight at Lake Shore Club.

The Lake Shore Athletic club has planned an old-fashioned barn dance for tonight on its 20th story roof garden. There will be a hill billy orchestra and an expert instructor in square dances.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Donald Bateman of Barrington are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Tuesday at the Evanston hospital. The baby, who has been named Victoria, has a 3 year old sister, Judith. Their grandparents are the H. Stillson Harts and the Floyd L. Batemans of Barrington.

Samuel Douglas Flood, whose job in the consular service will keep him in Europe for at least two years, sailed yesterday with his mother, Mrs. Samuel D. Flood of Kenilworth. Mr. Flood's new post is with the American consulate in Naples, Italy. He will go there directly, but his mother is stopping for a month in London to visit a niece, Mrs. Frank Benn.

Mrs. Gardner T. Voorhees of Winnetka will join Mrs. Flood in England and they will go on together to Naples where they plan to rent a house or an apartment for about five months.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson sailed Tuesday night on the Europa to be gone until after Labor day. They will include London and Paris in their itinerary.

Make Habit of Good Posture and See Results

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In memory systems, you retain a fact by connecting it with something else. You can use the same trick in acquiring good carriage. If you make up your mind to hold yourself perfectly all day long, you'll grow tired of the effort and soon slouch back into your old ways. But if, several times a day, you make yourself sit, stand, or walk straight, connecting the effort with a certain chair, a certain hall, or any relevant or irrelevant thing, your muscles soon will learn to hold you straight continually.

Perhaps you pass along a very elegant and dignified street on your way to work. For that block, at least, balance your head well, hold your shoulders loosely, tuck in your hips and live up to the avenue.

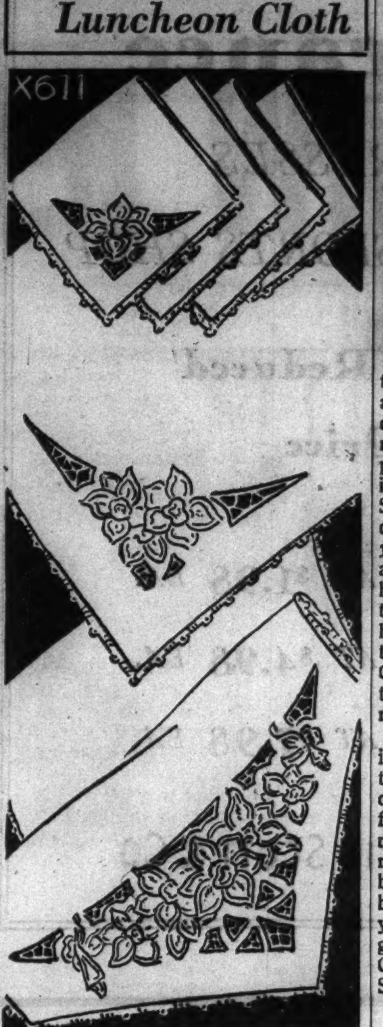
Pick a pair of stairs you climb often. Don't run up them humping forward. Walk up with your spine upright. Put one foot, your whole foot, on the first tread. Then, keeping your body erect, straighten out your bent knee. The other foot will come up automatically.

Is there some one in a certain house on whom you'd like to make a good impression? Whenever you pass that house take pains with your carriage. Every time you go down a hall you have selected, point your toes straight and walk gracefully.

When you are waiting for your lunch to be served, get the habit of sitting correctly. At home, let there be a chair in which you always sit straight.

Before you know it, your posture will take care of itself.

Cutwork Provides Rich Dignity in Luncheon Cloth



BY NANCY CABOT.

Cutwork always lends a rich dignity to the luncheon cloth, and it is one of the easiest forms of embroidery. Natural colored linen embroidered with attractive cutwork designs may be used for pillow slips of buffet cloths. Detailed directions for stamping are included with the patterns, together with the amount of material required for various items.

For the hot iron transfer of the cutwork luncheon set, No. X-611, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

I am certainly grateful that fewer women than men are color-blind. Because if a woman could not tell yellow from orange, how would she select her next Wilson Certified Ham? Wilson produces the world's two finest bone-in hams, each perfected by Wilson's Secret Process. One is Wilson's Tender Made Ham, that comes in the yellow wrapper. It's ready to eat, and so tender that it's actually "the ham you cut with a fork." Then, for the woman with a yen for a smoked ham, to cook as her fancy dictates, there's Wilson's Tender Extra Mild Certified Smoked Ham that sports the orange wrapper. (Takes only 16 minutes to the pound.)

There is no excuse for experiencing the disappointment that comes through the substitution of hams claimed to be just as good. The formula is a simple one, (we can all read and do) insist on seeing the name Wilson on the wrapper or the branded name on the Ham itself to be sure you are getting the Ham you ask for. Only Wilson makes genuine Tender Made Ham and Certified Tender Extra Mild Smoked Ham.

P. S.—I will be lecturing all summer in the Court of Flame, New York World's Fair. I'll be happy to have you visit me. G. R.

A ONE-HAM SHOW

WILSON'S TENDER MADE HAM

The classic criticism, "I don't know much about art, but I know what I like," is just as applicable to ham. All the experts have viewed Wilson's Tender Made Ham with a coldly critical eye. The Good Housekeeping Institute, that fussy fellow, the inspector for Wilson & Co., the U. S. inspector, and myself who have had some experience in good eating, all have looked on this miracle ham and found it good . . . But it is you, the housewife, who has done the real blue-ribbon pinning. And here's why:

CONVENIENT, ECONOMICAL

Besides its incomparable flavor and tenderness, Wilson's ready-to-eat Tender Made Ham is convenient and economical. The bone-in Tender Made may be bought whole, half or in steaks. The boneless, which comes in tin, sealed in its own juices, may be had whole, or in Family Size (½ ham) or Meal Size (¼ ham).

Give it a quick oven heating, for a hot dinner, serve it cold for luncheon and buffet suppers, slice and slice and slice at it for sandwiches, snacks and "what ails you." You'll find one of these hams as handy in the ice-box as an extra man at a party.

FARE ENOUGH!

"Dear Hubby—Have gone to visit Aunt Em for a few days. You'll find a baked Wilson Tasty Meat in the refrigerator, so you can't fare badly. Slice it cold and give it to the fellows when they drop in for snacks. Mary"

To Bake a Tasty Meat

Have the Wilson's Tasty Meat (cottage butt) at room temperature. Remove transparent wrapper and place in small open roaster in pre-heated oven (350° F.) for 50 minutes. Baste with 1 cup pineapple juice. Increase heat to 450°. Stud the fat with cloves; add more pineapple juice and return to oven for 20 minutes more. Baste frequently until nicely browned. Cool and chill.

This is not a ranch brand tho' it is almost as hot as one when it is applied. It's just sign language for a mighty good Barbecue Sauce to serve with your outdoor meals. The combination of meat, wood smoke, fresh air and this sauce, simply could not be beaten—not even at Rector's.

BQ

BARBECUE SAUCE
1 cup brown stock or water
5 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mustard
4 tablespoons Clear Brook butter
¼ lemon, cut fine
5 tablespoons catsup
5 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
¼ cup minced onion
1 garlic clove, minced

Combine the ingredients and bring to boiling point. Pour over the meat as it is being baked or broiled and serve it with the meat. If only to be served separately with the meat, heat long enough to cook the minced onion—about 10 minutes.

SOX LOSE TO ATHLETICS, 13-4; THEN WIN, 2-1

FOOTBALL SPARK IS LIGHTED BY ALL-STAR GAME

It Reawakens Fans, Says McMillin.

BY GEORGE GARDNER.
[Assistant director of athletics, Indiana university.]

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 2.—"The annual contest in Soldiers' field between the All-Stars and the champions of the National Professional league is the spark each fall setting off the rocket of public interest in the grand game of football," A. N. [Bo] McMillin, Indiana university football coach, said today discussing the game of Aug. 30. McMillin was elected to head coach last year and directed the All-Stars to a 28 to 16 victory over the Washington Redskins.

Bo McMillin.

"This national game marks the final collegiate competition of many players who have received deserved recognition by their election to the All-Star squad," McMillin said. "The game also is the source of many interesting football problems.

"Topmost task of the All-Star coach is the fitting of the many individual stars of diversified talent into a workable organization capable of making the game a real contest."

Little Time to Prepare Team.

There is very little time for an elaborate program of preparation. There is the problem of handling a host of players coached in many different styles of play, he added.

"A player's habits, in footwork, ball handling, timing, blocking, and the like may not always fit in with the ideas of the coaching staff, but he must be given the same opportunity as every other man. There is no room for prejudice against any type of system under which a boy has played in college. All must be started out on the same footing, with equal chances to earn a playing position.

"Naturally, fundamentals and execution of plays must be stressed. In making most effective use of the talent available, the plays must be simple and be readily adaptable to anticipated situations."

Their One Aim—to Win.

Discussing the 1938 All-Star team, McMillin said it had as fine spirit as any team he had ever seen or worked with. The players responded well. They had one common purpose—to defeat the Washington Redskins. To this end they worked diligently and coöperated wonderfully.

The highlights of the 1938 game, in McMillin's opinion, were the fine spirit of the All-Stars, the All-Star passing attack, and their sturdy line play. From a technical standpoint, he believes the success of the All-Stars was made possible by the constant hard rushing of the line which checked Washington's great passers.

"Both teams made fine comebacks during the game, neither eleven giving quarter at any stage," he said. "The closing minutes were just as hard fought as the opening series of plays. The All-Stars were able to take advantage of the flaws in the Washington defense, and, as a result, produced the 'thrill game' of the All-Star series.

A Climax for Collegians.

"The Chicago All-Star game has become an institution. It is the symbolic climax of the collegiate player's career. To be selected by his friends and associates to play on the All-Star team is one of the most cherished honors a college player may receive.

"The meeting of these players, from every part of the country," he continued, "gives a cross section of the teaching of fundamentals and systems. Coaches and other players attend to see how the stars play the game, to gain new ideas and to become refreshed in the ideals of the game."

So Wishing Will Make It So, Eh?

Well, Brother, just try it and see how you fare on Aug. 30, compared to the fellow who steps down to the Tribune's Public Service office, either in the lobby of the Tribune Tower or 1 South Dearborn street, and purchases his tickets for the game between the College All-Stars and the New York Giants. Or even with the fellow who writes a check payable to the Tribune Charities, Inc., and mails it to the All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

BARNUM, SOAR SIGN CONTRACTS WITH PRO GIANTS

New York, Aug. 2 [Special].—Hank Soar and Leonard [Feets] Barnum, two of the New York Giants' most promising backs, have come to terms, it was announced today.

Soar, who was among the first seven ground gainers of the National league for two years with the Giants, has recovered from a nose operation. He will report to Coach Steve Owen at Superior, Wis., on Aug. 12 when the Giants start training for their Aug. 30 game against the College All-Stars in Soldiers' field.

Barnum, former West Virginia Wesleyan player, also notified the Giants that he would report at the same time.

Vanderbilt's Vim Defeats Tomahawk in Cowes Meet

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COWES, England Aug. 2.—Harold S. Vanderbilt's 12 meter yacht, Vim, evened matters with T. O. M. Sopwith's Tomahawk today by defeating the English boat by 28 seconds in the Cowes regatta. Tomahawk scored a victory over the American yacht on a foul Monday.

Jugo-Slavia Tennis Team Asks Funds for Invasion

ZAGREB, Jugo-Slavia, Aug. 2 (AP).—The Tennis federation today asked the government for approximately $4,500 and said if it did not get the funds the Jugo-Slav Davis cup team could not go to the United States to play in the inter-zone finals.

DOCTOR AND DIZ CANNOT AGREE ON ARM INJURY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Mr. Dizzy Dean, the famous Cub, really is in terrible shape. He admits it. He wasn't making a bid for new headlines when he resigned after three innings in Tuesday's game with the Phillies. He retired, he says, because the "arm hurt worse than it ever hurt before" and he's so gloomy about the whole thing that he thinks he should retire for the season.

Dr. John Davis, Cub physician, who for a season and a half has seen so much of the $185,000 arm that he's on speaking terms with every muscle in it, is not quite as downhearted as his illustrious and seemingly perpetual patient.

The physician, after an examination which included another set of X-ray negatives, advised Diz to keep on throwing, but not strenuously, for at least a few days.

Davis Isn't Alarmed.

Dr. Davis' findings indicated there was nothing seriously wrong and that it might be just a case of temporary soreness such as any pitcher might encounter. Diz, although first declaring his arm didn't feel right when he warmed up, later explained that the pain set in when he tried to put too much on a curve pitched to Arnovich.

The soreness is in the region of the deltoid muscle which was the muscle that caused all the furor when Dean's arm first went bad after the All-Star game in 1937. Later another muscle popped because Diz, trying to favor the original injury, didn't pitch naturally.

But despite the optimism of Dr. Davis, it is fairly certain that unless Diz is playfully exaggerating, it will be quite a stretch before he makes another mound appearance; so more X-rays and more bulletins can be expected. Even Diz may say a few words from time to time.

Cavarretta Has Trouble.

Phil Cavarretta, one of Manager Gabby Hartnett's other cripples, also faces the possibility of idleness for the remainder of the season. Almost three months have elapsed since the combination first baseman-outfielder suffered a broken ankle. Considerable swelling remains in the region of the fracture and the youthful Italian isn't able to run. Wire was used to fasten the break and another operation to remove the wire may be necessary.

Bill Lee, who was scheduled to pitch yesterday's game, which was washed away by the weather, will serve in the final of the series with the Phillies today. The Phils will employ Hugh Mulcahy. The rain didn't alter Hartnett's plan to bench Dick Bartell and station Bobby Mattick at short.

Sunset.

The setting sun throws rays incarnadine
Upward against the sky in sunburst spray,
Its grand triumphant gesture when the day
Is done, and I who many sunsets have seen
Stand mute before this spectacle of fire—
Bronze, gold and rose glow in superb array,
While just beyond, watching the colors play,
Then like a snow white coral tinted dream,
The clouds come brushing past with gentle sweep,
Temper the dazzling rays and dull their gleam.
And after twilight deepens, still for me,

Nobody Knows.

I've learned to love you dearly, but I don't know why—
Perhaps it's just as well that this should be;
I don't know why the winter comes, nor why the flowers die,
Nor why you always keep a smile for me;
Our life is just a puzzle that we can't explain,
And love's the fleeting fairy we pursue,
So what's the use of asking why the rain is rain,
Or why I've always kept my heart for you?

Chorus.

Every one feels that creation conceals
Nearly all the reasons why:
Why the winds blow and the feathery snow
Comes silently down from the sky;
Spring never tells why her mountains and dells
Are as fair as the heaven above,
Nobody knows why a rose is a rose
Nor why you are the boy I love!

IT'S STEADY JOB; DYKES GETS NEW 2 YEAR CONTRACT

Dorothy Comiskey Named Club Treasurer.

Manager James J. Dykes will remain in charge of the White Sox through the seasons of 1940 and 1941. Renewal for that period of his present contract was announced yesterday by John C. Mechem, vice president of the First National bank, which, under the will of J. Louis Comiskey, late president-owner of the club, is acting as trustee.

DOROTHY COMISKEY.

The signing of Dykes for the added term carried out the wish of Mr. Comiskey, who shortly before his death had informed the manager, "One of these days we'll get together on a new contract."

The trustees, in a formal statement, also revealed that Dorothy Comiskey had been appointed club treasurer, a title previously held by her father, and that for the present the chair of club president will remain vacant.

Trustee Explains Setup.

The statement, the first issued since the club was placed in the bank's hands, reads as follows:

"The First National bank as executor and trustee under the will of the late J. Louis Comiskey realizes fully its responsibility, not only to Mr. Comiskey's widow and children, but to the public in general, including the thousands of loyal White Sox fans.

"Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Comiskey, the office of the president of the club will not be filled at least during the balance of this baseball year, and the management and the policies of the club will remain unchanged.

"Jimmy Dykes will remain in full charge of the team and we announce with great pleasure that we have arranged to renew his contract for an additional two years.

Grabiner Retains Post.

"Mr. Harry Grabiner, who has been associated with the Comiskeys, father and son, for thirty-five years, will, as vice president and chief executive officer of the corporation, remain in charge of its business affairs.

"At a meeting of the board of directors today, Miss Dorothy Comiskey was elected treasurer of the corporation.

"Mr. John S. Gleason, vice president of the First National bank, who was a close friend of Mr. Comiskey, will be elected to fill his place on the board of directors.

"The plans for night baseball—started by Mr. Comiskey—will be carried out and the first game will be played on Aug. 14 with the St. Louis Browns."

SOX CHEER NEWS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 2.—First news of the Chicago announcement that Jimmy Dykes had been signed to manage the White Sox in 1940 and 1941 reached the players shortly before game time, when the athletes went in the club house to change their sweatshirts.

The skipper revealed with blushing modesty that his term, which began May 8, 1934, had been extended through 1941. Gee Walker, the temporary cripple, was the first to congratulate Jimmy.

RIGNEY YIELDS ONLY 4 HITS BUT FADES IN NINTH

Brown Checks A's on One Pitch.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 2.—John D. Rigney's handsome job of pitching this afternoon, which enabled the White Sox to beat the Athletics, 2 to 1, helped the Chicagoans forget their horrible experience in the first game of a double-header in which they were plastered, 13 to 4.

With one out in the ninth inning of the second game, Rigney had allowed only two hits, both singles, and had faced only twenty-six batsmen, one more than the minimum. After the first of these two hits, a single to center by Dick Siebert with one out in the first inning, John D. struck out Bob Johnson and Earl Brucker. The other hit was a single by Sam Chapman in the fifth after which Sam promptly was wiped out by a double play. No one drew a pass or was hit by a pitched ball. There were in eight and one-third innings no errors, and not an Athletic had reached second. Siebert was the only runner left on base.

Error Upsets Rigney.

Despite all this heroic pitching for eight and one-third innings, Rigney did not finish the game. After Pinch Batter Chubby Dean had been retired for the first out in the ninth, Frankie Hayes, who had made two homers, a double, and a single in the first game, batted for Lynn Nelson. He lined one straight at Mike Kreevich. Mike dropped the ball for the only error of the game.

Rigney was visibly distressed by this first scuff on his great performance. He pitched a single to Dee Miles and Hayes ran to third. Siebert backed Rosenthal flat against the right field wall for a sacrifice fly, on which Hayes scored. Pinch Batter Joe Gantenbein slammed a single into left and Miles stopped at second with the tying run. Clint Brown then was summoned for the fortieth time this season. He made one pitch to Brucker. Earl broke his bat sending a gentle roller to Appling. Luke aimed very carefully, then made a perfect throw to Kuhel to end the game.

Kreevich Is Hero, Too.

While Kreevich's error definitly upset Rigney, John D. didn't have to think back very far to find a reason for forgiving the little iron man. Mike, back in the starting lineup for the first time since he crashed into a concrete wall in Boston a week ago today, drove in the two Sox runs with a single in the fifth. The scorers were Jack Hayes, who had walked, and Joe Kuhel, who had doubled.

The Sox remained comfortably in third place despite the shellacking they took in the first game, though they lost ground to the fifth place Tigers, who won their second successive game over the Yankees.

FIRST GAME

A lot of useless, sweaty business could have been avoided if they had called the first inning of the first game a contest and then proceeded to the second game, though Luke Appling, who knocked a triple, double, and a single, probably would have been against any curtailment.

The first two Sox batsmen in the game scored, but shortly after that the Chicagoans became dead birdies. The Sox's good and brief start consisted of a walk to Hayes, Kuhel's triple, and an infield out which enabled Kuhel to score the second Chicago run.

Faces All the A's.

Bill Dietrich, starting Sox pitcher, faced the whole Athletic team, though he lasted only one inning. Moses walked and was forced by Siebert and then Johnson walked. F. Hayes sin-

EAGLE PASS PUTS ON FAST FINISH; WINS HAMMOND

Comes from Last Place; Viscounty Second.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Emerson F. Woodward's Eagle Pass came from last place to win the Hammond handicap by two lengths yesterday at Washington Park. His stablemate, Viscounty, ran second, using this gallop of a mile as a tuneup for his appearance in next Saturday's Sheridan handicap. He also came from far back to beat the veteran stake performer, Mucho Gusto, by a nose.

On the run out of the chute and down the back stretch Eagle Pass raced under Jimmy Ashcroft's snug restraint far behind the leaders. Nunzio Pariso kept Viscounty back with his stablemate while Mucho Gusto and Forever Prince were matching their speed in setting a fast early pace. They ran the first half mile in :46 1-5 seconds. Melodist and Cisneros were struggling for third and fourth place during the early stages.

The Entry Puts on Speed.

Mucho Gusto and Forever Prince swung around the turn, still fighting for the lead. Then Viscounty and Eagle Pass, moving as a team, began closing the gap. They came wide into the stretch and launched their challenge. In the last furlong Eagle Pass caught Forever Prince and Mucho Gusto and drew out easily. Viscounty, closing resolutely, outfinished Mucho Gusto by a narrow margin.

The Valdina farm entry went to the post as the 2 to 1 second choice, Mucho Gusto being the favorite at 8 to 5. The entry returned $6.40, $5.20, and $3. Eagle Pass ran the mile in 1:38.

Bucket Head went to the post in the seventh race carrying the hopes of John J. Minnick, 18 North Throop street, last of the contestants left in the patrons' handicapping contest. A victory for Bucket Head would have been worth $3,000 to Minnick. The horse came in fourth, however, behind the 5 to 1 shot, Critt. A total of 12,130 ballots were cast yesterday in an attempt to name the winners of the first seven races.

Chief Onaway Comes with Rush.

Mrs. E. D. Duffy's Chief Onaway beat four eligibles for the Sheridan handicap in the Outer Drive purse, a seven furlong gallop which shared the interest with the Hammond.

Paul Ryan took Chief Onaway under restraint soon after the start while Briery and Radio Gold went out to make the pace. These two used up considerable energy fighting for the lead all the way down the backstretch and around the turn. Meanwhile, Chief Onaway, finding racing room along the rail, worked his way into third place and began closing a gap of four lengths as the stretch run began. Coming on staunchly despite his impost of 122 pounds, he passed the tiring Briery at the sixteenth pole, caught Radio Gold fifty yards from the finish and won by three-quarters of a length.

Beats Sheridan Hopefuls.

Chief Onaway, which is not eligible for either Saturday's stake events, numbered Greeny, Cooling Spring and Torch Stick among his victims, in addition to Briery. These four are candidates for the Sheridan. Torch Stick was fourth, Greeny fifth, and Cooling Spring sixth, none of them having any mishaps.

Chief Onaway ran the seven furlongs in 1:25 4-5. He returned his backers $16.60, $6.20, and $4.20.

The Cedarcrest purse, a 5½ furlong allowance event for 2 year old fillies, gave the crowd a thrill. Midway in a hustling stretch drive Jimmy Ashcroft took a chance on sending Valdina Minx through a narrow opening along the rail, while the erratically swerving You Alone was threatening to cut her off.

Jocky's Strategy Succeeds.

The maneuver worked, and Valdina Minx drew out to win by more than a length. Meanwhile, Georgie South was forced to concentrate on keeping You Alone as straight as possible instead of riding her out, so George Martin whipped Joseph E. Widener's Acquin across the line to take second place by a nose.

Valdina Minx and her stablemate, Valdina Gold, made up the 3 to 1 second choice in the betting, You Alone being the favorite at 9 to 5.

Time, :23 1-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Marbold, $6.80 straight, $3.60 place, $3.00 show; Grand Jester, $5.60 place, $4.20 show; Fly Me, $11.20 show. Winner trained by A. G. Woodman. Went to post at 2:16½. At post 1 minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving, second and third same.
MARBOLD bore over from the outside in the run to the turn, drew clear as several contenders were in difficulty, increased his advantage under strong urging after reaching the stretch, and weakened near the end but withstood GRAND JESTER'S bid. GRAND JESTER, taken back early and slow to respond, when clear, saved ground entering the stretch, and, closing fast, was getting to the winner. FLY ME, lucky to keep up when in tight quarters in the first quarter, was under energetic riding the last five-sixteenths and held on well.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Went to post at 2:45½. At post 4½ minutes. Start fair from Bahr gate. Won easily, second and third driving.
CHUBBINS, away fast and hustled along until clear, soon after reaching the turn, came away fast after reaching the final quarter, and won easily. MY BLAZE had speed from the start, was taken under strong restraint on the turn, but drifted out entering the stretch, continued to race wide throughout, and held on well in the drive. VALDINA, a factor from the start and raced wide, closed in determined fashion, and, wearing down WATERCURE, might have been second in another stride.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Drizzling.
Time, :23, :47, 1:00, 1:07 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Pink Gal, $15.60 straight, $8.40 place, $5.60 show; Wise Ally, $4.40 place, $3.00 show; Shenuit, $3.40 show. Winner trained by H. W. Frye. Went to post at 3:19. At post 3¼ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving, second and third same.
PINK GAL, badly outrun early, began to move up when saving ground entering the stretch, came out in the last eighth, and, closing with a rush, got up in the last thirty yards. WISE ALLY, away slowly and much used to take command in the first three-sixteenths, was kept under light urging on the turn, continued strongly to the final eighth, then weakened and could not withstand the winner's challenge. SHENUIT was a strong factor from the start, shook off BROTHER HIGHER approaching the final eighth, offered little resistance to PINK GAL'S challenge, yet held on well.

FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23, :47 1-5, :59 4-5, 1:06 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Valdina Minx, $8.60 straight, $4.60 place, $2.60 show; Acquin, $6.80 place, $3.60 show; You Alone, $2.20 show. Winner trained by J. J. Flanigan. Went to post at 3:49½. At post 1⅛ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving, second and third same.
VALDINA MINX, away fast but unable to keep up, was taken to the inside after reaching the turn, responded to strong urging after reaching the stretch, came through on the inside when overtaking the leaders, and was ridden out. ACQUIN, raced wide throughout, moved up gradually on the turn, held on well, and outfinished YOU ALONE at the end. YOU ALONE, inclined to swerve badly throughout, but having speed from the start, prevented her rider from doing her justice as she threatened to interfere with some of her opponents in the stretch, and otherwise might have made a stronger bid.

Miller. Went to post at 4:17½. Off at once. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving, second and third same.
CHIEF ONAWAY, taken to the inside immediately after the start and rated along under strong restraint for five-eighths, came to the outside for the drive, and, closing resolutely and with good speed under his impost, got to the front in the last fifty yards, and drew out thereafter. RADIO GOLD, much used racing with BRIERY after the first quarter, drew clear entering the final quarter, went to the inside in the last eighth, and held on fairly well to the last fifty yards, where he weakened sharply. BRIERY had speed, saved much ground, but faltered after three-quarters.

Flanigan. Went to post at 4:45. At post 1 minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won ridden out, place driving.
EAGLE PASS, away slowly and far out of it for five-eighths, began to move up when racing very wide on the stretch turn, continued to drift out while closing with a rush and was drawing out fast at the end. VISCOUNTY, away well but taken back under good restraint, responded when called upon and, fighting it out gamely under strong handling, wore down FOREVER PRINCE and MUCHO GUSTO in the closing strides. The latter bore out while making the early pace under strong restraint, continued to race wide on the turn, overtook FOREVER PRINCE when straightened in the stretch, and held on well but could not hold the leaders.

Grossman. Went to post at 5:18½. At post 2 minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won handily, place driving.
CRITT, well up from the start and always clear, raced to MISS BAKER gradually and under strong hand riding, disposed of the latter in the last eighth, and held JEST ONCE safe to win handily. The latter, also always clear as she raced a trifle wide throughout, responded when called upon after reaching the last five-sixteenths, and held on well. MISS BAKER had speed from the start, took an easy lead approaching the stretch, and held on courageously to the last eighth before weakening.

Winner trained by M. B. Cohen. Went to post at 5:42. At post ½ minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driving.
WEGOWAY, forced to lose much ground, raced to contention fast after a quarter, took command when ready, and won easily. LONG FACE, well up from the start and saving much ground, was in hand for seven-eighths and held on with good courage in the drive. BOILING POINT took command quickly, saved ground for three-quarters, drifted out slightly on the stretch turn, and gave way slowly in the drive.

Fighting Fox Trails Field at Saratoga

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—William Woodward's 4 year old Fighting Fox proved again today that he's unpredictable by running a bad last to George D. Widener's Eight Thirty in the mile Wilson stakes at Saratoga.

Fighting Fox, fresh from a record setting performance at Empire City and a triumph in the $50,000 Massachusetts handicap, led past the half mile pole and then quit cold, finishing fourth, ten lengths back of the Widener 3 year old.

Eight Thirty raced Fighting Fox into defeat in the first 4 furlongs, took the lead around the turn, and was cantering at the finish five lengths ahead of J. H. Louchheim's Pompoon. The Chestnut son of Pilate, carrying 118 pounds in this weight-for-age stake, turned in the fastest mile in the ten runnings of the Wilson, finishing in 1:37 flat.

Fighting Fox and Eight Thirty, the latter ridden by Jockey Harry Richards, were split choices in the betting at 2-1. Pompoon was 4-5 for place. There was no show price.

JOYCE WINS OVER MAXIE FISHER BY KNOCKOUT IN 2D

Willie Joyce, 1937 Golden Gloves featherweight champion, knocked out Maxie Fisher, Newark, N. J., lightweight, in the second round of a bout listed for ten rounds in White City last night. Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois boxing commission questioned the legality of the knockout, scored with a right to the chin.

*

Ed O'Connell, lightweight, stopped Harold Proshaska in the second round of a scheduled three round amateur bout in the semi-final round of the park district tournament in Davis Square arena last night. The finals will be held tomorrow night. Other results: A. L. Verron beat Joe Preston [3]; Tony Bausone beat A. C. Lee [3], and Sam Casello beat Frank Bausone [3].

NORTHWEST WINS INTRA-DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

Northwest players retained the Chicago women's intra-district golf title yesterday at Sunset Ridge by scoring 20 points in the final matches and bringing their total to 95½ for the series.

Northeast, with 52 points in three previous contests, scored 23 yesterday and took second place with 75.

Ginkus, Cabon Lose in City Golf Tourney

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The champion and runnerup of 1938 were missing from the scene last night at the end of the second round of the thirty-fifth annual city amateur golf tournament, but two former titleholders and one of the co-medalists were present awaiting today's dangerous double round.

Vincent Ginkus, the husky Lansing airport golfer who won last year's title, found himself on the sidelines due to a closing rush by Harry Wils, an Evanstonian who plays most of his golf at the Waveland course in Lincoln park. Wils, 36 year old owner and operator of a long distance trucking company, was one down to the champion on the 16th tee, but took the next two holes for a one up victory yesterday.

Schroeder Wins 2 and 1.

Joe Cabon of Evergreen, 1938 runnerup to Ginkus, joined Vince when he was eliminated, 2 and 1, by Chuck Schroeder of the home club, a park district architect who was even par for the 17 holes they played.

Gene Budd of Lake Hills, St. John's, Ind., won the match that produced the best golf of the day, scoring a one up decision against Frank McNamara, Chicago police champion. Budd, who shared medalist honors in Monday's qualifying round, was around in 71, only one over par, against McNamara's 72. Gene holed a 12 foot putt for a birdie on the eighteenth, just as a shower which hampered the rest of the field began to fall.

Tribune Machinist Survives.

The two surviving ex-title holders are Harold Mathisen of Woodridge, three time winner, and Hymie Judelson of Harlem, who scored in 1936. Mathisen was one under par for the fourteen holes he required to win, 5 and 4, from John Ortyl of Westgate Valley. In this morning's third round, Harold meets Bill Jacobs of Euclid Hills, CHICAGO TRIBUNE linotype machinist. Jacobs yesterday won from Ernie Simmons, Jackson Park veteran, by 2 and 1, scoring his second eagle in two days on the 475 yard fifteenth. A drive, a No. 8 iron, and a 10 foot putt turned the trick.

In eliminating champion Ginkus, Wils played the first hole poorly, losing with a six to Vince's four. The champion then three putted the fourth and missed the ninth green to be one down at the turn. Wils then overshot the tenth green, and was short at the thirteenth, going one down. He squared it with a par on the sixteenth, where Ginkus found trap trouble, and another bunker cost Ginkus the seventeenth, and eventually the match.

Today's two rounds will reduce the field to the semi-finalists, who will go thirty-six holes tomorrow. Saturday's championship match also will be over the long route.

Second round results:

UPPER BRACKET.

Sid Smith, Miami, defeated George Kuester, Jackson, 3 and 2.

W. D. Jacobs, Euclid Hills, defeated Ernie Simmons, Jackson, 2 and 1.

UPPER BRACKET.

Wils vs. Schroeder, Judelson vs. Melhope, Smith vs. Bone, Jacobs vs. Mathisen.

LOWER BRACKET.

Smith, Oddo Win 5 Round Marigold Amateur Bouts

DORY VI. WINS IN LAKE DELAVAN'S YACHT REGATTA

Dory VI., sailed by Clarence Sills Jr. of the Lake Geneva, Wis., Yacht club, won the opening race in the C class inland lake scow invitation regatta on Lake Delavan, Wis., yesterday.

The Dory finished a 10 mile windward and leeward course 2 minutes ahead of D9, sailed by Skipper Treis of the Lake Delavan Yacht club. Skip Along, owned and sailed by Barbara Wakeley of the Lake Geneva club, was third. Miss Wakeley is the daughter of Mrs. A. W. Wakeley, commodore of the Girl Scout Mariners of the Great Lakes region.

Only 35 of the 61 starters in the race were able to finish the course. A squall covered the lake and forced many skippers and crews to drop sails. Nine boats capsized. The series will continue today and end tomorrow morning.

DONALD SUFFERS 1ST LOSS; TIGERS BEAT YANKS, 7-2

Pitcher's Winning Streak of 12 Halted.

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—Disaster caught up with Rookie Atley Donald today, handing him his first defeat instead of his thirteenth victory as the Detroit Tigers stopped the Yankees again, 7 to 2.

Donald was batted out of the box in Detroit recently but escaped responsibility for the loss. Today the Tigers tore into his offerings for seven hits and six runs before bringing about his removal for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

The "13" jinx also snared Joe DiMaggio, who went hitless after a twelve game streak. The Yankees' first run was Bill Dickey's sixteenth homer in the second inning. Score:

INDIANS, RED SOX SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 2 (AP).—The Boston Red Sox kept alive their flickering pennant hopes today by pushing across two runs in the eighth for a 5 to 4 victory over Cleveland in the nightcap of a double-header, after losing the first game, 8 to 2.

Willis Hudlin was driven out in the eighth of the second game, and Harry Eisenstat, who relieved, walked Williams and Vosmik to fill the bases. Tommy Carey, pinch hitting for Johnny Peacock, came through with a scratch single to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Mel Harder tossed an eight hitter in the opener, Boston's only runs being driven in by Jimmy Foxx with a double in the first inning and his 26th homer of the year in the sixth. Score:

GIANTS HAMMER REDS TO WIN 2D STRAIGHT, 12 TO 2

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 2 (AP).—The New York Giants humbled Cincinnati's National league leaders again today, 12 to 2, on the five hit pitching of Young Bill Lohrman, who also had beaten the Reds in his last two starts against them. Lohrman also participated in the 17 hit attack on three pitchers with a double and two singles, batting in four runs.

New York bunched two big innings off Gene Thompson before he was replaced by Ray [Peaches] Davis in the sixth. Lohrman had a shutout for six innings, but Frank McCormick, making up for a wild throw he made during one Giant spree, got three hits—one of them a double in the seventh when he scored on Tony Bongiovanni's single and another his 17th home run in the ninth.

Sweeping South Bend Precincts

Gov. Townsend Boosts Layden and Elward

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 2. [Special.]—The "Boost Hoosier football" campaign, backing Mal Elward of Purdue, and Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, in the All-Star coaches poll, was given added impetus today as Gov. M. Clifford Townsend issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to support the Hoosier candidates.

Gov. Townsend wired campaign headquarters established here by the Indiana Junior Chamber of Commerce as follows:

"I wish to urge all our citizens to join in the 'Boost Hoosier football' campaign and support Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, and Mal Elward of Purdue, for coaches of the All-Star game Aug. 30. If an Indiana coach is chosen, it will be well deserved recognition of the fine football for which our state is famous."

Twenty-six junior chambers of commerce are organized in backing Elward and Layden, and Melvin Jackson, local chairman, said today that preliminary reports indicate an avalanche of votes for the Hoosiers is still to come. Boy Scouts are assisting the junior chambers.

The local campaign for Elward as first choice, Layden as second choice, and Pete Vaughan of Wabash, as third choice, was reaping votes from all parts of the country today. Votes from twenty-one states have already been received from Purdue lettermen by Dick Johnson, president of the campus "P" men's club and will be included in the final totals on Friday.

Surface Lures Used at Night to Nab Muskies

BY BOB BECKER.

Adolph Kramer, president of the Western Specialty Clubs association, the organization that holds a big dog show in Chicago in late November, recently demonstrated the value of a splashing surface lure to attract muskies in the moonlight. Kramer was in the Lake of the Woods, Canada, when he resorted to evening fishing with a top-of-the-water lure.

As is so often the case in midsummer when the weatherman gives us warm, bright days and a big moon at night, the fish are apt to take it easy during the day and feed after sundown. We have been on lakes in August and July when there was very little fishing during the day because a big bright moon was in the sky, making it ideal for pike, bass, and muskies to feed after sundown.

Having no luck with the big ones during the day when the sun was bright and hot, Kramer went out on the lake as soon as the moon was up, and put a big surface lure on his line.

Very often a bass or muskie will come on the run to anything kicking around on top of the water. Kramer brought up a 32 pound muskie that swatted the big surface plug with a vengeance. He played this husky fish for 40 minutes in the moonlight before he landed it.

gled to left, scoring Siebert and Chapman singled to center, scoring Johnson with the tying run. Nagel sent a sacrifice fly to Radcliff, scoring F. Hayes. Newsome singled to center, scoring Chapman. Lodigiani walked and Ross tapped to M. Hayes.

Marcum, who had been slated to pitch the final here tomorrow, if not called upon today, went up to bat for Dietrich in the second, then took over the pitching assignment. It was just as well he didn't wait till tomorrow.

Hayes Has Lots of Fun.

The worst abuser of Marcum was Catcher Frank Hayes. Hayes had warmed up on Dietrich with that first inning single and was ready to do some swinging when it came time to face Marcum. Frank made a homer with one on as his part of a four run romp in the fourth inning, a double to start a two run splurge in the seventh, and another homer with one on in the eighth. The only other homer off Marcum was by Bill Nagel in the fifth inning.

The meager scoring which the Sox did after the first inning was accomplished by Appling. Luke doubled and scored on a sacrifice fly in the sixth and he tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

SECOND GAME

The White Sox spent the first two innings wasting scoring opportunities. In the first Kreevich singled with two down and went to third on Appling's single, Luke reaching second on Moses' throw to third. Nelson threw out Radcliff. With one out in the second inning, Rosenthal walked and went to third on Tresh's single. Nelson deflected Rigney's smash to Nagel, who tagged Tresh, then threw to Siebert to double Rigney. Kuhel singled with one out in the third but Kreevich was called out on strikes and Appling flied to Johnson.

The fourth inning was the first in which the Sox didn't make a hit but they had a runner in scoring position nevertheless. McNair walked with one down, and, after Rosenthal had flied to Chapman, stole second. Tresh bounced to Nagel.

Sox Score Twice.

The Sox got the scoring program launched in the fifth. After Rigney had fanned, Hayes walked and stopped at third on Kuhel's double off the right field wall. Kreevich ran the count to three balls and two strikes, then lined a single to left, scoring Hayes and Kuhel. Appling and Radcliff supplied infield outs.

The sixth inning was the first in which the Sox did not get a man on base, but in the seventh they left Hayes on third. Jackie doubled with one down, went to third on Kuhel's infield out, and died there when Newsome threw out Kreevich. Radcliff wasted a single in the eighth, and Tresh beat out a bunt to open the ninth, the Sox's ninth and last hit.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 2.—The Sox and Athletics will wind up their four game series tomorrow afternoon. Edgar Smith is slated to pitch for Chicago and Bill Beckman probably will start for the A's.

Chicagoans Upset Top Seeded Pair in Meadow Club Tennis

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 2 [Special].—Norman Bickel and Marvin Wachman of Chicago, playing together at doubles for the first time, surprised spectators today at the forty-ninth annual Meadow club invitation tennis tournament by defeating top seeded Joe Hunt of San Francisco and Sidney Wood of New York in the first round, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Bickel and Wachman, products of the University of Chicago and Northwestern university, respectively, outplayed the third ranking pair of the nation after the first set. They then defeated Ladislav Hecht of Czecho-Slovakia and J. Gilbert Hall of New York, 9-7, 5-7, 6-1, to qualify for the quarter-finals.

A second major casualty was averted only by the margin of a stroke as Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., and Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, Ga., trailing 4-6, 0-5, staged a comeback to win from Robert Kamrath of Austin, Tex., and Darrell Hudlow of Phoenix, Ariz., 4-6, 8-6, 10-8. Earlier Guernsey and Bobbitt defeated Steven Ham and Stuyvesant Wainwright of New York, 6-2, 6-2.

Besides the Bickel-Wachman and Guernsey-Bobbitt entries, others to reach the quarter-finals were Gene Mako of Los Angeles and Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla.; Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, and Frankie Parker of Kansas City; Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore.; Johnny Doeg of Rumson, N. J., and Charles Mattman of New York; Chester and Bill Murphy of Chicago, and Ronald Lubin and George Toley of Los Angeles.

Mako and Mulloy, paired together for the first time, defeated Walter Messerole and Carlton Rood of Brooklyn, 6-1, 7-5, and then disposed of Edward Alloo of Berkeley, Cal., and Bryan [Bitsy] Grant of Atlanta, Ga., 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

McNeill and Parker won from Joe Fishback and Bob Low of New York, 6-3, 6-1, and from Ham Wainwright and Bryan Hamlin of New York, 7-5, 6-4.

WOMEN PLAY DOUBLES

East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—Singles competition in the invitation women's tennis tournament at the Maidstone club was held up today to give the doubles field, headed by the national and Wimbledon champions, Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, a chance to catch up.

Miss Marble and Mrs. Fabyan, who drew a first round bye, led the way into the third round with an easy 6-1, 6-2 victory over Louise Raymond, of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Patricia Cumming of Westfield, N. J.

BACK TAX PAYING MADE EASIER BY INSTALMENT WAY

Centralized Bureau's New Plan Popular.

A new monthly instalment plan to help taxpayers clear up their back taxes was explained yesterday by Arthur Sullivan, attorney for County Treasurer John Toman. The instalment payments will be handled by the county's central tax bureau, recently organized.

Under the system, by which county tax officials hope to reduce the present load of 150 million dollars in unpaid real estate taxes, the bureau's staf will discuss back tax bills with delinquent property owners and then arrange for them to pay off their obligations in monthly payments. The proposal applies only to real estate taxes.

Pass books in which payments will be recorded and the diminishing balance carried forward will be issued by the bureau to taxpayers who avail themselves of the plan.

500 Investigate in Day.

More than 500 taxpayers appeared at the bureau's office in room 212 of the county building yesterday to inquire about the plan. The bureau, which was organized with the coöperation of the various county tax officials, opened its office Tuesday.

Sullivan said names and addresses of interested property owners were taken and they were informed that conferences on individual plans would begin next week. Passbooks now are being printed, and a machine that will record payments simultaneously in the passbook and on county records is being set up.

Taxpayers who want to inquire about the plan should take their 1938 tax bills with them when they go to the bureau. Back taxes and penalties on the property will be looked up by a member of the bureau's staff and explained to the taxpayer. Efforts to work out monthly payments extending over a period of six months to two years then will be made.

Here's How Plan Works.

A taxpayer owes $300, of which $250 is for back taxes and $50 for penalties, which accrue at the rate of 1 per cent a month on delinquent tax bills. He makes an agreement with the bureau to pay $25 a month for twelve months to clear up his obligation. He receives a passbook from the bureau, and each time he pays the amount paid and the balance still due are recorded. At the end of a year his taxes are paid up.

Sullivan said many taxpayers have the notion that partial payments on tax bills are not accepted by the treasurer. This is true only if the property has been forfeited to the state for nonpayment of taxes, in which case all back taxes must be paid to the treasurer at once, he explained.

LINCOLN PARK'S NEW WATER UNIT TO GET CLEANUP

Lincoln park's new $1,128,818 water system will be cleansed today and tomorrow before being placed in operation, George T. Donoghue, Park district general superintendent, said yesterday. The system includes a 25 million gallon a day pumping station at Wilson avenue and Marine drive. It has been under construction since last summer and will replace a system installed in 1870.

To meet board of health requirements park engineers will flush the new pipe lines with heavily chlorinated water today. The flushing water will be pumped into the lake from a pipe laid across Foster avenue 50 feet east of Marine drive. Because of this outlet pipe Beach drive trafic will be rerouted from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. today and tomorrow.

Otto K. Jelinek, park trafic engineer, said eastbound trafic on Foster avenue will go south at Marine drive to Winona street and east to Beach drive. Northbound Beach drive trafic will move west in Lawrence avenue to Marine drive, north to Argyle street, west in Argyle to Sheridan road and north to Foster avenue.

WINNETKA GRADE SEPARATION JOB HALF FINISHED

Work on the elimination of nine grade crossings in Winnetka, started last winter, is about half completed, a survey showed yesterday. The project, when finished seven months from now, will do away with North Western and North Shore crossings that have claimed the lives of 28 persons in 25 years.

Eight of the crossings will be replaced with bridges and the ninth with an underpass. The Elm street bridge, which was started on Dec. 15, is a little more than half completed.

The project was authorized by voters on Nov. 1 and is being financed by a federal grant of $1,552,909 and a loan of $1,898,000, or a total of $3,450,909. Winnetka will pay approximately a million dollars of the loan through a bond issue and the two railroads will pay the other $500,000 by the same means.

STATE CENTRAL GROUP TO STUDY G. O. P. FUND PLAN

The Republican state central committee, Chairman A. K. Stiles announced yesterday, will meet in the La Salle hotel next Tuesday morning to consider the proposal of Hill Blackett, national committeeman, that he be empowered to form a state fund raising committee.

"The members also will be free to bring up any other subjects they think should be considered," said Stiles, "but I know of nothing else of importance to be taken up at this time."

Blackett's office announced that, following his return from a fortnight's vacation, he will resume his series of conferences with downstate district leaders. Meetings have been arranged in Rock Island on Aug. 15 and in Rockford on Aug. 16. Blackett has named William E. Johnson, a free lance delegate to the 1936 national convention as his political secretary.

TAFT IS URGED TO MAKE RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 2 (AP).—The Hamilton county Republican executive committee called upon Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio today to declare his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President of the United States.

A resolution passed by the committee, of which Taft is a member, was the first formal step in a campaign to place in the White House the son of the late President and Chief Justice William Howard Taft.

Informed persons said Taft would accept the call in a reply to be issued tomorrow through his Washington office. Elected to the senate last November, Taft was Ohio's favorite son candidate for the presidential nomination in 1936. He released his delegation as convention sentiment in Cleveland swung toward Alfred M. Landon, then governor of Kansas.

SPURNS WARNING OF POLICE; KILLED HOPPING TROLLEY

Earl Spencer, 16 years old, 7152 Harvard avenue, was killed yesterday when he disregarded a policeman's warning and flipped a ride on a west bound one-man 67th street surface lines car.

Spencer and Craig Carroll, 15, 347 West 72d street, returning from a swim in the lake, were clinging to the side of the street car when Trafic Policeman Walter Healy saw them at Stony Island avenue. He chased them off the car.

But when the street car crossed the avenue, the boys jumped on again, standing on a rear wheel truck on the south side of the car. In front of 1524 East 67th street, an east bound car struck the Spencer boy and knocked him to the street.

ARGYLE, IA., WOMAN DIES.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 2 [Special].—Mrs. Atha Cruze, lifelong resident of this vicinity, died yesterday at her home at Argyle. She was 77 years old.

OBITUARIES

Sonyu Otani.

TOKIO, Aug 3 [Thursday] (AP).—Sonyu Otani, president of the North China Development company, charged with industrial exploitation of the conquered North China provinces, died at Kalgan, China, of pneumonia, a Domei dispatch reported today.

He was chief abbot of the powerful Honganji sect of Japanese Buddhists until June, 1937, when he quit to take part in politics. He became minister of overseas affairs that year, the first priest in modern Japanese history to become a member of the cabinet, and resigned a year later.

In 1925-'26 Sonyu Otani visited the United States to interest youth in Buddhist religious training. He was received by President Coolidge and was the guest of honor at the Yale club, New York; of the Church Peace union, and the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Dr. Clyde I. Allen.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2 [Special].—Dr. Clyde I. Allen, member of the staff of Henry Ford hospital for seventeen years and the co-discoverer in 1935 of an antiseptic 250 times stronger than phenol, yet harmless to body tissues, died last night. He was born in Allerton, Ill. Dr. Allen was graduated from Illinois Wesleyan college in 1917 and in 1921 from Johns Hopkins university, where he received his M. D. degree.

HOME RULE LAW URGED BY HODES TO END DISCORD

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes said in a speech before a conference held at the Woman's City club yesterday that establishment of home rule for Illinois municipalities would go far toward eliminating the sectional bitterness that sometimes arises in the state.

"If Chicago has the power to conduct its own affairs in accordance with its own needs," he said, "you will find sectional misunderstandings between Chicago and downstate disappearing over night. Fears, whether imaginary or real, that one section of the state will dominate another in the legislature would evaporate instantaneously."

G. M. POE WILLS $350,000 TO CURE YOUNG CRIPPLES

George M. Poe, an investment broker, left an estate of $350,000, virtually all of which will be used to benefit crippled children. This was revealed yesterday when his will was admitted to probate by John F. Keeley, assistant to the Probate judge.

Mr. Poe died July 28 at the age of 77. He was unmarried and lived in the Hotel Hamilton, 20 South Dearborn street.

Mr. Poe left his estate in trust with the Northern Trust company as executor. For twenty-five years the income is to be paid to any American Protestant charitable institutions treating crippled children which the trustee selects. At the end of that time the principal is to be distributed to an institution or institutions of this kind.

Priest Seriously Wounded in Target Shooting Mishap

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP).—The Rev. George W. King, secretary to the late Bishop Thomas F. Lillis, was critically wounded by another priest tonight in a shooting gallery accident. The two priests shot pistols at the gallery. Father John J. Murphy laid his weapon down, thinking the magazine was empty. The pistol went off and shot Father King in the back. Father Murphy was exonerated by police.

COAL SCHEDULE LASHED AS LOAD ON CONSUMERS

Factory Costs Will Rise, Is Charge.

Manufacturing costs will be forced higher if proposed minimum coal prices are adopted, the Mississippi Valley association charged yesterday.

Cleveland A. Newton calls proposed rates unjust.

Copies of the association's protest, filed with the bituminous coal division of the department of the interior at Washington, D. C., were received in Chicago. The division is scheduled to begin hearings next Monday on prices to apply in Illinois and other middle western states.

The association charged consumers will have to bear the burden of increased selling prices if manufacturers are deprived of cheap waterway transportation rates on coal under the government's newest price fixing program.

Tells How System Would Work.

Cleveland A. Newton, general counsel and chairman of the association's executive committee, said that under the price schedule applying in the middle west "the producer of coal is directed to charge the consumer a higher price on coal if it is shipped by river than he is directed to charge if the same coal is shipped by rail." The result, he said, would be that prices at destination points would be identical "without regard to the differences in transportation rates and costs by rail and by river."

"Since the federal government has expended hundreds of millions of dollars in improving the Mississippi river system for the purpose of providing low cost transportation facilities, particularly for coal and other heavy commodities and raw materials," Newton said in his brief, "congress clearly did not intend in the bituminous coal act to destroy the economies and usefulness of these low cost transportation services."

Charges Schedule is Unfair.

Newton declared the proposed rates were "inequitable, unjust and unfair" to the consumer of coal. Members of the association who operate river barge services have protested against what they consider the injustice of the schedule, Newton said in his brief. It was filed with Harold Gray, director of the coal division, which superseded the bituminous coal commission.

Examiners for the coal division are now conducting hearings on prices to apply in eastern areas. Coal company executives in Chicago and other middle western cities have expressed opposition to the price schedule recently completed for Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and western Kentucky, grouped in price area No. 2.

Quad-City Area Plans Fight.

Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 2 (AP).—Quad-City industries, at a meeting today, prepared to raise a $10,000 fund to oppose the government's proposed new price schedules for coal, which it is claimed would add $350,000 a year to coal costs in this community.

Experts also claim the new schedule would cost interior Iowa more than $1,000,000 a year.

A committee will be named by the joint chambers of commerce to solicit the funds.

1,331 IN COUNTY BUY NEW CARS OUT OF STATE

Cook county residents purchased 1,331 new automobiles and 843 used 1939 models from out-of-state dealers in the five months ended June 30, the Chicago Automobile Trades association reported yesterday. Indiana dealers supplied most of these cars.

Enactment of a new Illinois law designed to prevent the avoidance of sales tax payments by purchases in other states is expected to reduce sales to Illinois residents in other states, the association said.

This law levies an investigation fee of $25 on an out-of-state purchase unless the purchaser can prove he owned the car ninety days prior to application for a certificate of title.

Jobs in Steel Industry Rise to 451,000 in June

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—The average number of employés at work in the steel industry in June rose to 451,000, compared with 448,000 in May and 425,000 in June, 1938, the American Iron and Steel institute announced today. June steel pay rolls aggregated $61,150,000, compared with $60,372,000 in May and $46,706,000 in June last year.

Wabbly Stocks Turn Upward on Utility Lead

New York, Aug. 2 [Special].—Buying of public utility shares in large blocks today sent the stock market into a rally which produced advances running to more than 3 points. Many utility stocks reached 1939 high marks.

Although overshadowed by the power and light group, industrials managed to show fair gains, after a wabbly start. Railroad issues, with a few exceptions, made little headway.

Volume increased on the upturn to push turnover to 1,026,530 shares. It was the first million share day this week, and doubled Monday's total. The utility group accounted for more than one-fifth of today's turnover.

Cause of Utility Buying.

Credit for the sudden burst of utility buying was almost unanimously given to congressional action in killing the President's spending program yesterday and the further cut today in deficiency appropriations. Although some traders regarded the economy move as bearish, particularly for consumer industries, the vast majority in the financial district welcomed it as definitly bullish in the long run.

The reason given for utility leadership was that congressional independence means a real curb on government interference with business. The utilities, most harried by government planners, stood to benefit most by the change of attitude, it was generally agreed.

Market Weak at Start.

The market got off to a weak start, but this soon was forgotten as an eager demand for utilities sprang up in the second hour. Other groups trailed along as the power and light shares approached or ran into new high ground for this year. Industrials and rails eased slightly in the final hour, but utilities held strong.

Columbia Gas and Electric common rose ⅝ in heaviest trade. One of its preferred issues ran up 4½ points. Public Service of New Jersey common and preferred both pushed to new high marks, the latter on a 3½ point rise. Engineers Public Service, up 1, and Electric Power and Light, up ⅞, were among the most active issues. Commonwealth and Southern preferred, National Power & Light, Brooklyn Union Gas, and Federal Light and Traction, all reached new 1939 tops.

Electric and communication shares joined the utility advance. American Telephone rose 1⅛. Westinghouse Electric was up 1⅝.

Chemicals were among the strongest issues in the industrial list. Dow climbed 4½, Monsanto gained 2, and du Pont set another new peak for the year on a 1 point advance.

Steels and motors finished with fractional gains. Aircraft stock were irregular. Oils, rubber, farm equipment, and merchandising shares did little.

H. F. GRADY TO HEAD STATE DEPARTMENT TRADE PACT SECTION

Washington, D. C., Aug 2 [Special].—Henry F. Grady, vice chairman of the tarif commission, today was nominated by President Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of state. He will succeed Francis B. Sayre, new high commissioner to the Philippines. The nominee, specialist in international trade, will have charge of the reciprocal trade agreements section of the department.

Henry F. Grady.

Grady was chief of the section from 1934 to 1936, when many of the administration's reciprocal trade agreements were negotiated. He was appointed to the tarif commission in 1937.

In the years just following the world war, Grady was trade commissioner and acting commercial attaché in London. In 1921 he became chief of the division of research of the division of foreign and domestic commerce and went from that post to become a lecturer of the college of commerce of the University of California, of which he became dean in 1928.

Stock Exchange Member Borrowings Rise in July

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—Collateral borrowings by New York Stock exchange members—"street loans" to the trade—totaled $553,767,240 at the close of business July 31, a gain of $16,505,281 over the June 30 total, the exchange announced today. The lowest figure such loans have reached since 1929 was $241,599,943 on Aug. 1, 1932, which compared with a record high of $8,549,383,979 on Oct. 1, 1929.

Bills for Probe of Mexican Oil Seizure Killed

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP).—With Senator Borah [R., Idaho] taking the lead, the senate foreign relations committee today killed two resolutions for an investigation of circumstances surrounding the seizure of American oil property by the Mexican government.

The committee decided unanimously, on Borah's motion, that neither of the resolutions was properly before it and that no facts were stated in either which justified an investigation by a special three member committee, as suggested. It then voted to report both bills adversely.

Led by Bridges.

The resolutions were introduced as the outgrowth of the action by Senator Bridges [R., N. H.] in reading to the senate last week newspaper reports linking the name of Senator Guffey [D., Pa.] with persons who negotiated the sale of oil by Mexico from the seized properties.

Bridges, who asked in one of the resolutions for an investigation of negotiations carried on for the sale or barter of the oil, said he may renew his proposal at the next session of congress. He told reporters that he understood there had been "plenty of pressure from various sources" to block any investigation.

Guffey Leaves Meeting.

Guffey left the committee room when the Bridges resolution and a similar measure by Senator Neely [D., W. Va.] were taken up. Having asserted in the senate that the stories read by Bridges were "100 per cent false" as far as he was concerned, Guffey was reported to have told the committee that he was neither urging nor opposing an investigation.

Senator Borah said it was his thought in moving to report the resolutions adversely that if they were to be considered at all they should have been sent to the senate privileges and elections committee and not to the foreign relations group.

American Telephone Units Add 11,200 Stations in July

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—The American Telephone and Telegraph company announced today its subsidiaries in the Bell system had a net gain of 11,200 telephones in service during July. In July, 1938, the companies showed a net decrease of 6,700 stations.

MOST FEDERAL CORN BINS TO BE IN ILLINOIS, IOWA

Number for Chicago Area Not Known.

Most of the corn to be stored under a new federal loan plan for agriculture will be located in new government-owned steel storage bins in Illinois and Iowa, grain men said yesterday. Facilities for storing grain in these states are largely exhausted because of the storage of past crops and the necessity of making space available for new crops about to be harvested, it was explained.

Minnesota is expected to rank third in the number of 1,000 and 2,000 bushel steel storage bins on which the government sought bids for a total of 30,666. The bins will be used to store about 50,000,000 bushels of corn on which the government has advanced loans to farmers at the rate of 57 cents a bushel. The bins will be round, with conical shaped tops, and will be ventilated to permit the circulation of air but exclude water.

Chicago Area Number Uncertain.

Government officials at Chicago said they did not know how many of the bins will be built in this area. Spokesmen for Carl M. Bornet, Cook county chairman of the agriculture conservation program, said it was too early to gauge accurately the sentiment of farmers toward the government proposal to extend the corn loans for another year. Loans were scheduled to expire Aug. 1, but the government offered to renew them and, as an inducement, offered farmers a storage payment of 7 cents a bushel to reseal the grain on the farm.

Officials said the storage bins will be constructed to accommodate shelled corn.

Farmers have 257 million bushels of 1937 and 1938 crop corn sealed on government loans, of which 27 million bushels are 1937 grain that has been resealed. According to the announcement of the loan renewal, the 1937 corn can be repledged for loans only when shelled, but the 1938 crop can be resealed either as ear or shelled corn.

Shelling Costs Cent a Bushel.

The cost of shelling corn is usually placed at 1 cent a bushel. Heretofore, most of the shelled corn placed in storage has been stored in elevators. Corn stored on the farms is usually ear corn.

Grain men regard farm storage of shelled corn as hazardous and declare the best means of storage is in elevators. Unless properly handled, the corn will absorb moisture and ferment, it is said. Elevator storage costs an average of 7 cents a bushel for a year.

In Iowa alone, farmers are storing 259 million bushels of corn, including the grain pledged for the loans, or about 45 per cent of the 1938 crop and the carryover from the preceding season. Farm stocks in Illinois are estimated at 192 million bushels.

With government loans on wheat expected to take up much of the available space in terminal and subterminal markets, any effort to store 257 million bushels of shelled corn would result in lack of storage room, grain

Mints Turn Out $1,972,820 of Coins During Last Month

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP).—The treasury said today the Philadelphia and San Francisco mints turned out $1,972,820 of coins during July. The Denver mint staff was on vacation during the month. Coinage included 542,000 half dollars, 2,060,000 quarters, 7,910,000 dimes, 6,346,000 Jefferson nickels, and 7,852,000 pennies.

Damage to Canadian Wheat Pushes Prices of Grain Higher

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$ .65½	$ .64⅞	$ .67½
Corn	.42⅛	.41⅞	.54¾
Oats	.27⅝	.27½	.23½
Rye	.41⅜	.41	.45
Soy beans	.68¾	.68¼	.83

Extremely unfavorable crop reports on spring wheat in the Canadian northwest dominated the action of North American markets yesterday. Prices on the Chicago Board of Trade moved up about 1 cent at one time, but reacted slightly and closed ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher.

Corn was firmer in sympathy with wheat, but bullish sentiment was dampened in this grain by reports of good rains in parts of Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, and eastern Kansas. Corn futures closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher. Price changes in oats and rye were confined to small fractions.

Professionals Are Buyers.

A number of professional speculators were reported to have taken the bull side of wheat. They were impressed by the unfavorable character of the crop reports, it was said. Wheat on a strip of land embracing about 2,000,000 acres in east central Saskatchewan was reported to be a total failure.

The Saskatchewan wheat pool reported the condition of spring wheat in that province at 104 per cent of normal, compared with 116 per cent a week ago. The report was construed as indicating a yield of about 16½ bushels an acre. The aggregate crop for the province, based on seeded acreage, was estimated by statisticians at 234,000,000 bushels, or about 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's harvest.

Hedging Pressure Lacking.

Lack of hedging pressure marked American wheat markets yesterday, brokers said. Cash interests were good buyers of futures in the early trading.

Corn traders regarded the weather bureau weekly crop summary as somewhat more favorable than expected, although irreparable damage was shown in the more western and southwestern parts of the country. Chicago statisticians will issue their estimates on the probable corn crop at 10 o'clock today.

TREASURY MAY LEVY EXTRA DUTY ON FOREIGN PULP

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP).—The treasury said today it may have to impose anti-dumping tarif duties against wood pulp from certain foreign countries shipping it to the United States at less than cost. Need for the action, it was said, was indicated by a preliminary investigation of the situation.

Making public a letter sent to American wood pulp producers who requested the original investigation, the treasury did not identify the countries charged with dumping, but it was learned that one of those under investigation was Germany.

Wood pulp ordinarily is imported duty free, but if the final treasury investigation shows that it is being "dumped," a compensating tarif could be imposed on pulp from the dumping country.

"The result of the preliminary investigation conducted by the officials of this department indicates injury to the domestic wood pulp industry by reason of the importation of foreign wood pulp at low prices," the letter said.

$12,000,000 SALES PREDICTED FOR MARKET EVENTS

More than $12,000,000 of new business will have been placed in Chicago before mid August by merchants attending market events in connection with the meeting of the Interstate Merchants' council, it was predicted yesterday. The estimate was made by officers of the Chicago Association of Commerce, which is sponsoring the fall trade and style shows.

Lawrence H. Whiting, commerce association vice president in charge of trade promotion, said orders by visiting retailers are running about 5 per cent ahead of 1938. Women's wear, millinery, linens, and household furnishing are the principal lines showing gains, he said. Commitments for Christmas holiday merchandise were described as unusually heavy.

German Money Circulation Rises to Another New Peak

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Currency circulation in Germany has reached a new peak. The Reichsbank statement today put the total for the last week of July at 11,209,000,000 marks [about $4,483,600,000].

BIG BANKERS WATCH WALL STREET'S CORN CROP; OUTLOOK GOOD

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—The month long drouth has spared the only corn field in Manhattan's financial district.

Wall street banking leaders were optimistic over the outlook for the ten flourishing corn plants in a corner of the churchyard of St. Paul's chapel at Church and Vesey streets. John Stehlik, gardener, who planted the corn, said it would be ripe in two weeks. The "crop" is valued at less than 50 cents.

COAL LOADINGS AT ERIE PORTS SET NEW HIGH

Cleveland, O., Aug. 2 (AP).—The Ore and Coal exchange reported today that 1,652,926 tons of bituminous coal were loaded into Great Lakes vessels at Lake Erie ports in the week ended July 31—an all time record for the last week of July.

This volume represented 1,611,323 tons of cargo coal and 41,603 tons of fuel coal. In the corresponding week of 1938 the tonnage was 1,320,388. Shipments for the season to date total 14,201,025 tons, compared with 14,511,553 tons a year ago.

PROFITS DROP FOR CALIFORNIA STANDARD OIL

Less Than Half of Year Ago Earnings.

Standard Oil Company of California reported much lower earnings yesterday for the first half of 1939 than a year earlier. Its profit fell to $7,117,604, equal to 54 cents a share, from $15,413,435 or $1.18 a share in the six months ended June 30, 1938.

F. B. Davis Jr. reports U. S. Rubber sales rise.

The company, one of the largest producers and distributors of petroleum products, had net income of $3,891,587, equal to 29 cents a share, in the three months ended June 30. In the corresponding period last year profit was $8,282,949, or 64 cents a share.

Rubber Firm Has Profit.

United States Rubber company reported net profit of $4,465,397, equal to $1.18 a share, in the first half of 1939. This compared with net loss of $239,213 for the corresponding period last year. F. B. Davis Jr., chairman, told stockholders that net sales were $88,359,048, an increase of 30 per cent over sales in the first six months of 1938.

American Woolen company, leading American manufacturer of woolens and worsted fabrics, announced net profit of $357,670, before federal income taxes, for the first six months of this year. This compared with net loss of $4,750,487 in the corresponding period last year.

Unfilled Orders Hold Steady.

Moses Pendleton, president of American Woolen, said in a letter to stockholders that unfilled orders on hand June 30 were about the same as on Dec. 31, 1938, assuring "reasonably satisfactory operations for the next few months." Sales for the six months ended June 30 amounted to $30,719,436, an increase of 83 per cent over sales of $16,746,242 in the first half of 1938.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, Aug. 2 [Special].—Utility issues led domestic corporate bonds upward today. Gains of fractions to two or more points were shown by the leaders. Transactions totaled $5,901,100, face value, compared with $4,316,100 on Tuesday.

Only scattered offerings appeared in the opening minutes of trading. Traders attributed the hesitancy to overnight news that the house of representatives had killed the administration's lending bill. Some feared securities of companies which would have profited from government lending for construction and other projects would sell lower.

Utilities pushed ahead, however, when some other investors took the view the defeat of the lending bill would lead to a lessening of federal stress on competitive government power projects. With utilities setting the pace, prices stiffened throughout the list. Power loans, industrials, and many rails moved upward.

Among issues which were 1 to 2 points or more higher were Portland General Electric 4½s at 18⅜, Studebaker 6s at 94⅝, Western Union 5s of '60 at 74¼, International Telephone 5s at 66½, and Baltimore and Ohio first 4s of '48 at 62¾.

As further details of New York City's plan to buy the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit lines were revealed, New York traction issues turned strong.

Fractional losses were registered by New York Central 5s at 56⅞, National Dairy 3¾s of '51, with warants, at 107¼, and Great Northern 4s of '46, series G, at 100⅛.

United States government issues closed 2/32s of a point higher to 1/32 lower. German and Italian loans moved up fractionally, while Japanese issues lost ground slightly.

Chicago Stocks.

Most of the active issues traded on the Chicago Stock exchange sold at fractionally higher levels yesterday. Middle West reached a new 1939 high at 10 and closed just below that level. Commonwealth Edison, Bendix and Zenith closed unchanged. Of 108 issues traded, forty-seven closed higher, twenty-seven lower, and thirty-four unchanged. In limited trading, Kellogg Switchboard advanced a point and North West Utilities rose 1½ points, both reaching new highs for the year.

The exchange's executive committee approved the listing of 140,000 additional no par value capital shares of the Chain Belt company. Most of the stock was issued in connection with the acquisition of the business of the Baldwin-Cuckworth Chain corporation.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices were irregular yesterday in trading at New York. Cottonseed oil, rubber, No. 1 silk, and cocoa recorded small declines. Hides and copper futures advanced, and domestic sugar and lead, tin, and zinc closed unchanged. Wool tops and world sugar prices were mixed.

Electrolytic copper was sold as high as 10.55 cents a pound. This compared with Tuesday's quotation of 10.45 cents, and Saturday's price of 10.40 cents. Business showed signs of slowing down at the higher levels, however, and most sales were made at 10.45 to 10.50 cents.

Trade reports indicated the foreign cartel's July sales, totaling about 75,000 tons, about balanced output.

Recent firmness in rubber has been stimulated by increased demand. London advices said Germany has been buying rubber by diverting European bound cargoes to Hamburg, asking delivery within two weeks.

Coffee futures continued upward, Santos rising 0.02 to 0.06 cent a pound, and Rio gaining 0.02 cent a pound.

COTTON

American cotton markets yesterday reversed their action of the previous day and declined sharply. Closing trades were near the bottom with net losses of .07 to .14 cent a pound. Houses with foreign connections sold futures toward the close. There was also some hedging pressure and profit taking. The aggregate trade was small.

Three private estimates on the prospective cotton crop were issued yesterday, ranging from 11,005,000 to 11,765,000 bales. Last year's harvest was 11,943,000 bales and the 1928-'37 average 13,800,000 bales.

Spot cotton closed 10 to .19 cent lower with New York, 9.60 cents; New Orleans, 9.31 cents; Houston, 9.15 cents, and Galveston at 9.12 cents a pound. Prices follow:

STRIKE PREVENTS RISE IN WEEK'S OUTPUT OF STEEL

Production Near 60 Pct. of Capacity.

The strike at the Fisher body plant of the General Motors corporation at Detroit was the sole factor preventing an increase in the steel industry's operating rate this week, Iron Age said yesterday. The strike has delayed work on 1940 model automobiles.

The publication placed this week's steel output at about 60 per cent of capacity. Last week's rate was 60.6 per cent.

Automobile makers other than General Motors, the survey said, are moving quickly toward the 1940 production. Three press reviews of new models are scheduled for the first half of this month.

Ford Orders Steel.

The Ford Motor company has ordered 50,000 tons of steel and will need twice as much for initial production. A rising trend in automobile assemblies is expected before the end of August.

A bright spot in the week's steel news was resumption of volume buying of line pipe by oil companies whose purchases have lagged so far this year. Standard Oil of Indiana bought about 38,000 tons of seamless pipe for two lines totaling 660 miles, and Shell Union Oil bought about 4,500 tons of seamless pipe for an eastern line. A natural gas line order, which will require about 27,000 tons of 16 inch pipe, is pending.

Armament Buying Heavy.

Armament buying was a feature of the week's purchases with the navy department ordering 21,300 tons of plates, sheets and strips for the two 45,000 ton battleships now under construction. Awards of fabricated structural steel amounted to 25,000 tons, but were not as large as in recent weeks.

The steel price structure continued to strengthen because some consumers underestimated their sheet and strip requirements during the May price war, it was said. They have tried to add to their low priced commitments without success, the survey reported. The Iron Age composite scrap price moved up 4 cents to $15.17 a ton.

INVESTING FIRMS REPORT CHANGES IN ASSET VALUES

Quarterly Income Shares, Inc., investment firm of Jersey City, N. J., reported to shareholders yesterday that the net asset value of its capital stock was $8.02 per share July 15. This compared with $7.78 April 15 and $9.86 July 15, 1938. Securities owned at the close of the latest period had a market value of $20,934,544, compared with $20,205,088 on April 15.

Net asset value of the common stock of Alliance Investment corporation, a general management investment trust, as of June 30, was $1.50 a share. This compared with $3.44 a share Dec. 31, 1938, and $2.06 a share June 30, 1938.

Bullock Fund, Ltd., a restricted management investment trust, reported net assets on June 30 equaled $12.06 a share, against $15.89 a share Dec. 31, 1938, and $13.81 a share June 30, 1938.

Air Investors, Inc., a company investing in and participating in the underwriting of securities of aircraft and other firms, reported net assets on June 30 equaled $36.37 on the preferred stock, compared with $38.48 a year earlier.

Continental Casualty's Business Sets New Peak

The Continental Casualty company of Chicago announced yesterday that net premiums written during the first six months of 1939 totaled $11,767,513, a new high mark for any corresponding period in the company's history. The total was an increase of 9 per cent over last year. The total of the affiliated Continental Assurance company was $15,180,214, an increase of 6 per cent.

William E. Clow Jr.

William E. Clow Jr., president of James B. Clow & Sons, yesterday bought a forty acre tract at the southwest corner of Green Bay and Westleigh roads, Lake Forest. The price was $70,000, according to revenue stamps on the deed. Gilbert Rayner was broker. The sellers were Charles E. Brown of the Okonite company; Edmund A. Russell of the Otis Elevator company, and the Continental National Bank and Trust company, executors for the James O. Heyworth estate.

Brown, Russell, and Heyworth bought the property in 1905 for $30,000. At the time they intended to build homes but this was never done, and the property has remained vacant ever since.

Clow, it is understood, will build a residence for himself from plans by Stanley Anderson, and may sell some of the rest of the tract.

WISCONSIN MAN NEW MEMBER OF STOCK EXCHANGE

Governors of the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday approved the election to membership of Donald A. Gordon of La Crosse, Wis., a partner of Carter Harrison & Co. of Chicago and La Crosse.

"The company is the fourteenth with important offices in the middle west outside of Chicago, and not holding memberships in an eastern stock exchange, to join the Chicago exchange within recent years," said Robert J. Fischer, chairman of the exchange's admissions committee.

Fischer attributed this growth to "increasing public recognition of the exchange as the security market place for this area."

The governors also adopted a new rule on trading procedure to preserve the precedence of a customer's order held by a floor broker, even though the broker leaves his trading post temporarily.

WEEK'S POWER PRODUCTION IS SECOND LARGEST

Production of electricity in the week ended July 29 was the second largest for any seven day period in history, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

Output of 2,341,822,000 kilowatt hours compared with the all-time peak of 2,362,947,000 kilowatt hours, established in the week ended Dec. 24, 1938.

Production showed a gain of 11.8 per cent over 1938. In the preceding week the increase over 1938 was 10.1 per cent.

Electricity output of the Commonwealth Edison company system, intercompany sales deducted, in the week ended July 29 totaled 139,168,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 11.4 per cent over 1938. The preceding week's output was 10.2 per cent larger than a year earlier.

PUT COTTONSEED PRODUCT, LARD ON SURPLUS LIST

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP).—Secretary Wallace announced today that lard and cottonseed shortening would be added to the list of surplus commodities distributed among relief clients under the agriculture department's stamp plan.

The blue flood stamps, which are distributed free to relief clients, will be good for the purchase of these products at regular grocery stores in Rochester, N. Y.; Dayton, O.; Seattle, Wash.; Birmingham, Ala.; Des Moines, Ia., and Pottawatomie county, Okla. Other commodities on the list include dairy products, vegetables, fruits, eggs and flour.

PROFITS DROP FOR CALIFORNIA STANDARD OIL

Less Than Half of Year Ago Earnings.

same period of 1938 is encouraging," Pendleton said, "earnings in relation to the volume of sales and capital employed were not satisfactory at any time during the half year just completed. Inventories of goods in hands of garment manufacturers and retailers are not excessive, and orders now being received indicate a good volume of business for the 1940 spring season."

Willys Cuts Quarter Loss.

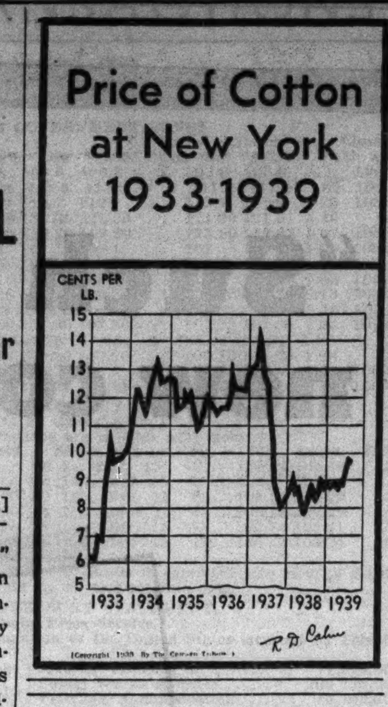
Bids for School Building Run Below First Estimate

John C. Christensen, board of education architect, said yesterday that low bids received on eighteen contracts for the construction of the new Brownell school building, 6500 Perry avenue, totaled $210,000. The original estimate for the building was $225,000. The Thorgersen and Ericksen Construction company was low bidder for the masonry contract with a quotation of $81,700. The building will replace one destroyed by fire last February.



PLAN IMMEDIATE START ON WELLS HOUSING PROJECT

Work on the Ida B. Wells housing project, which will provide homes for 1,662 Negro families on the south side, will begin immediately, it was learned yesterday. A bid of $6,934,000 for construction of the project was approved in Washington by Nathan Straus, United States Housing authority administrator.

Joseph W. McCarthy, chairman of the Chicago Housing authority, said the first work shanties are now being erected and that construction would begin as soon as possible. The bid, which includes general construction, site improvement, plumbing, heating, and electrical work, was made by the Thompson-Starrett company of New York.

NEW BOX FIRM TO OPEN SOON ON SOUTH SIDE

The south side will get another new industry. G. A. Bell, president of the Marion National Bank of Marion, Ind., yesterday bought the old National Radiator plant, vacant for the last nine years. The plant occupies a 12 acre site at 1111 East 83d street. It will be occupied by a newly formed Indiana concern known as the Abell Box corporation as soon as alterations costing approximately $50,000 are completed. These will require about 90 days, it was said.

The new plant, which will employ 250 persons, will manufacture corrugated fiber containers.

According to the revenue stamps on the deed the Hoyne Industrial Salvage company, seller, received $50,000, all cash.

It is understood that the Indiana Fiber Products company, also controled by Bell, and which has a small plant at 6550 La Vergne avenue, in the Clearing industrial district, will be merged with the new concern.

Business Bits

W. Laurence Dickey, who has been staff commercial representative of the Automatic Electric company of Chicago, has been elected vice president of the American Automatic Electric Sales company. Dickey will move to San Francisco Sept. 1. Prior to coming to Chicago he was for several years editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post.

Chester T. Price has been elected senior vice president of Compressed Industrial Gases, Inc., H. B. Pearson, president, announced. Price succeeds E. A. Faulhaber, retired. H. B. Pearson Jr. was elected secretary and treasurer, succeeding W. J. Moran.

William E. Dever has resigned as regional counsel for the Home Owners Loan corporation in Chicago and will return to the private practice of law. Bettin Stalling, who has been with the corporation's Washington, D. C., legal staff, will succeed Dever in Chicago.

Joseph Lasham, founder of the Lasham Cartage company, 2601 Archer avenue, has resigned as its vice president. Lasham sold his stock interest in the company several years ago to United States Freight company. His successor is Carl A. Waltz of New York. Charles Biele, formerly with Universal Carloading and Dispatching company, a subsidiary of United States Freight, has been appointed general manager of the Lasham company.

BARGAINING UNIT SPLIT OUTLAWED BY LABOR BOARD

A. F. L. Groups Losers in American Can Case.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 [Special].—Employés of an industrial company may not split away from a dominant and recognized collective bargaining unit to join a minority organization for purposes of bargaining, the national labor relations board ruled today. It made the ruling in a 2 to 1 decision dealing with employés of the American Can company in Brooklyn.

In a precedent making decision to which Chairman J. Warren Madden dissented, the board dismissed petitions filed by three American Federation of Labor craft unions in behalf of about twenty employés of the company. These unions were the Operating Engineers local 30, Firemen and Oilers local 56 and local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Election Held in 1937.

On July 15, 1937, an election was held at the company's Brooklyn plant under the supervision of the regional director of the labor board. As a result of this election, its Steel Workers Organization committee, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, was chosen exclusive bargaining agent. On Aug. 18, the S. W. O. C. and the company entered into an exclusive bargaining contract covering all factory employés except lithographers, truckmen, executive, supervisory, and salaried clerical employés.

In August, 1938, when the S. W. O. C. and the company were engaged in negotiating a renewal of the 1937 contract, representatives of the engineers and firemen and oilers attempted to bargain and requested a conference.

Renews S. W. O. C. Contract.

The superintendent replied that he would consider the requests. On Sept. 6 he notified representatives of the three unions that the company had renewed its contract with the S. W. O. C. The craft unions thereupon filed petitions for certification by the board.

Board members Dr. William Leiserson and Donald W. Smith refused to permit the engineers, firemen, and oilers, and electrical workers to separate themselves from the main body of employés as separate bargaining units.

TOY EXPORTS GAIN 22%.

United States toy exports in the first six months of this year had a value of $1,124,394, an increase of 22 per cent over exports for the comparable 1938 period, the commerce department reported. Lessened foreign competition in the domestic toy market was indicated, the department said, by the fact that the value of imports for this period declined 12 per cent to a value of $525,426.

NASHVILLE SELLS 15 MILLION ISSUE IN UTILITY DEAL

Part of Bonds Reoffered to Investors.

The city of Nashville, Tenn., yesterday sold a $15,000,000 bond issue in connection with its acquisition of part of the properties of the Tennessee Electric Power company. Salomon Brothers and Hutzler was the high bidder, buying the issue on a net interest cost basis of 2.32 per cent.

Part of the issue will be reoffered today. The bonds carry interest coupons of 3¼ per cent for the 1942 to 1945 maturities, and 2¼ per cent coupons from 1946 to 1959. The bonds, except for maturities beyond 1954, will be offered on a yield basis ranging from 0.85 to 2.40 per cent.

Ends Long Controversy.

Purchase of the electric properties ended a long controversy between the Tennessee Valley authority, the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, the National Power and Light company, and various municipalities. The TVA, the city of Chattanooga and thirty-four other purchasers joined with Nashville in buying extensive power properties for $78,600,000. The TVA allocated $14,200,000 as Nashville's share of the payment for the properties.

Public offering also will be made today of 362,588 no par common shares of the Washington Gas Light company, one of the oldest utility enterprises in the country, operating in Washington, D. C. An underwriting group headed by the First Boston corporation and Glore, Forgan & Co. will market the shares at $29.50 a share.

Distributes Controling Interest.

The offering has attracted much attention because it is the first major distribution of a controling interest in an operating utility as a step in liquidation of a holding company under provisions of the holding company act.

The shares being offered were acquired in 1928 by the Washington and suburban companies, and represent 83 per cent of the operating company's voting stock. To comply with provisions of the holding company act, Washington and suburban is selling its entire holdings.

Underwriters Named.

Pacific Western Oil corporation filed an amendment with the Securities and Exchange commission, naming the underwriters of its $2,100,000 of 3½ per cent sinking fund debentures, due Aug. 1, 1949.

The company plans to use the proceeds to discharge notes payable to Harris Trust and Savings bank and the First National Bank of Chicago, amounting to $2,100,000.

Corn Growth Rapid.

Aug. 2, 1939.

CORN at the farm has continued to make rapid growth despite dry weather during the last several days. The crop apparently never has suffered for lack of moisture since it was planted.

Silage yields should be exceptionally heavy this year because of the rank growth of the corn plants. The corn is high and the stalks have developed an unusual amount of foliage. The yield of grain also should be heavy if the weather continues favorable. Most stalks have two or three ears.

Virtually all the corn has been pollinated and the ears are filling. Ears examined yesterday were evenly filled with kernels, indicating thorough pollination. This was made possible by favorable weather during the period that farmers refer to as the "critical pollination stage" of the corn.

Pollination Stage.

Just what is meant by the critical pollination stage can best be understood by a study of the growing habit of the corn plant. Each corn plant contains both male and female flowers. The tassel at the top of the stalk is the male or staminate flower. The pollen forms there. The female or pistillate flowers are a part of the shoots which come out about half way up the stalk. These eventually form the ears.

The pollen grains in the tassel usually ripen and are shed two or three days before the silks on the same plant appear. This makes each plant dependent upon other plants for most of the pollen to fertilize its silks. That is why a plant growing alone in a field seldom produces a well filled ear.

In case of extremely hot or dry weather at tasseling time the tassels are likely to turn white and dry up so there will not be enough pollen grains left to fertilize the silks that appear later. When this happens the ears fail to fill out properly because the kernels develop only when the silks are fertilized with pollen. There is a silk for every kernel.

Storm May Damage Silks.

Sometimes a hard rain or wind storm just as the silks are forming will damage some of the silks or knock off many of the pollen grains, causing poor pollination and resulting in ears only partially filled with kernels.

When a pollen grain falls on the end of a silk [which extends beyond the tip of the husk] it makes its way down through the silk to the ovary at the base and there unites with the female cell to start the development of the kernel. The silks near the middle of the cob usually are ready for fertilization first. Then those toward the ends gradually develop and are fertilized.

Nature takes no chances on having silks go unfertilized for lack of pollen. An average ear of corn has 500 or 600 kernels, while the plant on which it grows produces approximately twenty million grains of pollen.

"Such a demand that a new company was formed"

Dear Mr McMahon

Tribune readers have rolled up such a demand for our summer slack suits that a new company, The Rothley Corporation, was formed in Chicago to continue making high quality sportswear which will be sold to fine stores throughout the country.

Our ads repeated several times every week since last March in the Tribune, together with the splendid styling and fine tailoring in the garments themselves, already have sold over 32,000 women's and 28,000 men's slack suits in our Chicago store.

Yours very truly

ON MAY 14 last year, Maurice L Rothschild placed in the Tribune two 220-line advertisements featuring a new type of summer slack suits. One was addressed to women, the other to men.

So great was the response that both ads were repeated a few days later. Again the offers clicked. Before the season was over the ads had been run 39 times, and were famous throughout the clothing industry which read in its trade press how they had sold more than 20,000 garments.

In preparing for the 1939 season, Maurice L Rothschild arranged with a manufacturer to take over his entire output. Then last March the campaign began all over again in the Tribune, with ads appearing several times a week.

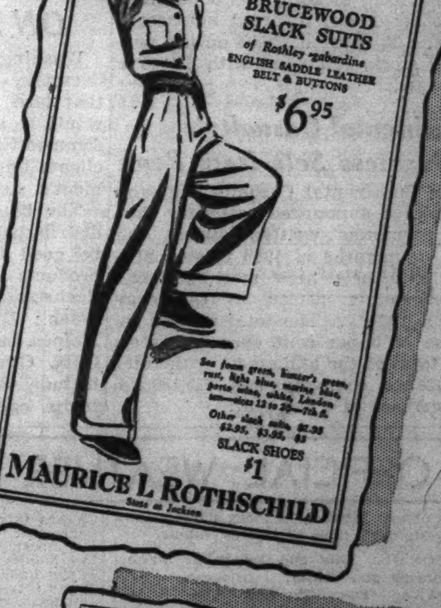
From March 18 through July 19, ads appeared 92 times—and sales exceeded 32,000 suits to women and more than 28,000 to men.

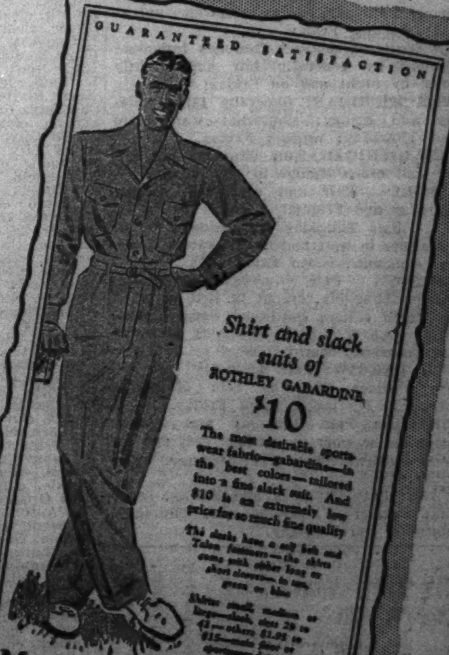
Now a new company, The Rothley Corporation, employing over 100 people has been established in Chicago in order to assure a quality product and adequate stocks not only for the Maurice L Rothschild stores but for fine stores throughout the country.

This achievement highlights the advantages enjoyed by advertisers who address Chicago through the medium from which it is accustomed to do the major share of its buying.

Every day of the week, the Tribune is read by a majority of all the families in metropolitan Chicago. This is practically as many families as are reached by any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

Are you taking full advantage of the opportunities for expansion and growth which the Tribune offers?





Typical of the 92 Maurice L Rothschild advertisements in the Tribune this year which have resulted in the sale of more than 60,000 men's and women's slack suits are the ones reproduced in small size above.

CORN CROP AGAIN DETERIORATES IN PARTS OF WEST

Makes Good to Excellent Progress Elsewhere.

The corn crop continued to deteriorate during the last week in Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Elsewhere the crop made good to excellent progress. A soaking rain would be beneficial over a large part of the corn belt, the review said.

Temperatures in the plains region and the vicinity of the western Great Lakes averaged 3 to 9 degrees above normal in the week, the weather bureau said. Rainfall was heavy in Indiana. Moderate to heavy showers fell in parts of Ohio, southern Illinois, northern Kentucky, southern Minnesota, and more limited areas in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, and Wisconsin.

Conditions were favorable for threshing, haying, and other farm work in most western and central areas, but rains hampered field work in parts of the east.

Reports on Rainfall.

Conditions by States.

ILLINOIS—More rain needed in many areas, urgently in some of the central and southern regions. Progress of corn good to excellent, excep fair in areas in central and south. Soy beans generally good to excellent.

IOWA—Condition of corn generally good to excellent, although the leaves dried up in localities where rain is lacking, mostly in the south. Threshing of oats and barley more than half done.

MICHIGAN—Corn, beans, and potatoes have withstood drouth well, but further relieving rains would help in south and must come soon in central and northern areas.

NEBRASKA—Corn continues to deteriorate because of drouth except where rainfall was adequate in a few east central counties. Condition of about half the acreage is fair.

Showers Aid in Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN—Showers helped corn and potatoes. Second driest July on record in southeast area. Corn crop good in southwest; variable elsewhere.

INDIANA—Frequent rains beneficial for corn; condition ranges from good to excellent.

MINNESOTA — Heavy rains in south central counties; elsewhere no rain of consequence. Corn good to excellent in principal producing areas.

A large part of the Canadian northwest has had no rain during the last week. Precipitation in inches for the week ended at 6:30 a. m. Aug. 2 and from April 1 to Aug. 2 as compiled by Sanford Evans, Winnipeg, and wired to J. S. Bache & Co. follow:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

After a steady to 10 cent higher opening yesterday the market for hogs lost the early gains. The bulk of the supply went over the scales at prices that were mostly steady with the average on Tuesday.

Weakness in wholesale markets for fresh pork offset the effects of a decrease in hog receipts. Top light loins declined 50 cents a hundred pounds to $19. Heavy loins held steady.

TURN IT IN.

I have had a few shares of Radio Corporation of America's preferred stock for the last fifteen years. I always received dividends until a few years ago. About a week ago I received a letter stating that I was to turn in my stock for $55 a share. It is worth $65 a share on the stock market. Must I send it in? Why must I take $55 a share when the stock is selling for $65 a share on the stock exchange?—A. K.

Answer: You probably own the old preferred "A" 7 per cent $50 par stock of this company. Holders of a majority of this class of stock [as well as holders of other classes of stock] voted in favor of a recapitalization plan for the company in 1936. The old preferred stock was retired at $55 a share and an accrued dividend of 87½ cents a share.

The preferred stock you see quoted at about $65 a share is the new $3.50 cumulative preferred stock, issued under the 1936 recapitalization plan. This is not your stock, and you could not sell your stock for $65 a share. All that you will ever be able to get for it is $55 a share.

If you had turned your stock in at the time it was called you might have purchased the new preferred. While you have received no dividends in the last few years, regular payments have been made on the new preferred. Even if, after getting $55 a share, you had kept the money in a bank you would have received interest for it.

The stock should be turned in to the company.

MOST FOR YOUR MONEY.

How should a husband and wife open bank accounts in order to receive Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance on the largest possible sum?—W. G.

Answer: The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insures each account in banks which are members of the corporation up to $5,000. To take maximum advantage of this, a husband and wife should set up three accounts—one for each and a joint account. In that way they may be insured up to $15,000.

WHY THEY MOVE.

Why do some stocks fluctuate so much in price and others so little? T. V.

Answer: Stocks normally fluctuate in relation to earnings and potential earnings. When a company's earnings are greatly influenced by swings in the business cycle, the stocks of these companies tend to fluctuate widely. This is what happens to companies operating in the heavy goods industries, and such companies are known as "prince or pauper" organizations. Earnings of companies in the consumers goods field do not vary so greatly, and neither do the stock prices of such companies.

Do you have a West Coast Branch Office or Factory? If you have a good sound product, sold industrially, I'd like to talk to you.

I've been with an Eastern manufacturer for the past 10 years; 3 years as Export Manager, and the past 7 managing sales in the Great Lakes area. Altho not "high-pressure," I can gain loyalty from men under me, and know how to land permanent accounts for you. My record is clean, progressive, and open to your investigation.

I am 37 years old, 6 feet tall, weigh 195 lbs. Married, have daughter 12. Income for past 3 years has averaged $9,000 annually.

If you think I would fit into your organization, address H H 9, Tribune.

THIS IS HIS ROOM, OFFICER. YOU CAN LOOK AROUND, BUT I DOUBT THAT YOU'LL FIND ANY EVIDENCE. HE ISN'T AS STUPID AS HE LOOKS.
OH, KARL! IF WE HAD ONLY SENT YOU AWAY YEARS AGO---- THIS WOULD NEVER HAVE HAPPENED.
GEE- DO THEY THINK I KILLED HER? HUH?
QUIET! YOU!
YEAH- IT'S AN OLD-TIME NICKEL PLATED REVOLVER. -FOUND IT BEHIND THOSE BOOKS.
THAT CINCHES IT, MIKE!

Save the Difference

Commonwealth's rate is substantially less on all loans than the maximum rate permitted by law. You do not have to be an executive or have a "special" credit standing to qualify for OUR reduced rate. Commonwealth's monthly rate of 2½% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPES AND CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.
